House and Senate Reach Agreement On Pension Bill

REPORT IS APPROVED ON HOUSE FLOOR

Agreement Reached After Conference of Three Hours This Morning

HOOVER WINS OUT

All Three Points Demanded By President Granted and Adjournment Near

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—After President Hoover had made known his insistent opposition to the World War veterans pension bill passed by the senate, congressional conferees today reached an agreement on the bill eliminating all the important senate amendments.

The conferees decided to report a full agreement to both houses embodying the house bill which was satisfactory to Mr. Hoover.

Subsequently, the house approved the conference report containing the agreement by a standing vote of 342 to 3. The report then was sent to the senate, where it is expected to be approved during the afternoon so that President Hoover may sign the bill before night and clear the way for adjournment.

House members cheered loudly when the agreement was approved.

Conference Held

The agreement followed three hours of conferences beginning with a White House breakfast attended by his Republican floor leader Watson of the senate, Senator David A. Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, in charge of the veterans' legislation, and others.

Mr. Hoover handed Watson a letter opposing provisions in the measure, passed by the senate. The president objected to the increased senate rates ranging from $20 to $60 a month, the venereal disease clause and the provision allowing veterans to get disability allowances even though they pay income taxes.

This agreement was carried immediately to the house by Chairman Johnson of the house veterans' committee.

Leaders are confident they can get the bill signed by President Hoover before night, and are hopeful of bringing the 16 month session of congress to an end shortly thereafter.

Wins All Points

Mr. Hoover won all three of his points in the agreement. The rates fixed in the bill now are those ranging from $12 to $40 a month, starting with more than one-fourth disability. Elimination of the venereal disease amendment means that no veteran can collect disability for wilful misconduct.

Veterans will be excluded from disability allowances if their private income is sufficient to pay income taxes under the other provisions accepted by the conferees.

When Watson and Reed brought the letter from the White House and read it to the conferees, the fight immediately was ended. The threat of a veto was too strong, and the various factions decided

DISSENSION BREAKS OUT IN CHICAGO PLANE

LINGLE MURDER STILL BAFFLES CHICAGO COPS

Developments of Last Few Days Complicate Situation Somewhat

CHICAGO, July 3.—(UP)—A maze of theories and possibilities today faced police investigating the subway murder of Alfred "Jake" Lingle and the subsequent State street gun battle which was believed directly connected with the reporter's death.

Development followed development in rapid succession, and the board of strategy in charge of the Lingle case indicated that its goal was being neared, but to Chicago in general these developments only served to complicate the situation.

Developments in the case during recent hours included:

1.—Indictment of Frank Foster, under arrest in Los Angeles, on charges of murder to insure his return to Chicago, where police desire to harrass him into telling, if he knows, who owned the snub nosed pistol with which Lingle was killed. Foster has not been suspected of the killing, but the board of strategy says he was the original owner of the pistol which was dropped near Lingle's body.

2.—A declaration by Foster in California that he knows nothing about the murder and that he believes the gun is one that he says a policeman took away from him months ago.

3.—The continuation, "indefinitely to permit further investigation," of an inquest into the death of Elbert Lusader, street car motorman fatally wounded Monday night when gangsters chose the city's best lighted street to attack a policeman's auto in which Jack Zuta, notorious gangster suspect in the Lingle case, was riding.

4.—Suspension of Lieutenant George Barker, in whose car Zuta was riding and who took part in the amazing State street battle in which Lusader was killed and Olaf Svenste, also an innocent bystander, was wounded before the attacking gunmen escaped through a dense smoke screen fired from the exhaust of their auto.

5.—Issuance of an order by Judge Joseph L. McCarthy that Zuta, who disappeared during the State street fight, must appear in court July 5 to answer to a disorderly conduct charge "even if police have to bring him in an armored car filled with guards."

PRESIDENT HOOVER PLANS 3-DAY OUTING

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—President Hoover will motor to his Rapidian fish camp tomorrow for a three-day Fourth of July outing.

Mr. Hoover had hoped to leave for the camp this afternoon, but the necessity of staying in the capital to keep in touch with the closing hours of the 71st congress caused a change in his plans. There will be no fishing on this trip as the Virginia season on trout closed July 1.

Hoover Expected To Sign Harbors, Rivers Measure

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—Presidential action on the biggest rivers and harbors bill in American history was a possibility today, it being considered likely President Hoover would sign the measure today in the event congress disposes of the World war veterans' pension bill.

The president has until Monday night to sign the rivers and harbors measure, the cost of which is estimated at from $120,000,000 to $340,000,000. Mr. Hoover has been studying certain provisions carefully, but is expected to sign the bill.

Resignation Of Huston Believed Near

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—President Hoover has decided to take a hand in the situation revolving around Claudius Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, and intends shortly to demand Huston's resignation, it was learned today.

When Huston called a meeting of the organization's executive committee and chairman of the senatorial and congressional campaign committees for next Monday, it was rumored that it might be for the purpose of presenting his resignation.

GOV. C. C. YOUNG TO DECIDE ON MOONEY'S CASE

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—(UP)—Gov. C. C. Young took up consideration today of the state supreme court report he will use as a basis in granting or denying pardons to Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings, serving life sentences on conviction of participating in the 1916 preparedness day bombing in San Francisco.

The governor stated he probably will announce his decision within a few days. In the meantime, the report will be kept secret, although the governor previously announced he would be guided by it in reaching a decision. The supreme court likewise maintained secrecy as to its report.

Considers Pardons

The court report, seven months in the making, was on the application of Billings for a pardon, but contained evidence which applied in both cases. The two were considered jointly by the governor. Mooney is in San Quentin, while Billings previously convicted of a felony, is in Folsom prison. The state law provides that a previously convicted felon must apply for a pardon through the supreme court, which in turn reports to the governor.

Mooney and Billings were convicted of murder in connection with the bombings and were sentenced to hang. The sentence subsequently was commuted to life imprisonment.

Nine persons died and 40 were wounded when a home-made bomb exploded in the ranks of a huge patriotic parade as it progressed up Market street, San Francisco's principal business thoroughfare in 1916.

'MR. ZERO' MARRIES NEW YORK ACTRESS

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, July 3.—(UP)—Urbian J. Ledoux, whose bread lines and free lunches have made him a nationally-known philanthropist under the nickname of "Mr. Zero," was married today to Miss Mary White, New York dramatic actress.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James J. Mullen at a nuptial mass at the little Roman Catholic church of St. Margaret's By-the-Sea.

For Miss White, long known on the stage as Mary Hallbn, it was a fourth marriage.

It was Ledoux's second marriage. His first wife died.

Though "Mr. Zero" is most famous for his philanthropic work in New York's Bowery, his activities in behalf of the "down-and-outers" have extended elsewhere. Several years ago he created a sensation by auctioning off unemployed "slaves" on Boston Common.

OCEAN FLIERS LEAVE CHICAGO FOR SALT LAKE

Crew of Southern Cross to Arrive in Oakland at Noon July Fourth

CHICAGO, July 3.—(UP)—The Southern Cross, conqueror of the Atlantic and the Pacific, roared out of Chicago today toward the west coast, where two years of aerial globe trotting will end for Lieutenant Colonel Kingsford-Smith, her pilot.

Manned by the same crew which recently made history's first crossing of the Atlantic by airplane and Ireland to the mainland of America, the Southern Cross left Curtiss Wright Reynolds airport at 6:45 a. m., C. S. T., for Salt Lake City after Kingsford-Smith and his two companions had stopped here overnight on their two-stop flight across the continent.

200 Wave Farewell

A crowd of about 200 persons waved farewell to the aviators as they soared into the west. Good weather was reported all the way to Salt Lake City, where they will stop tonight before continuing on to California.

In accordance with the wishes of Lieutenant Colonel Kingsford-Smith, who asked for refuge here for the night from handshaking and ballyhoo, the welcome which Chicago extended to the fliers during their stopoff was a quiet one.

Gets Promotion

The lieutenant colonel, who just received notice yesterday of his promotion to that rank from major, and his companions in the Southern Cross were met by an escort of planes as they neared the city. They flew to Sky Harbor Airport and dipped a salute to the endurance record smashing plane City of Chicago, then landed at Curtiss Wright Field, where they were greeted by a crowd of about 5,000 shouting admirers.

As the Southern Cross landed, Kingsford-Smith was handed a cablegram which had been trailing him about the country. It was from Lord Stonehaven, governor

3 MEXICANS JAILED FOR DEMONSTRATION

EL PASO, Tex., July 3.—Three men are in jail at Chihuahua City, Mex., charged with taking part in a Communist demonstration. When the train of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow passed through there enroute to Mexico City, advices to Juarez said today.

Their arrest was ordered by Fernando De La Garza, special representative of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio, who accompanied the United States ambassador from the border.

PAPER RECEIVES WARNING

HOLLYWOOD, July 3.—(UP)—The Hollywood Citizen today received a note signed by "Kid Jackie" warning it to "Lay off Foster and Davis," held in Los Angeles in connection with the slaying in Chicago of Alfred J. Lingle, newspaper reporter. H. E. Swisher, managing editor of the Citizen, said he regarded the note as a hoax. It read:

"Lay off Foster and Davis. Lingle killed my brother on Valentine's day and now he's paid for it. Try and find me." The note was written on a telegram blank and placed under the door of the Citizen.

EXPECT VOTE ON DRY FUND BY NIGHTFALL

Hoover's Plea for $250,000 Instead of $50,000 To Be Given Approval

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—The senate began consideration of the house proposal to increase appropriations for President Hoover's law enforcement commission from $50,000 to $250,000 today with a speech by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, who declared the commission made "a great mistake" by investigating secretly.

Norris said, however, he would support the proposal for $250,000 because he hoped a "great good" would come from the investigation.

Conferees on the deficiency bill agreed on all items in the measure today except the law enforcement commission's appropriation leaving the decision to the senate. The house approved the $250,000 fund yesterday and voted to remove the senate restrictions that the money could be used only for prohibition investigation. The senate voted $50,000 originally.

MOTHERS TO PICKET SPEAKEASY MONDAY

NEW YORK, July 3.—(UP)—Mothers of St. Albans, Queens, having carried their fight against an alleged local speakeasy through city and federal authorities to President Hoover himself, made plans today to picket the place Monday unless it is closed.

The establishment is on the main street of St. Albans and within 100 feet of the public school. Mrs. Gilbert A. Wicks, president-elect of the Parent-Teacher association of the school told the United Press, St. Albans is on Long Island and is a part of New York City.

Placards proclaiming, "this is a speakeasy which the United States government will not or cannot close," will be printed, Mrs. Wicks said. On Monday, the women plan to take turns on picket duty outside.

BROKERS ARRANGE BAIL

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—(UP)—J. J. and W. W. Costello, indicted with Frank Creasley in a grand jury cleanup of asserted "bucket shops" here, notified court officials today they will surrender and post bond pending trial.

Creasley surrendered to Judge Walton J. Wood and was liberated on $5,000 bail.

No Indication When Crew Is Coming Down

Brothers in Notes to Field Reveal Their Anger to Kinfolk Below

CHICAGO, July 3.—(UP)—The flying Hunters stopped strumming their ukulele today, and began firing a series of notes to the tune of Sky Harbor airport, begging the ground crew to help them maintain harmony.

At 5:30 p. m., C.D.T., the plane had been in the air 529 hours.

Getting Sleepy

In a humorous vein, so those on the ground thought, John said "Beans" (Kenneth) was getting sleepy and wanted to come down.

Kenneth, however, according to a scrawled, lengthy message from John today, did not take it in that spirit, and protested.

The result was an appeal to the ground crew to censor flight information and keep Kenneth in a good humor. The note was addressed to "Walt and Al." Walter and Albert are the brothers who fly the refueler.

"Read this yourselves. Who in blazes put that slush in the papers about 'Beans' being worried and nervous. Whoever done it had little to do after cracking this ship night and day trying to bring the record to Chicago. Then somebody put that line of slush in the paper.

"Can't I write a thing to you guys without it getting in the papers?

Want it Stopped

"I only told that he was hard to wake up, and so am I. This caused plenty of trouble between me and him. He came near jumping out in a chute, and it wouldn't take a lot to make me do the same. Now I want this corrected or this ship may land quick. We want this stuff stopped."

The note was the first real indication that all was not harmonious aboard the City of Chicago.

A note yesterday indicated John and Kenneth disagreed on how long to stay up, but it was in an amiable vein.

The Hunters have not been seen to play their ukulele for more than a day and their only entertainment has been reading the newspapers, and listening to a radio.

SEARCHING FOR ALLEGED MURDERER

SACRAMENTO, July 3. — (UP)—A widespread search was under way today for Rex S. Baxter, 45, Roseville rancher, who yesterday shot to death Mrs. Margaret Carrigan, 37, Sacramento widow, in her apartment.

Baxter's automobile, with a 12-gauge shotgun in it, was found alongside the railroad tracks last night. Police believe that Baxter, an ex-convict, caught a freight train from the east.

The first signs that the murder had been premeditated were found by detectives who visited the Roseville ranch where Baxter worked. They discovered papers, showing him to be a paroled convict from Oklahoma, where he was charged with murder and pleaded self-defense.

Governors On Tour Of Utah Parks

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 3.—(UP)—Southern Utah lent its native mountain beauty to sightseeing state executives today as delegates to the 22nd annual national Governors' conference put aside their business cares.

Planners of the conference had decided that the week should be divided, half in work and half in play. With the former out of the way late yesterday, the entire group boarded a special train and left for a tour of mountain parks.

POLICE BREAK UP MEETING OF 2000 STRIKERS

Fisher Body Employes Attempt Demonstration But Are Halted

FLINT, Mich, July 3.—(UP)—Efforts of striking employes of the Fisher body company here to demonstrate before the Fisher factory were blocked today by state troopers and police.

The officers used their clubs to break up the demonstration, in which nearly 2,000 strikers took part. One man was reported knocked down. The skirmish between state troopers and the strikers was preceded by a clash with local police.

Today's activities followed a raid last night on the strikers' headquarters, Dixie Hall, where four men were arrested. Police charged they were Communist agitators. In all leven men and two women have been arrested.

This morning a group of strikers gathered outside the Fisher plant and jeered as 300 of their former fellow workmen passed through the gates. Then they began a parade back and forth before the plant until troopers broke up their ranks. The workers claim they are striking because their wages have been reduced 40 and 50 per cent. Efforts to induce workers at the Buick plant to walk out in sympathy so far have not met with success. At the A. C. Spark Plug factory, however, a number of women employes left their jobs in sympathy.

REFORMATORY FIRE IMPERILS CONVICTS

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 3.—(UP)—Three work shops of the Kentucky state reformatory and two residences outside its walls were in ruins today after fire, thought to have started from sparks from a passing locomotive, swept through the prison, imperilling the lives of 500 convicts and causing damage estimated at $200,000.

The fire started in a broom factory and spread to two other shops and the two residences before apparatus from Frankfort, Lexington, and Louisville succeeded in putting it out. The 500 convicts, at work inside the broom factory aided firemen. No one was reported injured.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT NEAR CALCUTTA

CALCUTTA, India, July 3.—(UP)—Nine violent earth shocks were felt in the Asam area of Bengal today, beginning at 3 a. m. Several persons were injured.

The inhabitants ran into the streets in their night clothes and spent the rest of the night in the open air, most of them gathered in a downtown park. The seismograph of Calcutta was broken.

ROY GEORGE RESIGNS AS SECRETARY

NO DIVIDEND IS PAID

VERIFYING FACTS revealed by The Register, members of the board of directors of the Federal Finance company, in a special stockholders' meeting yesterday, said the loss suffered by the company through the W. W. Ross swindle amounted to $178,000 or more.

Further developments revealed were the resignation of W. Roy George as secretary and its acceptance by the board; the suffering of a loss of 20 per cent by the common stockholders; admission by the board that they had criticised and rebuked W. Roy George and J. A. George for permitting Ross to put over fraudulent transactions; that the George brothers had been injudicious in placing personal monies on loans going through the office.

West Appears

Z. B. West, district attorney, appeared before the board and revealed certain contents of a reputed confession made to him by Ross, (the same confession he refused to divulge to the people of Orange county, who elected him), admitting that W. Roy George had knowledge of the fact that some of the deals were irregular. Despite this, West declared that an investigation made by him disclosed that W. Roy George had done nothing of a criminal nature.

Nels Edwards, president of the Federal Finance company verified the fact that Ross and W. Roy George had a joint bank account in Los Angeles and dealt in stocks.

The loss sustained by the finance company was the result of 20 bogus sales contracts put over by Ross in a period of approximately eight months. The loss of $178,000, admitted by the stockholders, may be increased.

B. V. Curry, who has been checking up the books since the Ross scandal broke, may be elected to succeed W. Roy George in the near future.

J. A. George Retained

J. A. George will remain with the company as manager.

Dividends on preferred and common stock was passed over for July 1, 1930.

The report of the directors revealed that the two George boys had placed 322 shares of stock of the company in trust to be distributed to purchasers of recent issues in order to equalize their investment with that of other stockholders.

Reconstruction of the capital structure of the company, with assets of $1,318,220.10, will make it possible for the company to resume dividend payments by the first of next year.

In a statement by the board of directors, read by B. V. Curry, announced as auditor of the com-

POLICE SEEK FOUR MEN IN KIDNAPING

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., July 3.—(UP)—Police sought four men here today upon report of an early morning kidnaping under circumstances which led them to believe the victim may have been "taken for a ride."

The search started when Mrs. V. R. Nimms, of West Hollywood, reported that she and a companion saw a man attacked and taken away in a machine.

Three assailants overpowered the victim, slugged and bound him and then fled in an automobile driven by a fourth companion, the woman said.

they would have to accept the president's views if they wanted to get a bill through.

The president explained that the bill as passed by the house was in itself a generous national action, based upon sound principles, and except for some minor technical points met the entire approval of both the American Legion and the veterans of foreign wars. These two organizations, Mr. Hoover said, opposed the senate amendments.

Unwarranted Burdens

These amendments, Mr. Hoover declared, "again re-establish injustices and discriminations between veterans, impose unwarranted burdens on the taxpayer and perpetuate entirely wrong principles in such legislation."

"For instance under these amendments the average allowance to veterans whose disabilities were incurred in civil life subsequent to the war will work out very close to the same average payments as that given to veterans who actually suffered from battle and in the trenches. This is an injustice both to the men who suffered from the war and to the public.

"The amendments reverse the house action limiting allowances to men who are exempt from income tax. From this removal of the indication of necessity, a wealthy veteran, if he becomes permanently disabled either partially or wholly as the result of an automobile accident next week, may draw a life allowance from the U. S. treasury.

in the commission's work," Norris said. "I was disappointed because it has been acting secretly. They made a great mistake. There is nothing in prohibition enforcement or judicial procedure that should be hidden from the public.

"The ultimate result of the secrecy will be that the commission's recommendations will lose much force and effect. It will be much harder to get the recommendation adopted."

Norris said he agreed with Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, that the senate originally intended the commission to confine itself to prohibition but that he had been pleased when the scope of the inquiry had been widened to other laws because the other work was "very much needed."

"It is my belief," he said, "that the judicial procedure in this country has not kept pace with the world's civilization."

Informal Ceremonies

Major Reed Landis headed the committee which extended Chicago's official greeting to Kingsford-Smith and his companions, Evert Van Dyk, co-pilot; Capt. J. Patrick Saul of the Irish Free State, navigator, and John W. Stanage, young radio operator.

The welcoming ceremonies were informal and the fliers left the field soon for a downtown hotel, where they bathed, dined, talked with notables, gave short radio addresses and retired early to rest for their early departure today toward the west and the end of the trail that has taken the Southern Cross around the world during the last two years.

Kingsford-Smith said last night that "because there are no more oceans to cross" he probably will not attempt any more long flights.

Plaster Work At West Coast House Completed Today

Working of giving the Fox West Coast theater a complete renovation so far as the acoustics are concerned, was completed today, making the theater's all-talking picture production almost 40 per cent better than heretofore. The work was done by George W. Young, local contractor.

The secret of the new treatment given the theater, which improves the sound throughout, is a new type of plaster that has been placed throughout the interior.

The work has been done chiefly at night after the final show, and early in the mornings. A distinctive difference is noted in the manner in which talking pictures are now received in the theater.

The following were fined $2 each in Judge J. F. Talbott's police court yesterday on charges of overtime parking: M. L. Friend, Miss Sumner, J. C. Tanner and E. R. Urbine.

pany, it was revealed tha tthe first intimation company officials had of the possibility of Ross being a crook came in an anonymous communication from Newark, N. J., warning them to look out for him, as he had operated there some 10 years ago under the name of L. L. Brown. When Ross was apprehended in the Canadian city, he was going under the name of Louis Brown.

Ross Questioned

Following receipt of the letter, officials of the company called Ross into the office for a conference and upon statements he made he and J. A. George spent more than a day in the vicinity of Los Angeles attempting to locate a man by the name of D. A. Craemer, whose name appeared on many of the pink slips which Ross presented to secure money from the company on purported sales of Moreland trucks. Ross finally admitted that the name was fictitious and George went to the factory of the Moreland Truck company for further investigation, investigations which revealed that the company had not manufactured trucks with numbers given in the pink certificates.

Ross declared his ability to raise finances to square accounts with the company and did make an advance of securities and checks that later proved to be of questionable value. Included in the securities were 50 shares of the Federal Finance company which were pledged to the Bank of Italy.

The statement revealed that known losses of $178,022.49 had been sustained by the company on 20 bogus truck sales contracts. It may be that the company will have to take a further loss, depending on the outcome of litigation involving securities, properties and other assets of the defrauding truck dealer.

Without stating the reason for the resignation, the directors disclosed that Roy George had resigned as secretary of the company and that the same had been accepted, to become effective July 2.

West said that in his confession to him Ross had exonerated from complicity in his transactions all officials of the company, except that he had declared that Roy George had knowledge of the fact that some of his deals were irregular.

"I have been criticized in not making the confession public," West said. "In my opinion it would have been manifestly unfair to have revealed the name of the man implicated without making an investigation to substantiate the statement of Ross."

West said checks received by Roy George from Ross involved less than $300 and that they were regular in every way.

Deliberate Plan

Judge R. Y. Williams, employed as special counsel to assist in straightening out the dealings with Ross, declared his belief that Ross came here with the deliberate intention of putting over his program of shady deals, and asserted his belief that Ross had accomplices outside of Santa Ana and Orange county. He also said that he believed Ross had "salted" a goodly portion of the money he procured by his transactins.

"We have found no evidence whatever of complicity within the organization." Williams said, and he added that the situation had developed by reason of too much confidence in Ross.

The final action of the meeting was to vote approval of a resolution reorganizing the capital structure of the company and passing a vote of confidence in the board of directors.

Under the reorganization the company has resources of $1,318,222.10, and, in the opinion of officers, will be in position to resume the payment of dividends on January 1, 1931. Common stockholders will suffer a loss of 20 per cent of their stock, virtually the amount they received recently in a stock dividend declared by the company. Through surrenders by the holders of common stock the issued shares of common stock will be reduced from 7912 shares to 6329 shares. By resolution, the authorized issue of 15,000 shares of common stock was reduced to 12,000 shares.

NAME DELEGATES TO FARM BUREAU MEET

The board of directors of the Orange County Farm bureau today named four delegates who will represent the organization at a farm bureau conference in Salt Lake City, July 8 to 11, at which representatives from eleven western states will be present. Action was taken at a meeting in the farm advisor's office here.

Those selected were Roy Bishop, former president of the farm bureau here; J. W. Crill, vice president; Eric Eastman, assistant farm advisor, and R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary. The group will leave for the conclave next Saturday.

Norman M. Blaney, former secretary of the farm bureau here and now director of the farm to market road division of the American Farm Bureau federation, addressed the directors on the operation of the national organization and its legislative program. He also said that general opinion seemed to prevail that the new tariff act would be a great benefit to California agriculture.

VAN BARON FOUND GUILTY BY JURORS

George Van Baron was found guilty yesterday by a jury in Judge James L. Allen's court on a charge of forgery. At his arraignment on the charge, Van Baron pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity. The jury passed on both pleas, finding him guilty of the crime with which he was charged and with being sane at the time he committed the crime.

Van Baron, according to testimony, passed a worthless check for $36 at the Stevens-Van Englen store in Anaheim. The check was drawn on Santa Ana Iron works, a check from the Santa Ana Commercial National bank of Santa Ana being used.

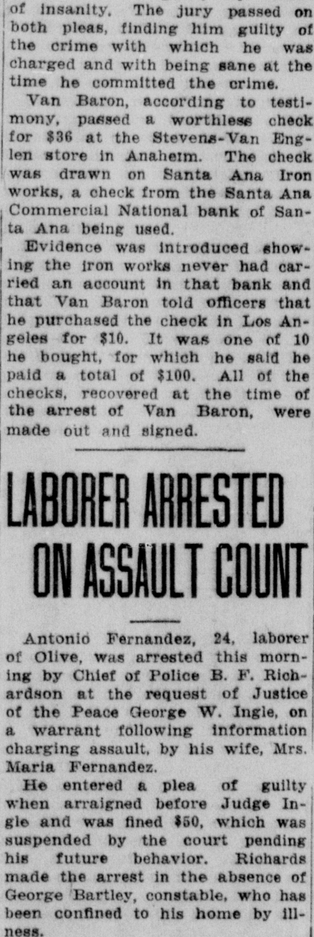

Evidence was introduced showing the iron works never had carried an account in that bank and that Van Baron told officers that he purchased the check in Los Angeles for $10. It was one of 10 he bought, for which he said he paid a total of $100. All of the checks, recovered at the time of the arrest of Van Baron, were made out and signed.

LABORER ARRESTED ON ASSAULT COUNT

Antonio Fernandez, 24, laborer of Olive, was arrested this morning by Chief of Police B. F. Richardson at the request of Justice of the Peace George W. Ingle, on a warrant following information charging assault, by his wife, Mrs. Maria Fernandez.

He entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Judge Ingle and was fined $50, which was suspended by the court pending his future behavior. Richards made the arrest in the absence of George Bartley, constable, who has been confined to his home by illness.

The information on the assault was filed by Mrs. Fernandez following an argument at the home yesterday afternoon and charged the defendant with an attempt to inflict violent injury on his wife.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 3.—Prompt action on the part of Forest Ranger H. L. Lipsett and a crew of Capistrano men under the leadership of Tom Forster, prevented what might have developed into a devastating forest fire. The blaze was started when a small brush pile became ignited when a crew of men were fire-proofing the road in the Hot Springs canyon. The fire spread up a gulch, burning about two acres before it was extinguished.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Romer and son, Carlos, Mr. and Mrs. Arley Leck, of San Juan Capistrano, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McFadden, of Whittier, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wright, of Los Angeles, at their cabin, Knoll Lodge, near Forest Home, over the week end. Mrs. Romer caught 36 trout, exceeding the number caught by any other member of the party.

Judge John Landell attended the old timers' picnic at Irvine park Sunday. While there he renewed acquaintance with two other pioneers who have helped to develop Orange county, namely, Harry Hanna, of San Marcos, who arrived in '68, and John Beeker, who was born near Santa Ana in '56. Judge Landell dates his residence in the county back to the spring of '75.

WHEN YOU SEE THIS EMBLEM

Let it remind you...

...that it marks the store of a "Quality Dealer." A man who caters to all who appreciate and demand the best.

He proves this by the high standard of the merchandise he carries. His leading item, ice cream, is a good example. The "Quality Dealer" serves Sunfreze...for he has satisfied himself that it is A BETTER ICE CREAM...richer, smoother, finer-flavored.

These are some of the reasons why more people in Southern California enjoy Sunfreze and more dealers sell Sunfreze than all other ice creams combined!

To The Citizens of Orange County

The People's League, which has just been formed in Orange County, is an attempt to give expression to the desire on the part of the citizens of the county to have a greater knowledge of what officials are doing; a greater knowledge of why they are doing it, and the desire to have officials who typify the proper spirit of government by the people in office,—officials who are sensitive to the needs and rights of the citizens; upholding the cause of the weak against the exaltation of the strong; against the use of public office for private gain, either through contracts, utilization or special favors; for the election of officials who recognize that they are servants and not bosses of the people; for the election of men who believe in the Constitution and the law; who believe that America stands for law observation by all citizens, the rich, powerful and distinguished as well as the poor, weak and obscure; for men for public office who themselves obey the law and insist on its being conformed to by others.

The People's League believes that the ideals of the Church, the Sunday School, and Temperance organizations are just as much a part of America's purpose as the wishes of politicians, and infinitely more than those of the Profiteer, Racketeer and the Bootlegger.

To give effective expression in political action to the demands of citizens of Orange County who are in harmony with the above, the People's League therefor has been called into being.

It invites all citizens in sympathy with those purposes to become members of the League. To gather information and disseminate it to the citizens without fear or favor is its task. This imposes a heavy burden on the organization both morally and financially. Advertising, postage, office rent and clerks cost money, but the cause is worth it. It must receive its support from those whom it serves.

It is asking therefore, all who are in sympathy with it to send $1.00 at least as a membership fee. Send as much more as you can afford.

It is your fight. All the League can do is to help you. Aid us in doing this.

The People's League has opened offices at 228 Spurgeon Building, 4th and Sycamore Streets, Santa Ana, where you will be welcome. It is your office, where you can receive information and impart it.

GEORGE W. MOODY,
Executive Director,
228 Spurgeon Bldg., Santa Ana.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Ah, the romance of the unfulfilled! Do not think I am jesting. I know how your hopes seem shattered and your joys at an end, and how you are tempted to look longingly backward instead of on ahead. I know.

But think of what is ahead, even if it is not to be just as you had envisioned it. The joy of your dear one in Paradise is strangely dependent upon the spirit with which you undertake to do your duty bravely and well. You are going to find an almost fierce joy in doing your best for her sake. It will mean more and more to you as the days go by.

Then think of the realization of all your dreams, when you join her in Paradise and are not ashamed. Yes, there is power to be had from looking ahead.

FORESTRY BODY HOLDS MEETING IN SANTA ANA

Giving a comprehensive survey of the forest conditions of Orange county and the protective measures already in force and contemplated, the Orange County Forest Protective association met last night for a dinner meeting at Ketner's cafe.

John Ragan, president, presided over the session. Roland D. Flaherty, secretary, was first on the program with his report, illustrating with a map the work being done in the county and proposed fire breaks and roads to be built. He lauded the construction crews for their efficiency and pointed to the motorways built on the mountain ridges as proof. He covered the feasibility of replanting burned over land and stressed the fact that people starting fires are liable for arrest. He urged that packing houses be asked to co-operate in time of fire.

Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, spoke on "Forest Protection Plans of Orange County Board of Supervisors" and pointed out on the map the great strides being made in protective work. He said that the first work was done in 1912, when trails to the mountain tops were built to allow men to reach the fires. The water companies put up the money but the work stopped during the war. Tractors and graders were used next and the latest methods were made available when the supervisors bought a tractor two years ago.

Since the state forestry department took over the forests on July 1, the county is trying to get an appropriation and, together with federal and county aid, plans extensive improvement in the forest system. Smith also stated that Orange county assisted with the work in San Bernardino county because the watersheds there affected the local water supply. He told of plans to construct a road from near Glenn Ivy up the Riverside side of the mountain through McBride canyon and also of the motorway from the north to the south of the range, which is 24 miles long now. Work will be started at once in extending it 25 more miles to the southern boundary line.

Joe Sherman, state forest ranger for Orange county, told of his work in organizing the county fire fighting and protective measures. He was granted permission to relocate the fire equipment boxes and to equip a 50-man outfit in Santa Ana or Orange.

He told in detail how all county tools had been marked, and outlined how the pumping trucks of Southern California could be reached in case of a fire in this section. It was brought out that there were over 100 miles of firebreaks in the county, mostly in the northern part.

W. M. Cory, acting farm advisor, gave a short talk on reforestation and told of the work 40 years ago in reforesting some land south of Irvine park. He suggested using county prisoners for the work.

Ragan was authorized to appoint a committee to interview the leading oil companies of the county to see if private donations could be secured to match the state appropriations. Charles Logan, of Tustin, was appointed a director to the Orange County Farm bureau.

GIRL RESERVES CONFERENCE AT ASILOMAR ENDS

With a young Los Angeles girl developing a case of infantile paralysis while attending the 10 day Girl Reserves conference opening at Asilomar this week, the conference was called off and all meetings and lecture engagements in connection were cancelled, according to word reaching the Register today.

Approximately 300 high school girls from all parts of California were assembled for the conference. Four Santa Ana girls, with their advisor, Miss Dorothy Cartwright of the local Y. W. C. A., were among those attending. They were Miss Mary Helen Bell, Miss Betty Paul, Miss Ruth Owens and Miss Doris Bolles. All were expected to arrive in this city late today.

The conference was to have continued for 10 days, with a special celebration scheduled for the national holiday, when girls attending who had birthdays in the interval, were to be made honor guests at a patriotic luncheon. Miss Cartwright presided over the first bonfire conference, held Monday night in the Girl Reserves bowl on the grounds.

It is believed that the cancelling of the Girl Reserves conference will not affect other summer activities at Asilomar, as most of them are arranged for adult attendance.

WESTMINSTER

The June report of the custodian of the Westminster county branch library, Mrs. H. B. Anderson, shows a total of 1288 books and 59 magazines checked out from the library for the month.

A new minister is to be in charge of the Westminster Mexican Methodist church the coming year. The new pastor is the Rev. Antonio Jimenez at present located at Anaheim and the retiring local pastor, the Rev. Pete Robles, has been sent by the conference to Calexico. He asked for a change to a warmer climate on account of health conditions of several members of his family.

The new pastor has been ill for some time and he is now on vacation in an effort to regain his health and it is probable that substitute ministers will supply the local pulpit for the time of his absence.

EXPERIENCE IN GERMAN PRISON CAMPS IS TOLD

Rotarians had their thoughts carried back to the days of the World war yesterday, as they listened to an address by J. Gustav White, vocational counsellor, of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., who spoke on his experiences as a "Y" worker among the prisoners of war in German prison camps.

This was a piece of work initiated by the American Y. M. C. A. soon after the beginning of the war, as a means of aiding those unfortunates on both sides of the conflict who were captured by the enemy and interned in military prison camps. White was one of the first men sent over to handle the undertaking, and his duties carried him into numerous centers both in Germany and Austria and in the allied nations. Later on, he was connected with the Paris and London offices of the Y. M. C. A. war work, where he had charge of placement of workers and planning of educational and entertainment programs.

"Many myths came up during the war," said the speaker. "Some of them are not yet dead. There was the myth that Canadian soldiers took no prisoners, but ruthlessly killed every enemy. There was the myth that Germans crucified captured Canadians and British. There was the myth that the Germans rendered corpses into grease on account of the shortage of fats and oils. There was the myth that the Allies were engaged in a policy of starving the children of Germany. There was the myth that the Y. M. C. A. workers deliberately sold gift tobacco to the soldiers. There were many such tales told on both sides, most of them for the purpose of propaganda, to make the warring nations hate each other so as to fight successfully.

"Practically every such myth has been exposed repeatedly since the war, and yet some people still believe some of the stories. War makes falsehood, it thrives upon hatred. War kills reputations, faith and confidence, as well as the bodies of men.

"The Y. M. C. A. did its work in the war, according to the words of General Pershing, and the War department, in an efficient and useful manner. According to these authorities, 90 per cent of all the welfare work was done by this organization. In spite of that, it met with bitterest criticism. We have been content to stand upon our record, profiting in our own work by all the criticism that could be used to keep us humble and to make our work more effective. But this, in common with the rest of the war myths, was a matter of manufactured stories, or distortion of facts.

"I have with me a medal, supposed to commemorate the sinking of the Lusitania. It has German inscriptions on it, and is engraved to represent the attack by a submarine upon a merchant vessel. It was supposed to represent the attitude of the German people. But the fact is that I bought it in London, and although I was in Germany very soon after the Lusitania disaster, I never saw the medal there, nor did I have reason to believe that it was a representation of German sentiment. More propaganda, to produce hate.

"In the early days of the war, many prisoners were taken by the Germans. These were interned in prison camps, and held, many of them until the close of the struggle. Their condition was extremely unfortunate. The discipline and management of these prison camps was not much different from that of the regular German military training camps. I found little evidence of deliberate abuse of prisoners, but much suffering and hardship due to the conditions of the country as its resources were sapped by the conflict. It was to relieve the conditions for these prisoners that the American Y. M. C. A. sent its workers to serve them. Our work was to relieve the mental strain and suffering of men held under such conditions by providing them with some sort of recreational and educational opportunities. Such work was most difficult in the circumstances, but we were able to secure co-operation of the authorities to an extent that made it possible for us to accomplish many useful things.

"Among the men in the camps were highly educated and trained men, as well as many ignorant ones. We were able to organize schools with classes in many subjects, taught by prisoners, and with the musical, artistic and dramatic talent available, we instituted many forms of entertainment. These simple activities undoubtedly prevented many a man from going insane, or from losing his health and self control. The difficulties of providing work for these prisoners resulted in much enforced idleness, with all its resultant evils, and our work was to help deliver the men from these evils.

"Well, the war is over, and at a distance of 12 years, we may forget our hatreds, and strive to remember some of the less hateful things that it brought. To me, some of the choicest memories of my life are in those incidents of simple, friendly, human service to men placed in those impossibly difficult surroundngs by the fortunes of war.

"And the Y. M. C. A. today is continuing its work of freeing 'caged men' even as in the days of the war prison camps. To my office in Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. there comes a procession of men seeking counsel, advice, sympathy, aid in getting themselves adjusted to life and into a position to find happiness. Your 'Y' here in Santa Ana is doing the same sort of work for your men and boys, and it is because of such service that you believe in it and give it your support."

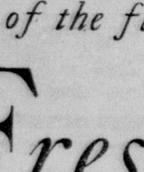

The meeting yesterday was in charge of R. C. Smedley, whose term as president has just expired, but who carried over for the one meeting in order to give time for D. K. Hammond, the new president, to return from Chicago, where he has been attending the International Rotary convention. At next Tuesday's meeting Hammond will be formally installed as president for the coming year.

A quality you would insist upon if you knew all of the facts.

CHIEF DEPUTY SCORES EDITOR IN CLUB TALK

Launching a vicious attack on the publisher of the Register, Sam Collins, chief deputy district attorney and candidate for the office of district attorney, yesterday addressed the Fullerton Rotary club. His talk was given in a cynical vein.

"A peculiar phase has just developed in Orange county politics, an issue never before injected," Collins declared, "an octopus, which the people of Orange county did not know existed until it was discovered by J. Frank Burke of the Santa Ana Register.

"I have been in office as a deputy district attorney for four years and many of you have been residents of the county for a long time, yet we have never before discovered the presence of such an octopus as that found by Burke, entangling the county in the tentacles of officialdom and composed of financial and family ties.

"Burke has had trouble with every other newspaper in the county. He has the Santa Ana Register, let him run it and keep out of other people's business. Orange county has prospered before he came and will continue to prosper."

Arthur W. Chaffee was program chairman. Miss Harriett Freeman gave a group of piano numbers. Oscar Schneider introduced the speaker.

SEVEN ENTRIES ARE ADDED IN MOVIE CONTEST

Seven new contestants entered the big Santa Ana Register-Fox West Coast theaters popularity contest today, bringing the total number to 16, with the contest only three days old.

The contest, one of the biggest of its kind ever held in Santa Ana, is being conducted by the two Fox theaters here and the Santa Ana Register for the purpose of finding the most popular young man and the most popular young woman in the county, who will be given as first prizes, the leading parts in a feature motion picture which will be made right in Santa Ana by the Fox theaters.

The contest opened on June 30 and runs for eight weeks only, ending on August 24.

John Stalnaker, 1032 West Fifth street, Santa Ana.

Pauline Evans, 160 A street, Tustin.

Ted Newcomb, 1717 South Van Ness street, Santa Ana.

With the contest taking form even faster than Norman Sprowl, Fox theaters manager, anticipated, it was evident that the list of contestants in the race would be far in excess of the 25 who it was believed at first would enter the races.

Persons desiring to enter the popularity contest may do so by merely clipping out the contest coupon found elsewhere in the Register each day, filling it out and taking it to either the Fox West Coast or the Fox Broadway theaters.

There is nothing for the contestants to do but enter their names and start the fight for votes.

Votes can be obtained in several ways, through the purchase of tickets to the Fox West Coast and the Fox Broadway theaters, through subscriptions to the Register, blanks for which are at the offices of the two theaters, and through purchases made at the Brooks Clothing store and the Sample Shop. Each cent spent at either of the places will be counted as one vote for some contestant. Blank votes can be obtained at the stores.

Martin Offers Flight

Another way to obtain votes is through airplane rides at the Eddie Martin airport, at the end of South Main street. The Eddie Martin airport entered the contest last night and for a prize to some boy and girl contestant has offered a free all day trip to San Diego and return in a passenger plane, the flight to be made as soon as the contest closes.

For every cent spent at the airport, one vote will be offered.

The names of contestants other than those who came in today are: Sue Verberg, Norman Paul, Jack Hunton, Dorothy Allene Loyd, Corrine Pennington, Mario Mecurio, Leona A. Zimmerman, Jack Lindlaw, and Luvina Layton Schade.

Many candidates already are taking advantage of the fact that they can obtain votes by asking patrons of the theaters for them as they pass into the shows, and the lobbies of both theaters were crowded last night with workers.

On Stage Saturday

All contestants in the popularity contest will be introduced from the stage of the Fox West Coast theater at the shows on Saturday and Sunday of this week, it was announced today.

The introduction will acquaint the public with the various candidates and at the same time will advertise the contest.

First standings of the contestants will be compiled on Saturday and the results posted in the lobbies of each theater Saturday night and Sunday, it was announced.

Prizes other than the leading parts in the picture to be filmed here, will include other good roles in the film, the down payment of $3000 on a Willys-Knight sport model roadster, which is on display at the Fox Broadway theater lobby; a 10-day free trip to Catalina island, a round trip flight to San Diego in an Eddie Martin passenger ship, a $50 evening gown from the Sample Shop and a suit of men's clothes from Brooks Clothing store.

SPEAKER TELLS OF POPULATION INCREASE HERE

Challenging every business man and citizen to think of the people continually coming to California and to prepare for them, C. A. Gummere, of Long Beach, spoke yesterday noon on "Civic Responsibilities" at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club in St. Ann's inn.

The speaker presented interesting and startling statistics showing the tremendous growth of the west, especially Southern California. From 1920 to 1926, there was an increase of 13,000,000 people in the United States and 1,000,000 came to California. Of this number, 80 per cent came to the south, demonstrating that some provision must be made to take care of the increased taxation and population, the speaker declared.

The program wsa in charge of A. N. Zerman, chairman of the public affairs committee. The speaker was secured through the efforts of George Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, who introduced Gummere.

A humorous part of the program consisted of presenting Bob Fernandez, a club newlywed, with a collection of gifts. He in turn, passed out cigars to all present. Among the guests were Will S. Kellogg, member of the club who has been studying at Columbia University in New York. He was formerly the principal of the Frances Willard Junior High school.

Mrs. Jessie Johnston, vocalist of Santa Ana, entertained with two solos, "My Love is a Muleteer" and "Coming Through the Rye," accompanied by Harry Garstang.

PARALYSIS SERUM APPEAL REPEATED

Although there were no new developments in the infantile paralysis situation in Orange county, another appeal for patients who have had the malady within the last ten years, to offer blood from which to prepare preventive serums, was made today by Dr. K. H. Sutherland, head of the county health department.

Because of the increased number of cases in Southern California during the past few weeks, the Los Angeles authorities have run out of serum and each county has been forced to prepare its own. It is for this reason that Dr. Sutherland has asked every person who has had the disease and wishes to help stamp it out to offer some blood to the county department.

Dr. Sutherland repeated his warning to parents to avoid public gatherings, especially indoors. It is a known fact that many persons carry the disease in a mild form and are liable to spread it, he said.

GORMAN RESISTS RETURN TO S. A.

Battling extradition from Kansas City to Santa Ana, where he is wanted on a charge of conspiracy to violate corporate security laws of the state, Ralph H. Gorman, of Los Angeles, will fight every step of the way in an attempt to defeat a return it was announced today by the sheriff's office after the receipt of a telegram from F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, who has gone back to Missouri for the prisoner.

Howard's telegram was to the effect that the extradition hearing had been set at Jefferson City for Saturday. In the meantime Howard is visiting with relatives in the southern part of the state.

Court Notes

Mrs. Agnes Atwell today had filed suit against Francis Atwell for separate maintenance. They were married 36 years ago. The complaint asked for an order to restrain him from continuing a suit for divorce which it said he filed in Nevada on June 21, 1930. Community property was valued at $75,000 in the complaint, which said that dental establishments operated by the defendant have a net monthly income of $5000. Brutal and inhuman treatment were alleged in the complaint.

"On account of eating too many sweets my face broke out so badly that I was embarrassed to go out on the street. The pimples were hard and red and burned terribly. I purchased more and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Florence Voth, 4195 Eaton St., Denver, Colo., April 8, 1930.

Kiwanians Hear Fullerton Pastor

BUENA PARK, July 3.—"The attitude of the older generation toward the youth of today should be one of encouragement and in this age of vast opportunities, the younger generation should be urged to widen the scope of endeavor and be given aid in carrying out projects," the Rev. C. E. Maltas, pastor of the Fullerton Episcopal church declared in an address before the Buena Park Kiwanis club Tuesday evening.

The meeting was held in the Woman's clubhouse, and was in charge of Henry E. Warren, who presided in the absence of the president, Arthur F. Corey.

SCHMELING-SHARKEY REMATCH CALLED OFF

Stars, Orange In Controversy Over Holiday Game

WHITTIER AND ANAHEIM WILL PLAY TONIGHT

Stating taht it would be impossible for him to put on the field a representative team because of the holiday, Lyle Richards, Orange manager, late today strenuously objected to playing a National league night baseball game in the Bowl here tomorrow night with Santa Ana.

Local officials said it would be impossible for them to play on any other night until after the season is completed, and declared they would have a team in the Bowl ready for action or a forfeit, one or the other.

Whether night baseball has more "it" than a moonlight holiday at the beach will be tested here tomorrow when Santa Ana's brightly shining Stars strike for their sixth straight victory at the expense of Llye Richards' Orange team.

A conflict in dates with the Santa Ana City league, which has possession of the Bowl every night but Thursdays and Fridays, and a disinclination of the Stars' management to delay until late in the season one of its big games are the reasons why the affair will be run off as scheduled on the Fourth of July.

It is true, too, that some of the closest followers of the sport are confident that night ball will draw as well on a holiday as any other. They assert that theaters always play to capacity houses on the Fourth of July, Labor Day and other "beach days," and that baseball will lure its share of the amusement seekers also.

Home Team Has Bulge

Orange at first argued against a holiday date but gave in when there was nothing left for it to do but play or forfeit. The National Night league schedule calls for the game to be held here July 4, and in baseball the home team has the bulge in problems of time and place.

All the other teams have steered clear of Friday, however.

Whittier, undisputed champion of the first half of the split schedule, and the dangerous Anaheim Valencias, still very much in the pennant scramble, collide at Anaheim tonight instead of tomorrow.

La Habra, Santa Ana's closest competitor so far this half, will appear against the Olive Packers at Olive tonight. This will be the last game for the Violet Rays before their crucial combat with Santa Ana at La Habra next Tuesday night.

Garden Grove and Long Beach have decided to postpone their turmoil until August 19, the first Tuesday after the completion of the whole schedule. If either team is then in the race that game should be the cynosure of all eyes. It is booked for Long Beach's park. If neither club has a chance to win at that time the affair probably will be called off altogether.

Score 41 Runs In 6 Games

The Stars really have won six in a row already but they started their current winning streak the last night of the first half so that victory does not count on their present string.

In winning these six games, they have limited their opponents to a total of six runs, an average of exactly one a game, while accumulating 41, an average of nearly seven.

In many respects the club is offering the finest ball of its life. Certainly Manager Herb Salveson has more reserve strength at his disposal than there ever has been here before. Bill Hunter, former Riverside third sacker, can fit in anywhere in the infield while Randolph Bell, playing the best ball of his career, adds powerful utility force to the outfield.

The mound staff may not be as great a s it was last year when Glenn Stockridge and Joe Ochoa used to "two-time" the enemy but Joe Cornelius, who pitches with as much knowledge and skill as either of the departed aces, has been able to repeat Stockbridge's "iron man" stunts of 1928 with amazing success so far.

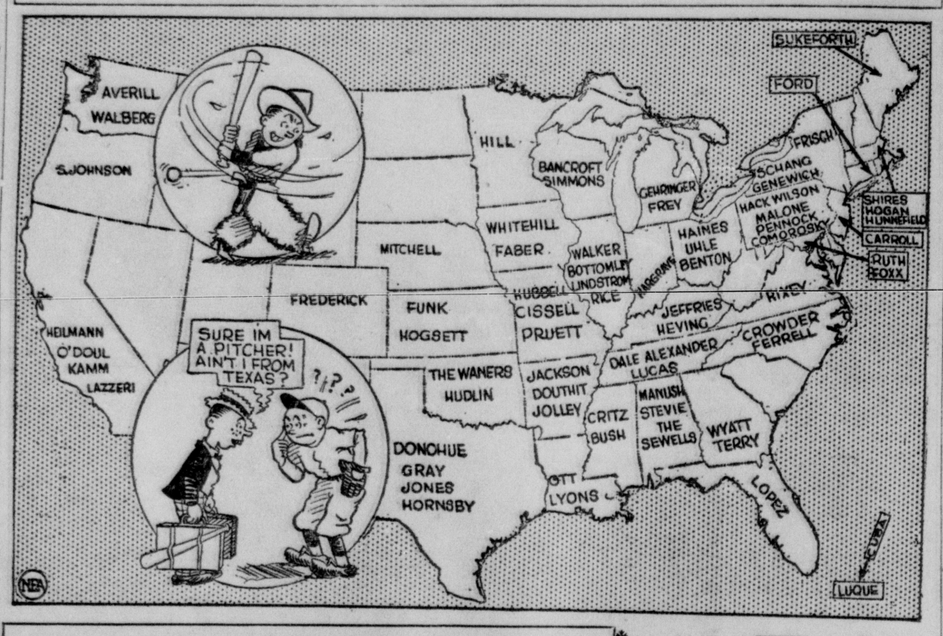

Price May Face Orangemen

Ray Price, who has done well whenever given an opportunity, and Gene Hitt, who has not yet appeared in a Santa Ana game, are able relief gunners.

BIG LEAGUE IVORY IS FOUND EVERYWHERE

Major league baseball scouts travel far and wide in quest of talent for in no particular spot are the Cobbs and Ruths to be found. Almost every state in the union has contributed its share of ivory to the big tent, as the map below reveals.

RUTH LOSES FINGERNAIL AND MAY BE OUT OF YANK LINEUP

NEW YORK, July 3.—Babe Ruth had 31 home runs today and was 22 days and 22 games ahead of his 1927 schedule, but he was minus a finger nail and may be out of the game for several days.

He hit homer No. 31 yesterday off "Dutch" Henry, Chicago White Sox southpaw in the first game of a double-header, but he ripped the nail on the right finger of his left hand on a wire screen when he went after the second of Carl Reynolds three successive homers in the second game.

He was forced out of the line-up and later the entire nail had to be removed.

WALSH DOUBTS JONES TO WIN NATIONAL OPEN

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 3.—His not to dally in the effulgence of a nation's homage. His only to receive the deference due a conqueror and hasten away to conquer again, Bobby Jones will be off to the wars once more before nightfall today, his face set toward Minneapolis and a greater test than any he yet has experienced, the national open golf championship.

Jones was the toast of the nation, indeed, yesterday as he came home with the British amateur and open championships to receive a welcome that is echoing in his ears at this moment.

But today grim reality has come with the cold light of morning. Yesterday's cheers are drowned in the tumult of tomorrow's worries. It is the penalty of fame that a hero must remain heroic to the end and so Jones is forced to turn his back on acclaim and set forth for Interlachen and—what?

Bobby Jones

Personally, I suspect that he is going out to meet his first defeat of a great year. This is mere opinion and, therefore, no less worthless than the average opinion seems to be.

Jones arrived here, sun-tanned and almost aggressively healthy. He hadn't lost his golf clubs, as alleged. He hadn't been ill, as suggested by scarehead cables. He was and will remain the greatest golfer this bunker-crazed old world has known and probably will know. But this comes pretty close to being the year for him to lose the national open championship. It isn't in the books for Jones to win at Interlachen.

Jones simply has won more than his share of honors, even for a man whose golf is almost foolproof. He has been under a strain the like of which would give a pack mule nervous prostration. Within a period of three weeks, he won the British amateur and the British open championships, with barely a breating spell between. He already has achieved a miracle. It is asking too much to expect him to parlay this amazing performance into something that would savor of competitive sorcery.

Human frailty being what it is, Jones is overdue for the inevitable reaction. And the field he will face at Interlachen must be potentially stronger, more menacing for the addition of Hagen, Farrell, Sarazen, Densmore Shute and others than was the conquered list at Hoylake. If Jones wins this one, after all the winning he has done, there simply will be nothing for it but to take the old oaken, moss-covered law of averages and hurl it violently out on the rear areaway.

SAMMY BAKER'S CONDITION IS STILL SERIOUS

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—Sergeant Sammy Baker, veteran fighter who collapsed in the 12th round of a bout with Joe Gans here last night recovered from his injuries today and was released from the hospital.

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—The condition of Sergeant Sammy Baker, veteran New York fighter who collapsed in the 12th round of his bout with Baby Joe Gans, Negro welterweight, here last night, remained serious today.

Doctors were unable to diagnose his injury. X-ray pictures intended to show whether he had suffered a fractured skull were to be taken today.

Dr. Joseph Kocar, of the Newburgh Heights boxing commission, after a preliminary examination, said he feared the fighter may have suffered a hemorrhage of the brain.

Only a few minutes before the fight was to end, 4000 spectators at Taylor bowl saw Baker suddenly stagger and fall. His opponent had not landed a hard blow for some time, and he apparently collapsed from an injury received earlier in the fight.

He staggered to his feet as the referee's count reached nine, only to go down again before a terrific onslaught of rights and lefts. This time he stayed down for the full count.

The refree lifted Gans' hand. The crowd cheered, and then went suddenly quiet as Sammy failed to rise.

He was carried from the ring, delirious, moaning and sobbing "Im going to die! I know I'm dying."

Anapauma Rancho Plays Hemet Club Here Tomorrow

D. Eyman Huff's Anapauma Rancho baseball team will meet the Hemet Reds, fast inland organization, at the Orange County Fair grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Game-time will be 2:15.

Hemet is a member of the Riverside-San Bernardino county league and has been defeated in official competition only once this season.

The Anapaumas also have a game scheduled at the Fair grounds Sunday. They will play a team from Los Angeles.

BY CLAIRE BURCKY
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

We look to Iowa for our tall corn—Wisconsin comes through with the cheese—Cape Cod for cranberries—and the guy that named baseball the great national pastime spoke words of truth. The major leagues today have chosen approximately 400 ball players from 36 states and the District of Columbia. Even Canada and Cuba are represented.

Illinois could place on the field a team with pennant-contending class. So could Pennsylvania and California and Alabama. Texas and North Carolina go in strongly for pitchers—so strongly, in fact, that a young hurling prospect nowadays almost has to hail from those states to be assured of a fair tryout.

Illinois vs. Pennsylvania

A team of Illinoisans, whose lineup and batting order might read Swanson cf, Rice rf, Lindstrom 3b, Bottomley 1b, McManus 2b, Schulte lf, Bartell ss, O'Farrell c and Ruffing p, ought to have a battle on its hands in competition with a Pennsylvania group made up of Adams 2b, Heathcote lf, Comorosky rf, Hack Wilson cf, Bressler 1b, Bell 3b, Boley ss, Jim Wilson c and Malone p. And if they wanted to send left-handers to the mound, Illinois could call on Bill Walker and Herb Pennock could do the job for the Quakers.

Seventeen big leaguers from California give that state third ranking to Pennsylvania with 20 famous sons and Illinois with 19. Out of Texas have come 16, New York provided 13 and Ohio an even dozen. Massachusetts, Alabama, Tennessee, Missouri, Indiana, New Jersey and North Carolina have sent up more than half a dozen apiece.

Those Tar Heel Pitchers

Explain, if you can, the fact that six of the Tar Heel state's most famous ball players are Garland Braxton Alvin Crowder, Wes Ferrell, Jakie May, Vic Sorrell and Tom Zachary, all good pitchers. Texas also is top-heavy with hurlers, having Benge, Brown, Collins, Donohue, Gray, Jones, Marberry, Russell and Shores. As is the case with California, too, they don't believe in raising their boys to become catchers. That job apparently has been left to New York, who obligingly provided Bengough, Berg, Picinich and Schang.

Among the sons of Hoosierland, not one is an infielder. Carl Hubbell of no-hit fame and Hub Pruett get all the pitching glory Missouri can muster. Maryland points with pride to her home run twins, Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx, while her pitching glory rests in the talented arms of "Lefty" Grove, Alphonse Thomas and Eddie Rommel.

And who do you think takes the credit for producing Art (The Great) Shires? Not Texas, but Massachusetts.

JULY 4 TOURNEY AT S. A. CLUB PLANNED

Santa Ana Country club golfers will have their annual medal play Fourth of July tournament tomorrow, with the "fireworks" scheduled for all day.

Engraved silver cups will be awarded low net winners both in Class A and Class B divisions.

In match play yesterday, J. W. Beach won with even figures. J. K. McDonald, one down, was second. Dr. W. S. Wallace and Dr. John Ball were next, five down.

PRINTERS LEAD RACE FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

If he cared to so publicize the feat, Caryle Dennis could go to work in his little printery today and run off a placard which would read something like this: "Dennis Printers Again Lead Race for Santa Ana City League Night Baseball Championship."

For by beating the Eastern Oil company, 3 to 2, although limited to one safe hit by Pitcher Eddie Cox, the Printers went back into first place in the Bowl last night.

Their advantage is purely a mathematical one because the Orange County Builders' exchange can share the position with them if it humbles Peek's market in the second game of tonight's doubleheader. If the tailenders upset the dope, however, the Dennis machine will have undisputed possession of the lead as the last week of the first half swings under way.

Cox pitched topnotch baseball against the Printers and deserved to win. His teammates collected eight bingles off Bill Humphrey, the league-leaders' gunner, but Humphrey was frugal when hits meant runs and his support was flossy, too.

R. White hit safely to open the Dennis half of the first inning and his was the only safety scored off Cox. White made the rounds again in the sixth, as did Lutz, and their counters meant the ball game.

AMERICAN LEGION BEATS CLUBMEN, 8-2

The Auto Club of Orange County made only passive resistance to the American Legion in the forepart of last night's double-header, the Legionnaires winning about as they pleased, 8-2.

Earl Jones stopped the Clubmen in their tracks until the seventh when he eased up back of an eight-run lead and allowed a couple of runs to filter across the rubber. Jones gave the Club only five hits, three of them were grouped in the final spasm.

Fred Robertson led the Legion's assault with three hits for four. Muckenthaler, Gibson and Boyle all had two bingles.

WOMEN PLAYERS IN FIRST NET MATCHES

Women tennis players had their first innings in the Santa Ana summer playground round-robin tournament on the high school courts yesterday.

Mrs. Ward won from Louise Rurup, 6-1, 6-1, and Regina Davault defeated Betty Dunton, 6-1, 6-0. Helen Bower was leading Barbara Rurup 12-10 in the first set when darkness necessitated a postponement until tomorrow. May Magg was unmatched and will play her first match next week when it is hoped more women contestants will appear.

G. G. Smith won a Class B match from W. A. Egger, 6-0, 6-0, and Verl Moyer captured a "D" tussle from John Davis, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Play tomorrow, July 4, will be at the option of the individual players, according to Tournament Director Merle Ewell.

STILL ON DECK

Exterminator, third greatest money winner of all time among race horses, is hale and hearty in retirement at 15 years of ago, while his sire, McGee, is equally active at the ripe old equine age of 30 years.

ALLISON LOSES MIXED DOUBLES AT WIMBLEDON

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 3. — Jack Crawford of Australia, and Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, defeated Wilmer Allison and Miss Edith Cross, United States, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 to enter the semi-final round of the mixed doubles in the British championships here today.

In the quarter final round of the women's doubles, Mlle. Josane Sigart, Belgium, and Mme. Henrotin, France, defeated Mme. Rene Mathieu and Mlle. S. Barbier, both of France, 6-2, 6-2. They will next meet Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan, American team, in the semi-final round.

Daniel Prenn and Fraulein H. Krahwinkel, German doubles team, defeated Eric Peters and Mrs. J. B. Pittman, England, 6-1, 6-4, and entered the semi-final round.

Tilden, Timmer Defeated

Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, the great French doubles combination, won over William T. Tilden and Hans Timmer, Holland, in a semi-final match by scores of 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Allison's defeat in the mixed doubles relieved him of the strain of having to play in three events against the stiffest opponents. The Wimbledon authorities are, however, preparing to extend the tournament over to Monday to permit him to regain his strength, unless he and John Van Ryn are eliminated before the final round of the men's doubles which they won last year.

Notables Watch Play

The center court was crowded, among the notables present being Prince and Princess Takamatsu and Ambassador Matsudaira of Japan, the ex-king and queen of Portugal, and Guilo Prestes, the president-elect of Brazil.

Another of the four nominations the Wyoming horseman has made for the event, Nusakan, drew the next highest impost, 120 pounds. The other two from the Irwin barn are Mole Hill, with 109 up and Montana, with 101.

FINN-ISH LINE

He's still the "flying Finn." Fleet Paavo Nurmi, holder of many track records, clipped 23 2/5 seconds off the world's amateur mark for the six-mile run during the British games at Stamford Bridge, London. This is how he looked to a crowd of 25,000 spectators when he crossed the finish line.

JEFFERS SETS COURSE RECORD AT WILLOWICK

Jeffers was over par on only two of the 18 holes. He had two eagles, both on the long No. 5 for which par is five, which he traversed in three strokes. Jeffers also had birdies on five holes.

His card:

Out, Par	4	3	5	4	5	3	4	3	4	—36
Jeffers	4	4	4	4	5	3	3	3	3	4—33
In, Par	4	3	5	4	5	3	4	3	4	—36
Jeffers	4	3	4	4	3	3	3	3	3	—30

CARNERA BOUT WITH CAMPOLO IS SUGGESTED

BY L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 3. — With plans for a return bout between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey at Yankee stadium September 25, definitely abandoned, Madison Square Garden officials today were seeking a feature heavyweight bout for their late summer program.

Political pressure is being recruited in an attempt to have Primo Carnera reinstated to meet Vittorio Campolo, towering Argentinean, in a "charity" bout.

Carnera was barred for participating in an alleged "framed" bout at Oakland, Calif., and if the commission reverses its usual policy and enforces the ban, Young Stribling, Phil Scott or "Tuffy" Griffith may be given an opportunity to try for a place in the front rank of the heavyweight division.

Cancellation of negotiations for the Schmeling-Sharkey bout was announced last night by Frank Bruen, vice president of Madison Square Garden, in charge of boxing, and Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's American manager, following a three-hour conference.

After signing Sharkey for the bout, earlier in the day, the Garden had announced formally that the bout was "definitely on."

When Jacobs arrived to sign contracts for the fight, a hitch developed over the terms of an agreement releasing Schmeling from the claims of his repudiated German manager, Arthur Bulow, and after several hours of fruitless discussion all negotiations were called off.

Bruen charged Jacobs with presenting new demands after the Garden had met all the stipulations of Schmeling's original terms, and said he would make no further attempts to promote the match.

Jacobs told the United Press that the impasse developed over failure of the Garden to secure Schmeling's unconditional release from all claims by Bulow.

YOUNG CORBETT AND THOMPSON BOX TOMORROW

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3—Fight fans were eagerly awaiting the grand battle here tomorrow when Young Jack Thompson, world's champion welterweight, and Young Corbett, cool and calculating southpaw from Fresno, meet.

It is a criticalfight from the standpoint of the contestants. Thompson can't lose his championship but he is pretty anxious to wipe out the sour taste of two former defeats he has been handed by the cagy Corbett.

SUMMER RACES SET

AGUA CALIENTE, July 3.—Nine stake races are scheduled for the 52-day summer meeting at the Agua Caliente Jockey club. The features are the Coronado claiming stakes, a one-mile dash scheduled July 13, the second Sunday of the meeting, and the President's plate, a $5000 added handicap, at a mile and a furlong, to be run August 24.

GRIFFITH MAY FACE STRIBLING IN NEXT BOUT

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 3.—It now can be said without fear of contradiction that "Tuffy" Griffith of Sioux City, Ia., is a better prizefighter than Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy.

If there ever was any question about it, Griffith removed all doubts last night when, for the first time, his hand was raised as victor over Risko, this time by a clear cut 10-round decision.

Risko, it might be said, showed just as much improvement as everyone had expected after his recent victories over Vittorio Campolo and Paulino Uzcudun, but it apparently is impossible for the Cleveland spoiler ever to spoil Griffith.

Risko Starts Fast

Johnny's best round was the first. He opened up with a two-handed attack that apparently took "Tuffy" by surprise and was slightly ahead on points at the bell. But from there on out, "Tuffy" was complete master of the situation and it became only a question of what his margin of victory would be.

So Griffith is back today on the doorstep of a chance for important fights that may lead him into competition for the heavyweight title. By his win last night he establsihed beyond any doubt that his defeat last winter by Jack Gagnon had taken away none of his speed or hitting power.

Except for a return fight with Gagnon in which he outpointed the Boston strong boy, this was Griffiths first important skirmish since Gagnon stopped him in Philadelphia.

May Meet Stribling

"Tuffy's" previous wins over Risko were scored last year—by a foul in Detroit, and a 10-round decision in New York. His third victory last night puts him back among the Class A challengers for the heavyweight title.

Griffith's next important opponent is expected to be W. L. (Young) Stribling, who scored a one round knockout over Otto Von Porat here last month. Stribling, according to Matchmaker Nate Lewis, had agreed previous to last night's fight to meet the winner.

Griffith weighed 185 1-2 last night and Risko 193 3-4.

In a slow 10 round semi-windup, Paul Swiderski, 182, of Syracuse won the decision over Frankie Simms, 206, of Cleveland.

PERMISSION OF CITY COUNCILS IS NECESSARY

ORANGE, July 3.—Confirming the original exclusive report carried in The Register on June 25 of the proposed abandonment of passenger service between Orange and Santa Ana on the lines of the Pacific Electric, confirmation was received today in the form of an order from the railroad commission of the state of California granting the railway company permission to abandon passenger service under certain conditions.

The report from the railroad commission stated "the Pacific Electric Railway company has been granted authority by the railroad commission to discontinue passenger service between Santa Ana and Orange on condition that coincident with the abandonment of said service, an augmented motor coach service shall be provided by Motor Transit company."

Check up of the report today with O. A. Smith, of Los Angeles by the Orange Register representative, revealed that the petition was filed by the railway company with the state commission on June 25, and that the order has been granted by the commission. An additional condition of the discontinuance of service which gives the two interested communities an opportunity to block the proposed amendment, is the requirement that the transportation company must secure the approval of the cities of Santa Ana and Orange before the change can be made, Smith revealed in the interview.

The traffic official declared that the matter would be presented to the city councils of the two cities in the next few days and that inasmuch as plans of the company called for much better service between the two communities and would represent a saving to the company of approximately $6000 a year, he believed the necessary permission would be granted.

"Although the electric service may be discontinued under the plan," he stated, "additional local service would be provided on the motor coach lines which would given even better service than the double service now existing, much of which is a duplication and unnecessary expense. The Pacific Electric has a two-thirds interest in the Motor Transit company and would add local service to the through busses now serving Orange on the lines to Riverside and Los Angeles. This would provide 20 minute service throughout the day instead of the 20 minute service only at certain intervals now provided through the operation of both electric cars and busses.

"The Pacific Electric is losing money in the operation of the Orange-Santa Ana line and will save about $6000 per year by taking off the electric passenger service. The removal of passenger cars from the tracks will also better traffic conditions on Main street and will eliminate hazardous conditions which have been the object of some criticism and objection.

"None of the Pacific Electric employes will lose positions. They will be transferred to other runs and will be continued in the service of the company if they so desire.

"Freight service will be retained over the lines and the tracks will not be disturbed. There will probably be one round trip each 25 hours, and this service, it is anticipated, will be during the night."

Considerable opposition to the abandonment of the passenger service of the Pacific Electric has been expressed in some quarters here. The transportation company anticipates, however, that when the entire program is known with the prospects of even better service between the two communities, there will be no difficulty in securing the permission of the two cities, which is required before the abandonment proceedings can be completed.

It is anticipated that in the event the program is successful the present Pacific Electric station on Lemon street, just north of Chapman avenue, will become the motor bus terminal. Electric service between Santa Ana and Orange was inaugurated in 1907.

ORANGE LIONS HEAR ADDRESS ON ATHLETES

ORANGE, July 3.—Speaking on "The Value of Athletic Training," Jack McCord, life insurance man of Los Angeles, and one of the leading football officials in the country, addressed members of the Lions club yesterday noon at the regular weekly session of the organization held in the Legion clubhouse. The address was characterized by those who were present as one of the most helpful and interesting that has been heard for some time.

McCord was introduced to the club by Stewart White, coach at the Orange union high school and program chairman for the day. The speaker, who officiated last fall at the Notre Dame-University of Southern California football game in Chicago, prefaced his talk with remarks concerning this game from the view point of an official, and also told many interesting incidents of other big games. He has been interested in the sport, as a player or official for the past 25 years. McCord also told many incidents about athletes in his address in which he stressed the application of the principles of honor and sportsmanship of athletics to modern business.

Several of the incidents he related concerned Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones, golf stars, and others were about baseball players. Hagen, who won the British open championship five times, he characterized as being sure of himself and told of a 25 putt he made in one match to win the tournament. Bobby Jones, he said, when asked if he shot for the green, replied in the negative and added that he shot for the pin. The advantage of such attitudes in business was pointed out by the speaker.

"All great athletes and sportsmen never offer an alibi," McCord declared. "And how much better things would be in the business world today if there was more action and less alibis! Business problems should be approached as the athlete approaches his difficult feats. The real athlete carries on and keeps trying no matter how tough the going. Baseball players often rely on the law of averages to keep their ranking. When they hit a slump they keep plugging away, knowing that sooner or later a hitting streak will bob up.

"Business men should be good sports and adopt similar methods. Take the hate out of business."

Ivan Swanger, vice president, presided at the meeting yesterday in the absence of Dr. J. E. Riley, who left yestrday for Colorado. Visitors included J. H. McCoy, a newcomer to Orange, and Bill Godwin, of Santa Ana. Visiting Lions were Carson Smith, W. A. Shook and Wayne Goble, all of Santa Ana. The song sessions were under the direction of Oscar Leichtfuss.

Wilbut Lentz, chairman of the golf team which is to compete with a team of Rotarians, anwas substituted as a "bone of conpostponed for several weeks. Golf nounced that the match would be tention" between the two rival organizations afte. the Lions had beaten the Rotarians twice in baseball so badly that there was no desire for a continuation of this form of competition.

Church In Orange Holds Communion Service Sunday

ORANGE, July 3.—Members of the Presbyterian church will observe communion service next Sunday, it was announced today by the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the church. This is the regular quarterly observance of communion. The topic of the sermon for the service is "Taking a Spirtual Census."

PLACE CURBING ON GLASSELL STREET

ORANGE, July 3.—A crew of men started work yesterday in front of the Masonic temple building installing new curbing on Glassell street and making preparations to lay new cement sidewalks in front of the building. The work is being done for the Masonic organization by R. Bellows, cement contractor of Santa Ana, formerly of Orange.

The task will be completed Saturday, Bellows estimated yesterday, and will be opened for the use of the public by Monday under the present schedule. He plans to do the greater portion of pouring the concrete for the walk in front of the building on the Fourth of July when he anticipates the least interruption to traffic and consequent inconvenience to the public.

Curbing in the area of restricted parking at the intersection of Glassell street with the plaza is being finished in red cement at the request of city authorities, according to Bellows, to obviate the necessity of keeping the curb painted at this point. The walk is to be finished in 16-inch squares and will be red to resemble tiling. About 1000 square feet of walk is being installed in addition to the curbing.

The work is part of an improvement program in connection with the remodeling of quarters occupied by the Bank of Italy in the Masonic building.

CELEBRATION OF 4TH STARTS IN ORANGE TODAY

ORANGE, July 3.—With bangs, booms, cracks, pops and fizzes the celebration by "young America" of the observance of Independence day got officially under way here today. Police regulations governing the shooting of fireworks in Orange permit the discharge of fireworks in the city all day July 3 and 4 and until midnight on the Fourth, Chief B. F. Richards advised.

While no particular celebration or general observance is scheduled here, many groups have plans for observance of the day with picnics, Beach parties, hikes and night exhibits of pyrotechnics. All public offices, banks, and businesses in general will be closed all day for the holiday. Drug stores will be open until noon, it was stated.

Warnings have been issued asking care on the part of persons discharging fireworks of any type to prevent accidents and fires. Caution is asked particularly in handling explosives and boys are asked to be careful about leaving any smouldering pieces of "crackers" or other items of fireworks where fires might be started.

Business houses and residences will be decorated with flags and Legionnaires are urging that due respect be shown for the national emblem.

MACHINE OWNED BY ORANGE MAN STOLEN

ORANGE, July 3.—City police officials today were investigating the theft of a touring car owned by Luther O. Kaun, of 426 Maryetta place, which was taken from a parking place on North Glassell street last night, according to a report made to Chief B. F. Richards.

"This is the first auto theft that has been perpetrated in Orange for a long time," Chief Richards said today in commenting on the case. The description of the missing car is being broadcast to neighboring cities by local authorities in an effort to apprehend the thief or secure the return of the motor vehicle.

The car was stolen between 8 and 10:15 o'clock last night from the place where it was parked on Glassell street between Chapman avenue and Maple avenue.

ORANGE CHURCH ORGAN ARRIVES NEXT MONDAY

ORANGE, July 3.—Arrival of the fine new Hall pipe organ is anticipated Monday by members and officers of the Presbyterian church here, in accordance with word received from the organ company. The organ was delayed in delivery, as it had originally been expected to be installed and ready for dedication by July 1.

The place which was reserved in the building for installation of the organ has been prepared and is now ready for the workmen who will erect the pipe organ upon its arrival. Approximately 18 working days will be required to complete the installation, and plans call for dedication of the splendid addition to the church equipment on the first Sunday in August.

In accordance with arrangements made some two years ago, Percy Green, member of the Orange union high school faculty and accomplished organist, has been elected by the church as organist.

BICYCLE FOUND BY TWO ORANGE BOYS

ORANGE, July 3.—Police reports yesterday listed the recovery of a bicycle on South Olive street by two honest lads, who immediately informed the department of their find. The report received by Chief B. F. Richards shows that the vehicle was found at 383 South Olive street by Carl Davis and Harold Hitten. The wheel may be claimed by the owner on proof of ownership.

CHAPTER XLIV

"Gigi!" Dundee shouted, in a voice harsh with anger that the girl, bending over a stationary laundry tub, withdrew reddened arms and gaped at him incredulously.

"My! You scared me!" she laughed uncertainly as the detective strode toward her. "I'm doing my daily Girl Scout good deed, but I should have worn rubber gloves. This stuff burns like the devil!"

But he had no sympathy. He seized her and shook her till her teeth rattled against each other. "You ought to have had on a straight jacket!" he corrected her savagely. "Do you know what you have done?"

"I hope I've got rid of the stink of Fleur d'Amour," she retorted, when he had dropped her arms helplessly and a little ashamed. For she did look so innocent—"When the folks began to play bridge this afternoon, all sitting pretty close together, you know, the odor was sickeningly strong, because everybody's clothes are scented up with the stuff from hanging in closets with the evening clothes we were wearing Friday night."

"Who complained of the odor?" he asked quickly.

Seeing that she had his interest in spite of his anger, Gigi rushed on eagerly: "Abbie. She said it positively made her sick ,and Mrs. Lambert said it did her, too. and she'd be glad when Monday came and the perfume-sprinkled things could be sent to the cleaners. And Dad said, 'If the police will let you send them!"

"Did anybody suggest this stunt?" Dundee interrupted harshly.

"No. I thought of it all by myself!" she retorted proudly. "I told you over the phone they wouldn't let me play bridge, so I finally got tired of nothing to do, and sneaked upstairs and collected all the clothes that had perfume on them, shot them down the laundry chutes in the bathrooms, and—there they are! I did the evening dresses first, then doused all the Tuxedos, even Wickett's—Oh, don't lok so peeved!" she protested. "I didn't take yours. I was afraid you wouldn't like it; besides, I know you're not so squeamish about smelling it as the rest of us are. Abbie was right for once; she said the smell of Fleur d'Amour would always be the odor of death to her, and I didn't see why all of us should be reminded everytime we open a closet door—"

* * *

"Just a minute, Gigi!" Dundee interrupted sternly. "At exactly what time did this Good Samaritan complex overtake you? Before or after you found from telephoning me that Johnson did not kill Doris Matthews?"

Her eyes grew very wide and inocent and injured as she answered: "Why, it was after, but—"

"Gigi, you can't fool me! You have deliberately destroyed evidence, which is a crime punishable by imprisonment!"

Gigi laughed, a little shakily. "Which brings to light still another advantage of being only 15! They'll only send me to the reformatory—"

"You made a clean sweep of it, I suppose?" he cut in disgustedly, gingerly lifting a soaked coat by a lapel.

"I'm afraid I did," Gigi confessed with an air of deep humility, but Dundee saw a glint of triumph in her eyes before she lowered them. 'Every single thing but the shoes we were wearing Friday night. I'd have doused them, too, but there wasn't any perfume on anybody's but Clorinda's. There they are, under the tub. I'm afraid benzine isn't awfully good for gold slippers," she added ruefully.

"Clorinda's slippers, cape and evening dress were in my room," he reminded her. "You at least knew that they had been confiscated by the police, as exhibits for the grand jury. And since the odor of perfume from them could not possibly annoy your sister or anyone but me—"

"Why hadn't you taken them to the police station, then?" she chalenged him.

"Because I was a fool!" he retorted bitterly. "There was a bare chance that Johnson was guilty of the murder, and would confess, and that your sister need not be dragged into the case. I see now that chivalry doesn't pay in this case....Come clean, Gigi!" he commanded harshly. "Why did you do this? Why did you destroy evidence?"

"Why do you keep harping on 'destroying evidence?'" she cried agrily. "Clorinda told you she's been in the summerhouse after the murder was committed. You didn't need a cape with a streak of blood on it and a pair of slippers to prove it! As for the rest of the things, the only evidence I destroyed was that I sprinkled perfume on all of you Friday night, and you've still got your own Tuxedo to prove that!"

"You knew my coat was harmless," he accused her. "As harmless as that handkerchief you gave me to have analyzed for poison ....Quit stalling, Gigi! When did you come to the conclusion that that flask of Fleur d'Amour was diluted with wood alcohol, after Wickett took it to your mother's room Friday night?"

"You're crazy! I don't know what you're talking about!" she denied furiously.

"Oh, yes, you do, Gigi!" He was grimly implacable. "This stunt of yours proves that! You were eavesdropping this morning when I was talking with Dr. Jennings, the city chemist. You heard me mention wood alcohol repeatedly. You knew wood alcohol was available in half a dozen of those patented fountains of your father's.....Now tell me whom you were trying to protect by this mad stunt of yours?"

* * *

"Not so mad!" Gigi retorted impudently, and turned back to the reeking laundry tub. "If anybody did put wood alcohol in Abbie's perfume, you're going to have a hard time proving it, darling!"

"Is that so?" he retorted savagely, and turned to stamp out of the basement.

"Go back to your washing!" he commanded.

"I shan't!" she sobbed, and followed him as stubbornly as a dog ignoring stones flung by his master; followed him as he strode across the lawn to the summerhouse.

In grim silence the thoroughly angry young detective knelt on the floor of the little arbor where Doris Matthews had been stunned to insensibility by the blow of a perfume flask in a murderer's hand.

"Oh!" Gigi gasped. "I never thought of that!"

With his penknife Dundee gouged the dirt from between the cracks of the floor, on the spot which had been saturated with the spilled perfume.

"I should have burned down the summerhouse," Gigi laughed hysterically, as Dundee transferred the loosened dirt from the floor to an envelope.

When the envelope was safe in his pocket, the detective faced the girl. "I'm going to take this to Dr. Jennings now, for analysis. But like you, Gigi, I haven't a doubt in the world that he will report the finding of wood alcohol impurities. And I'm going to give you one more chance to help me. Certainly you owe me a great deal for the damage you've done today. Whom are you trying to protect?"

"I refuse to answer!" she said steadily, but her face was very pale beneath the tan.

"You realize, of course, that you are shielding a person who plotted to murder your mother? Some person who knew your mother to be a perfume addict, and who confidently expected her death to follow the drinking of Fleur d'Amour!"

Gigi did not answer, but her eyes were wide with horror and misery.

"Then I am to conclude that you are shielding yourself?" Dundee went on brutally.

"Myself!" she echoed incredulously.

"You confessed to me Friday night before the murder that you had done 'something dreadful'," he reminded her. "You were very angry with your mother, for having slapped and humiliated you before guests. You knew your mother was a perfume addict. Her habit disgusted you. You have told me that she makes life miserable for you. You—"

* * *

"Oh, don't be an idiot!" she cried, stamping her foot. "I didn't put wood alcohol in her perfume, and I don't know who did!"

"But you know who hated her enough to plot her death," Dundee said almost gently. "And you love that person enough to wish for him—or her—to go free of a horrible murder that grew out of a crime which poor Doris Matthews prevented, by discovering the poisoner at work! Isn't that true?"

Gigi's horror-filled eyes stared at him for a long minute, then the girl turned and fled from the summerhouse.

It was past four o'clock that Sunday afternoon when Bonnie Dundee returned to Hillcrest after his visit to the home of Dr. Abel Jennings. The chemist had promised to forego a bridge game and rush the analysis, predicting a report by nine o'clock that evening.

Two sedans, which he recognized as belonging to District Attorney Sherwood and Captain Strawn of the homicide squad warned Dundee that his superiors were again in charge of the case.

"Hello, boy!" Captain Strawn greeted him ruefully as soon as Wickett had admitted him. "Old Wind-bag's at it—hammer and tongs. Says you and me have been barking up a whole forest of wrong trees....Yeah, says it's plain as the nose on your face that the chauffeur killed the girl in a lovers' quarrel over Dick Berkeley, and that if he'd taken hold when the murder was first discovered he'd have had a confession by now."

"That so?" Dundee grinned. "I seem to remember that our Mr. Jerome Sherwood is up for re-election in November. One can quite sympathize with his determination not to antagonize so influential a vote controller as Multimillionaire Berkeley, by insulting him, his family or his guests with horrid old suspicions....Well, I wish him luck!"

"Want to watch the show?" Strawn suggested, with malicious amusement. "It's being staged in the servants' sitting room. The chances that Arnold will knock him cold looked pretty good five minutes ago."

"No, thanks. I might pitch in and help Arnold....Yes, Wickett?"

"Telephone for you, sir. Will you take it in the library?"

"Well, that's that! Kathryn Matthews died without regaining consciousness."

"Tough luck," Strawn admitted. "I guess that means the Crosby case is really closed forever,' as Doris said."

"Maybe yes, maybe no!" Dundee retorted with irritating cheerfulness.

"What are you up to?" Strawn demanded suspiciously, as Dundee arose to leave the library.

WERE CAPTIVES OF INDIANS

BOOK REVEALS EXPERIENCES OF FORMER SANTA ANA WOMAN AS CAPTIVE OF INDIAN BAND

The experience of four girls as captives of Indians is told in a book, "Girl Captives of the Cheyennes," by Grace E. Meredith, which is a recent addition to the Santa Ana public library. The book is of especial interest here, as one of the girls, when grown to womanhood, became Mrs. Julia Brooks, and lived in this city on Grand avenue for 15 years.

She was a resident of California for 35 years. Mrs. E. B. Dean, 811 West Fifth street, is a daughter of Mrs. Brooks.

The story of the captivity of the four sisters was woven into a tale of intense interest by Mrs. Meredith, of La Verne, Calif., who is a niece by marriage of the oldest sister, Catherine. The assistance of P. L. Briney and Miss Bertha Briney, of this city, in proof-reading and typing the first copies of the manuscript is acknowledged in the preface.

Mrs. Brooks, for the last few years, has been a resident of Glendale, but her many friends here often have heard her relate the story of those six months of privation and horror she spent with raiding Indians on the plains of Kansas and Texas. According to Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Brooks never voluntarily mentioned her experiences, as they were fraught with so much terror that she usually spent a sleepless night if she spoke of them.

In August, 1874, Mrs. Brooks was a tiny girl of seven years of age, and in company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John German and one brother and six sisters, started from Kansas for Colorado by the covered wagon route, the children taking turns in driving the cattle and guiding the ox team across the plains.

The family followed the river road and they had become uneasy at the thought of lurking Indians.

They had traveled nearly a hundred miles when they met two men on the trail who told them that they would reach Fort Wallace the following day.

Cheered by this news, the little group started on toward what was to have been temporary safety before renewing their journey. This was on September 11, and as they made their way along the edge of a ravine they lost the feeling of uneasiness which had been with them.

The father and oldest son, Stephen, both carried rifles, one walking ahead of the wagon and the other back of it. A herd of antelope crossed their path, and as they turned to look at the animals, they were surprised by a band of Indians which followed the herd.

In the ensuing few minutes the brother, the father and mother and all of the children, with the exception of the four youngest girls, Catherine, 17, Sophie, 12, Julia, 7, and Addie, 5, were killed.

The Indians took what they wanted from the wagons and took the four frightened girls in the direction from which they had come, leaving the scalped and mangled bodies of the ones most dear to them lying where they had fallen in a brave defense of their lives.

The girls were given to the Indians who had captured them. The oldest girls were separated but the two younger sisters were taken by a buck and his wife. Later the two youngest children became babes in the woods, when the Indians deserted them on the plains and when they picked berries and slept on leaves which they piled in heaps under bushes, as far as possible from runs of wild animals.

Mrs. Brooks has written a brief account of the six weeks which she and her five-year-old sister spent on the vast plains. Wolves howled around them at night and sometimes the leaves on which they slept were scattered by fighting animals.

The little girls found a stream, and with singular foresight, feared to leave it, as they thought they might find no more water. They followed wagon tracks along the banks of the stream, where they discovered a small amount of corn and broken crackers which they added to their scanty meals of wild plums, wild onions and grass roots.

The four girls were taken from captivity through the efforts of General Nelson A. Miles, who also tells their story in his book, "Recollections of General Miles."

Mrs. Brooks remembered her experiences vividly, says her daughter, Mrs. Dean, and even now dislikes to look at an ax or at firearms. The experiences of the older girls are full of interest and the story of their capture is told in the first person, the greater part of it being the recollections of Catherine, who is now Mrs. C. E. Swerdfeger.

CLUB PROGRAM PRESENTED BY THEATER FOLK

Theater atmosphere descended upon St. Ann's inn this morning for a brief time when Norman Sprowl, manager of the Fox-West Coast theaters in Santa Ana, was program chairman and provided a program of music and dancing for the benefit of the Santa Ana Breakfast club.

A seven-piece orchestra of the West Coast theaters provided snappy music during the meal and accompanied the club singing. When two Fanchon and Marco acts failed to appear for the meeting, Sprowl did some pinch-hitting and kept the club hilarious with a monologue of a soldier who was drafted and sent to the front lines. Later, Sprowl did a tap dance as he used to do on the stage.

The hit of the morning proved to be the entertainment offered by Miss Betty Jean Koster, little Santa Ana girl who has achieved much fame in motion pictures, especially in her part in "Sunny Side Up." Dressed in a little blue winter coat trimmed with white fur, Miss Koster gave two dances and concluded her act with the song "Happy Days Are Here Again." She was accompanied by Paul Le Bar, former pianist for the club and now playing with the West Coast orchestra.

Guy Gilbert and Andy Anderson were announced as the program chairmen for next week and plans also were announced for the outdoor meeting on August 7, when all the candidates for county officers will be guests.

PLAN TO ATTEND CHARTER MEETING

Plans for Santa Ana 20-30 club members to be present at the California Yacht club on Tuesday night, July 8, when the newly organized San Pedro 20-30 club will receive its charter, were made Tuesday night when the local 20-30 group held its weekly dinner in the Santa Ana cafe.

Leland Finley, club president, conducted the business meeting, which had as its chief item of interest, the arrangement of the summer schedule for the 20-30 baseball league. Tevis Westgate is manager and captain of the local team.

Members were present from Riverside, San Pedro, Fullerton and Anaheim, to share the occasion with the Santa Ana members, and many of those expressed their intention of attending the charter night program at the Yacht club, and welcoming the San Pedro young men to their organization.

Report Theft Of Two Automobiles

A car owned by C. J. Haskell of 925 French street, was reported stolen from between Third and Fourth streets on French street early last night and Mrs. Matilda Cowan of 426 Mariette avenue, Orange, reported the theft of her car from North Glassell street, Orange, late last night.

GARDEN GROVE MAN TELLS OF FIERCE BATTLE WITH APACHE TRIBE ON NEW MEXICO PLAINS

William C. Long, of Garden Grove, for over 40 years a resident of Orange county and one of the few remaining men who can tell of stirring Indian stories in which they themselves took part, is today reminiscing on an event of 62 years ago, which he well remembers as the date of an Indian fight on the wild plains of New Mexico, when he, with an immigrant train, was enroute from near San Antonio, Tex., to California.

The trip was Long's second, he as a boy having come over the same train three years earlier in 1859, with all of the members of his family. This last trip was made with a drove of 900 cattle which the leader of the train, a Mr. Meddling, was bringing through. There were but 18 men all told to care for the cattle, attend to camp duties, stand guard and act as protection for the number of women and children who completed the train, so it was with dismay that on July 2, the party observed that they were being surrounded by the Apaches, one of the deadliest enemies of the white man. Hurriedly arranging for what limited protection possible, the women and children were put into the wagons, which were circled in the usual manner as best guarding against attack. Two men were detailed to mold bullets, Long's brother, Robert Long, but a few years deceased, being one of them, and then they awaited the further move of the Indians. Arms were insufficient, two guns proving worthless, so it was with doubt that they waited.

How many Indians there were in the attack the party never knew, but 200 were counted at one time when the war party topped a rise. Circling and drawing nearer all of the time the Indians gradually cut out small bunches of cattle all day long until by night but 12 of the heard and two saddle horses were left and one of these later was shot from under its owner. The oxer which drew the wagons were safely tied inside the ring and were safe.

When the cattle were gone and night was coming on, the beseiged party felt that surely a massacre would take place before morning, but cool headedness on the part of the leader, who understood Indian nature, saved the day, it is thought. As a ruse to make the white men fire the first shot to bring on the attack the Indian chief sent out a young Indian girl on a pony to ride around the camp as a dare to shoot. Some of the men naturally resented this insult and attempted to shoot but Meddling would not allow it and so the general attack did not take place. By morning the last 12 cattle had been taken and then quite a battle ensued in which not a white man was injured. Toward evening of July 3, the Indian bands dispersed and the tired and worn travelers broke camp hurriedly and traveled all the next night to get out of the territory of the Apaches.

The last move necessary in abandoning the camp was that of driving all of the wagons over the grave of one of the number, a Mr. Bradford, who died during the siege from an illness which he had contracted several days before and which, augmented by the excitement of the Indian fight, hastened his death. Throughout the fight the sick man called words of encouragement to his comrades as he lay on his bed in his wagon, surrounded by his wife and little children, who accompanied the train on to their destination, San Bernardino.

A party following two days later found the body of Mr. Bradford had been removed from the grave in spite of the precaution taken to hide the fact of his burial, and had been scalped. This party also had a brush with the same band of Indians, but soon killed the chief and the fight ended.

GLENN MARTIN NOT TO BUILD SOVIET PLANES

Glenn L. Martin, formerly of Santa Ana and now owner of the Glenn L. Martin company of Baltimore, Md., was forced to abandon the building of 20 giant bombing planes for the Russian government at a cost of $2,000,000, it was learned here today.

The decision to stop work on the plans for the twin-motored bombers was caused by the United States government adopting the policy which has been called an embargo on the export of arms, munitions and military airplanes to the Soviet Union. The state department of the government has admitted that a letter was sent to the Martin company, stating that it viewed with disfavor the exportation of armaments to Russia, inasmuch as the United States has no diplomatic relations with the government.

Martin is a pioneer in the aviation world and received all of his early training in this section. He used the site now occupied by the Santa Ana High school for a field and later became famous as an aviator before going into the manufacturing business. He frequently visits in Santa Ana with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Martin of 810 Minter street.

Santa Anans Anticipate Pleasant Celebration Of Holiday

Mr. and Mrs. William H. DeWolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Chenoweth and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Diehl of this city, with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Derussy of Long Beach, are anticipating a delightful celebration of the national holiday, when they will motor to Lake Arrowhead to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Burton, former Santa Anans who so recently returned from abroad, and are now enjoying the mountain air of California's famous resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton spent 15 months in European wanderings, and returned with a wealth of amusing and interesting experiences to relate. The pleasure of Southland friends in their return, was charmingly expressed earlier in the week, by Mr. and Mrs. DeWolfe and Harry Fenton of Pasadena, when they entertained at an informal tea in the handsome DeWolfe home, 2014 North Broadway.

While many Santa Ana guests were present to greet the travelers, must interest was shown in the fact that so many out of town friends were able to be present. They included Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Woodbridge of Upland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeBerard of Cucamonga, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney James of Altadena, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Derussy of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Hoag and Mrs. Eastman of Los Angeles.

Canadian Guests Were Honored at Recent Party

Complimenting Mrs. W. Synder and Mrs. R. Riddelle of Winnepeg, Can., who are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson on West Second street, Mrs. J. M. Mosley entertained in her home at 814 Fairview yesterday afternoon, choosing cootie as the happy diversion.

The day was an especially enjoyable one for Mrs. Riddelle, who visited here two years ago and was the honor guest at a party when many of the guest list of yesterday's affair were present. She took much pleasure in renewing acquaintances, and noting the changes that had taken place in Santa Ana during the two years' span.

In the cootie game Mrs. F. A. Snipe scored high, and was presented with a lovely bon-bon dish in black glass, while Miss Elsie Carter was consoled. The tables were then spread with pretty linens, and the refreshment course was served, carrying out the patriotic motif which was also evident in the bouquets of red and white carnations arranged in low blue bowls. Small silk flags were presented as favors and seemed especially unique to the Canadian guests.

Those present were the honor guests, Mrs. W. Snyder and Mrs. R. Riddelle, and the hostess, Mrs. J. M. Mosley; and Mesdames C. J. Aldrich and Luella Rowland of Los Angeles; Mesdames J. C. Birdsong, C. O. Wood, Russell Thompson, W. H. Thompson, F. A. Snipe and the Misses Elsie Carter and Bertha Palmer of this city.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

United Presbyterian

Various activities took place in the parlors of the United Presbyterian church yesterday, with two of the organizations meeting there. Members of the Ladies Aid Society convened in the morning at 10 o'clock, and engaged in quilting and tying a comfort, after which they held an enjoyable noon luncheon. The serving committee was composed of Mrs. Scott Thompson and Mrs. Loretta Cash. Miss Dorothy Rogers, who was introduced by Mrs. E. C. Lukens, gave two humorous readings, "That Good for Nuthin' Dog," and "Trouble."

In the afternoon the Women's Missionary Society held its meeting, which was presided over by the vice president, Mrs. Will McBurney. The subject of the day was "What Christ Means to Me," and devotionals were led by Mrs. J. T. Raitt. The group sang "Jesus Is All the World to Me" in keeping with the chosen topic of the meeting.

Mrs. E. C. Lukins was in charge of the program, and especially interesting was the travelogue given by Mrs. James Smiley, who with Mr. Smiley have recently returned from a trip abroad, at which time they visited Egypt and Palestine. Dressed in a beautiful costume which she purchased in Jerusalem, the handiwork of the Armenian girls, Mrs. Smiley made an attractive picture as she gave her vivid descriptions of the ancient countries. Her reports of visits made to the American Missions, especially those supported by the United Presbyterian church, were unusually interesting.

The group will meet again on August 6.

Joint M. E. Meet.

Joining in an all-day meeting at Newport Beach, the members of the Ladies Aid, Dorcas and Home Missionary societies of First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday were privileged to enjoy the hospitality of the pretty summer home of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reynolds at the nearby beach resort.

Approximately half a hundred women availed themselves of the opportunity to spend a happy day at the shore, and take active part in the varied program. This included the business session of the aid society held in the forenoon hours under the direction of the president, Mrs. W. D. Baker, when annual reports were given from all sections. A review of the Federated Aid meeting held last week in Long Beach, added interest to this interval.

The Home Missionary women held quite as interesting a meeting in the afternoon, with their president, Mrs. R. R. Lutes, in charge. Especially valuable was the devotional hour led by Mrs. John Clarkson, who read a beautiful devotional service for young people, written by her daughter, Miss Dorothy Clarkson. A special offering was taken to defray the expenses of two Queen Esther girls to the annual Queen Esther camp to be held at Pacific Palisades, August 2 to 11. Mrs. F. W. Wiessman, head of that department of the young people's work, will have the matter in charge.

Social features of the day were no less enjoyable than the business matters, and included a luncheon that all agreed was without parallel, as one member after another produced her favorite dish to be added to the varied and delicious menu.

Delta Sigma Delegates Return From Dallas Convention

Returning today from Dallas, Tex., where they represented Santa Ana Delta Sigma fraternity at the national convention, Warren Cooke, Howard Frazee and Charles Homan were enthusiastic over the hospitality shown them, not only by their Delta Sigma brothers, but by the entire city of Dallas. The fourth member of the local group of delegates, Warren DuBois, remained for a more extended stay in Texas.

Accounts of the convention as given by the returned Santa Anans, included details of their entertainment at Hotel Adolphos, the most exclusive hotel in Dallas, which was convention headquarters and the scene of all business sessions; a ball at the Adolphos, where a delightful evening was spent; and another social evening when Fair park, the amusement center of the city, was turned over in its entirety to the Delta Sigs, who had an evening of hilarity amidst the park concessions.

The 1931 convention was voted to Washington, D. C., and Santa Ana members are already laying their plans for representation.

On returning to Santa Ana, the three young men made the 1900 mile trip in 48 hours.

The birthday anniversary of the Rev. William Schmoock, 816 Brown street, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, provided members of his congregation with incentive for a delightfully planned supper party held last night in Hewes park as a surprise to the Rev. Mr. Schmoock.

The pastor had been absent from the city all day on important business matters, and on his return in the late afternoon, his family succeeded by clever manouevers in luring him to the pretty park. There the members of his congregation had gathered with everything in readiness for the delicious supper. His first view of the merry picnickers was also his first inkling of any surprise party plans.

A large number of presents and greting cards of every variety provided an interesting feature. One of the most popular attractions of the supper hour, seemed to be the huge birthday cake centering one of the picnic tables. After this had been sufficiently admired it was cut and served with ice cream as the dessert course.

In an informal after-supper program, the honor guest expressed his enjoyment of the event, and his appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the Thimble club of the congregation, whose members had made the hospitable plans.

The picnic was the second birthday celebration complimenting the Rev. Mr. Schmoock, as he and Mrs. Schmoock and their family had been honored at a large dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. A. Hauptmann and family in their Westminster home.

Mrs. Elmer Schneider was hostess to the Bridgettes last evening, when they met in her home at 1048 West Walnut street for a most delightful session of cards and conversation. Exquisite double dahlias in a deep pink tone were arranged to form an artistic setting.

When bridge tallies were added it was found that Mrs. Roy Waldren held high score, and Mrs. G. F. Ludlow, low. Each was suitably rewarded. Delicious refreshments were served late in the evening.

Special guests were Mrs. M. O. Short of Boone, Iowa, Mrs. L. Lewis, and Mrs. T. S. Hunter. Members present other than the hostess, Mrs. Elmer Schneider, were Mesdames JJohn Turtoz, G. F. Ludlow, Wilbur Getty, Everett Cornecl, Clifford Thatcher, Kenneth Stowe, James Board, W Roy Waldren and Ralph Mitchell.

Al Fresco Bridge Tea Compliments Guest From Illinois

Dappled sunlight playing over the waters of an artistic fountain, birds singing cheerily in their ornamental cages hung amidst the greenery, vivid hued flowers, penstemon, stock, delphinium and gladioluses, and bright colored garden umbrellas, all contributed to the charm of the patio at La Hacienda on North Broadway, where Mrs. Harry M. Smith and Mrs. Blanche Brown yesterday joined in entertaining at bridge, complimenting Mrs. Brown's cousin and house-guest, Mrs. Earl Lippincott of Oakland, Ill.

In view of the lovely setting, it seemed appropriate that tally cards should reflect the flower motif, and violets and rosebuds, carnations and nasturtiums were grouped together for play at the waiting bridge tables. As a result of the friendly card contest three prizes were awarded; first of a set of thistle patterned rose glass salad plates, to Mrs. Marshall Harnois; second of a pretty etched pink crystal bon-bon dish to Mrs. J. F. Richards, and third of a basket of mingled summer blossoms to Mrs. Fleetwood Bell.

At the tea hour, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown had the assistance of Mrs. F. C. Topliff of New York City, a temporary resident of Santa Ana, in replacing the decorated card table covers with embroidered linens for serving ices, a variety of home-made cakes and fruit punch.

While Mrs. Lippincott was singled out for special guest honors, there were other out-of-the-city visitors who were presented to the group of Santa Ana guests, including in addition to Mrs. Topliff, who with her husband, drove from New York City in mid-winter, Mrs. Robert Grant of St. Louis, the house-guest of her cousin, Mrs. Fleetwood Bell. Mrs. Mary Shawgo Was Hostess at Charming Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Mary Shawgo was a gracious hostess yesterday afternoon, when she entertained the members of the "Happy Hours" club at a prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon in her home at 604 West Fifth street.

Centering the colorful table, which carried out the patriotic motif now so much in evidence, was a giant firecracker, to which were attached streamers in our country's colors leading to the charming little red, white and blue nut cups at each place. Casting an effective glow over all were the slim red tapers, set in matching candle holders.

Following the luncheon menu, bridge was played, and the setting for the pleasing diversion vied in attractiveness with that of the dining room. For the hostess had arranged attractive bouquets of pom-pom dahlias and blue larkspur intermingled with tiny white blossoms. Scotch broom, too added much to the atmosphere.

Mrs. Nellie Young succeeded in making high score, and was most appropriately rewarded.

Those sharing in the delights of the afternoon, other than the hostess, Mrs. Shawgo, were Mesdames Nellie Young, Allie Cain, Jean Trumbell, Claude E. Brown, Amanda Holmes, A. W. Getchell, and Frances Goepper, of Balboa.

State Auxiliary Head May Be Present at Local Meeting

Members of the American Legion auxiliary are anticipating an interesting session tonight in Legion hall, wheer they will greet the twenty-first district president, Mrs. Ethel Marsh of Upland. To add to anticipations of the evening's program, are rumors that the state president, Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, may be present. If so, her visit will not be quite the surprise that she is planning, for she will not take the Legion women completely unawares.

Business of immediate interest will be transacted, and will include the election of alternate delegates to the state convention to be held in Sacramento. Mrs. E. L. Struble, auxiliary president, will direct the business session, and has appointed a committee to be responsible for the social session with which the evening will close, and which will feature the serving of light refreshments.

What's more Refreshing than an
Iced drink Sweetened to suit your taste?

It's "OPEN SEASON" for tea, coffee and fruit drinks chilled with ice and made inviting and delicious with sugar.

Is THERE anything more musical than the clink of ice in a tall glass of iced tea or coffee? Is there anything more intriguing than to watch a spoonful of sugar sift slowly down and vanish in the cool depths? And is there anything more refreshing and relaxing than to sip the beverage thus flavored with sugar?

Summer is a grand opportunity to enjoy the flavor that sugar brings. Aside from home-made beverages, sugar enhances the flavor of fresh fruits which are so abundant. And cool, green salads are much more delicious when the dressing has been flavored with a dash of sugar.

Even cooked fresh vegetables are more appetizing when seasoned with sugar. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a good rule to follow. The sugar restores the sweetness that some vegetables lose so soon after they are picked.

To enjoy meals this summer, eat plenty of fresh vegetables and fruit. Drink cooling beverages. Help yourself to ice cream. Just remember that most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Artichokes, a la Ann

I have a new way to cook artichokes which I like very much. Personally, I find arichokes served with melted butter rather disastrous from the caloric standpoint and a bit too "filling."

This way utilizes only the bottoms and the very tender part of the leaves. I pull off the leaves in a compact bunch, place them on a board and cut off the tender part to use in the dish. The choke is scraped out of the bottoms, they are cut in quarters if large, halved if small, and cooked in some butter with a finely minced clove of garlic, some minced parsley, salt and pepper.

Six artichokes will serve four people generously and they can be the small inexpensive ones, too. After the bottoms are nicely sauted, pour into the pan 4 eggs beaten slightly and thinned with one-third of a cup of milk. As the eggs and artichokes cook add the tender part of the leaves and stir until the eggs are just creamy.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Boston Baked Beans

1 quart navy beans
2-3 pound fat salt pork
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup dark molasses
¼ teaspoon soda
1 quart boiling water
Black pepper after baking is finished.

Most women are familiar with the earthenware bean pot and I will admit that good beans are baked in them, but, have you ever tried baking beans in a large shallow pan? To me, they are twice as good because of the great expanse of crusty top. A large tin pan, the kind known as milk pan, is ideal. Of course, it has to be covered while the beans are baking the first four hours, then the cover is removed, the beans well stirred up to bring the fat pork to the top, the heat reduced and the beans let brown.

Pick over the quart of small white beans, wash, and soak over night. In the morning drain them and put to cook in plenty of hot water. Let the beans boil for 30 minutes, then test by taking a couple on a spoon and blowing on them.

If the skin shrivels and curls back the beans are sufficiently parboiled. If not, cook them a little longer. Turn them out into a colander and rinse with fresh water....all these directions seem far fetched but they are necessary if you wish to have beans that will be eaten with relish.

* * *

Take the various seasonings and molasses and mix to a paste with a little hot water. Put the beans in the pot or pan, cut the fat pork in thin slices and sink in various places.

Pour the seasonings over the beans and add enough boiling water to come to the top of the beans. Bake six hours or longer, adding hot water when necessary, but towards the last allow the beans to dry out and brown on top.

* * *

OPERA ENJOYED

ANAHEIM, July 3—Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Corrie entertained Tuesday evening in their home at 111 East Valencia street with an opera party and dinner. The guests were invited to hear the broadcast of the opera, Faust," by Gounod, after which the hostess served a spring chicken dinner. Invited were Mr and Mrs. Percy W. Olds, Mr. and Mrs Albert Cranston, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rymer, Mrs. Carroll Yonge, Mrs. Julia Marlowe and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Roblee of Fullerton.

D. U. V. Federation Told of Inroads Of Socialism

"America! Wake up! Pause and think" was the gist of a ringing message delivered Tuesday to Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, gathered for the quarterly Southern California Federation meeting in Riverside, where they had the pleasure of hearing Lieutenant-Colonel LeRoy F. Smith of Los Angeles on their afternoon program.

Mrs. Della Bishop of Orange, president of the federation, conducted the business meeting of the forenoon hours at which thirteen Southland Tents were represented with an attendance of 136 members. These included Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker and Mrs. Eva Bell of Sarah A. Rounds tent of this city. Many matters of special interest to the patriotic organization were discussed at the business session, and activities of the different tents were outlined in reports given while the hostess tent, of which Mrs. Berenice Huff is president, exemplified the work of the organization.

The afternoon meeting was open to the public and a large crowd was present to hear the stirring talk by Lieut.-Col. Smith, who, in addition to his work as an editor and a lecturer, also serves as director in the Better America league whose headquarters are in Los Angeles.

"Eighty-one Years of Hatred" was the subject of his address, in which he dwelt at length upon the foothold that communism and bolshevism are gaining in our country. Among other matters brought to light, he showed the appalling manner in which communists from foreign countries are working among American-born youths at such harbor points as San Pedro and Los Angeles harbor. Equally alarming, according to his viewpoint, were the activities in college circles, and he declared that socialism was making such inroads among our colleges that fully 11,000 students were now allied as the Inter-socialist society, which also numbers some 200 members drawn from the faculties of schools, colleges and universities.

Members of the federation were so impressed with his talk and the seriousness of the situation that it was unanimously voted to join the Better America association.

The next meeting of the Daughters' federation will be held in Pasadena in September with Mrs. Bishop to preside. In the meantime there will be a social event to arouse the pleasurable anticipants of all past presidents of Southland tents, when Mrs. Bishop will entertain at an all-day picnic gathering in her interesting home on Fairhaven avenue, between this city and Orange. This event is scheduled for Tuesday, July 29, and a large crowd is anticipated. Each past president attending will be asked to contribute some one dish to the picnic menu to be served at mid-day.

'BORDER LEGION' POWERFUL DRAMA

"The Border Legion," one of the most powerful dramas ever made into a motion picture, and one of the best western stories Zane Grey has ever written, is the current attraction at the Fox West Coast theater.

The picture, proclaimed to be the best Grey story that Paramount ever has made, has been here since Monday. It plays through tomorrow night.

The story concerns a band of outlaws who, soon after the Civil war, come to California, where they raid mining towns and loot stage coaches. The members are all former soldiers of the Civil war, led by Jack Holt, who plays the part of an ex-army captain who is forced to flee after he kills his commanding officer.

Eugene Pallette also has an important role. He was a river gambler, who kils a card player and leaves for the west, where he joins the Border Legion.

Richard Arlen and Fay Wray have the romantic parts in the picture. Arlen is charged with murder and is about to be hanged when members of the Border Legion save him and he joins the organization. How the legion kidnaps the girl and how Alren saves her, are some of the highlights of the show, while the fatal ride of the members of the legion into a mining town that is prepared for them, make up the climax of the picture.

The film is a picture that will interest from the start. It has everything for entertainment. The dialogue is particularly good, while the acting of Holt and Arlen is outstanding.

ONLY TWO TIES

Since the British Open golf championship was placed on a 72-hole basis back in 1892, there have been but two ties for the title, Harry Vardon figuring in both, and winning both.

'BIG HOUSE' TO CLOSE RUN TODAY

A mighty drama of life behind the walls of a big state prison is seen and heard in the sensational Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture "The Big House," which plays its last times at the Fox Broadway theater today.

With a plot that will grip the audience from the very start, "The Big House" is the talk of the town. Its cry is against the present prison condition in the United States and the play shows the causes for the big prison breaks that have stunned the country several times in the past several years.

Robert Montgomery, Wallace Beery and Chester Morris have the three leading roles in the show. The three are convicts in a big state prison. Montgomery, a youth from college, is sent up for manslaughter after an automobile accident. He is taught the ways of the prison by the other two, one a killer, the other a burglar. How they influence him and persuade him to enter into the big prison break that comes with the climax of the film, makes the picture a sensation.

Leila Hymans plays the girl in the plot, a sister to Montgomery and the sweetheart of Morris, whom she meets at the prison while visiting. There are a score of highlights in the show, such as Morris' escape, but the outstanding feature is Beery's acting throughout.

Fight Over Time Of Birth Settled

NEW YORK.— (INS) A baby born on Sunday can have her birthday on Saturday.

At Hastings, N. Y., a baby was reported born a half hour after midnight Daylight Time and the doctor recorded the birth as taking place on the following day.

The mother of the child insisted that her baby's birth was on the day previous because the child was born at 11:30 Standard Time.

An appeal to the Bureau of Vital Statistics at Albany brought the statement that "it is better to record births according to Standard Time."

DOUBLE FEATURE BILL ENDS TODAY

Grim shadows, a ghost seance, and wraithlike criminal figures in a swirling London fog are woven together into a maze of excitement in "The Unholy Night," an all-talking mystery drama by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The story is a mystery in which a group of army officers are menaced in London, and each falls under suspicion in a weird plot. The cast includes Roland Young, Ernest Torrance, Dorothy Sebastian, Claude Fleming, Natalie Moorhead and Richard Tucker.

In following the rise and fall and finally the safe landing of Bill "Cyclone" Hickey, as set forth in "Swellhead," the Tiffany all-dialogue picture, there is a nice mingling of all that is needed for entertainment—hearty laughs, tender heart throbs, tingling thrills, spell-binding suspense—and some great fight stuff.

SAVANNA P.-T. A. SEEKING MEMBERS

HANSEN, July 3.—The Parent-Teacher association of the Savanna school held the July meeting in the home of Mrs. T. W. Clark Tuesday afternoon. Eighteen members and one visitor were present. Mrs. R. Hylton, the new president, presided. Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom reported that after all expenses for the year were paid there remained in the treasury, $62.51. The members expressed gratification over this amount as expenses for the four entertainments held in the year had been high and some assistance had been given the Mexican school at Stanton, which is affiliated with the Savanna school.

Mrs. J. Campbell and Mrs. T. W. Clark were appointed on the flower committee for the year. It was decided to send flowers to William Mrowfka, who was one of the Savanna graduates this year and is in the county hospital, and to two members, Mrs. Walter Bitner and Mrs. B. J. Miller. It was decided to make the society an up to the standard association this year. To do this the membership will have to include 65 per cent of the parents of the district and the attendance at the monthly meetings must be 50 per cent.

Mrs. Charles Peters gave a report of the district meeting held at the Magnolia school. A letter was read from Mrs. Evans, the principal of the Savanna school, who is at Berkeley taking a summer course.

Mrs. Clark was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. I. E. Lukins and Mrs. W. E. Thompson. Mrs. Charles Peters will entertain at the August meeting.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The Tinymites had seen a lot of queer Odessa. Soon they got quite anxious to be moving on. The Travel Man said, "Well, we'll get a good night's sleep tonight so you all will be feeling right. Tomorrow I will have another wondrous plan to tell."

"Oh, goody, goody," Clowny cried. "Beneath the blankets we will hide and close our eyes real tight until another morning's here. Then we will eat to start the day and shortly we'll be on our way. I hope the plan you have in mind will fill us full of cheer."

So, everyone turned into bed in a hotel. Each sleepy head was buried deep in slumberland in most no time at all. The Travel Man was first to rise. He shouted, "Open up your eyes. It's morning.' And the Tinies jumped, 'cause they all heard him yell.

He then said, "We are Persia bound. My, what a place to look around. Across the Black Sea we will sail and then we'll take to land." They ate and then soon found a ship and shortly they were on their trip. "We're heading now for Persia," shouted Copy. "Gee, that's grand!"

For hours and hours and hours they sailed and then the shore was loudly hailed. The boat docked and they all ran off: "Now, what?" wee Carpy cried. The Travel Man said, "You will see. And, how surprised you all will be. We take an auto. Then we change and ride a caravan."

The auto ride was very short, but really quite a lot of sport. They reached the Persian border. Then the real good fun began. The caravan was odd, indeed. "Oh, look," cried Scouty. "All we need to do is jump in baskets." So up to some mules they ran.

(The Tinymites have an interesting trip in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE, TIE, PIE, PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

JUMP to ROPE—A little added exercise is provided while shooting today's hole. JUMP ROPE to the tune of par three.

Officers Installed By Newport Exchange Club

POLICE CHIEF IS PRESIDENT IN BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—Chief of Police R. R. Hodgkinson of this city is president of the Newport Beach Exchange club for the ensuing six months, having been inducted into office at yesterday's meeting of the club at the Newport Harbor Yacht club by District Governor Gene Fenelon.

The other new officers, elected at a recent meeting, are Steve Smith, first vice president; Frank L. Smith, second vice president; Dr. F. C. Ferry, treasurer, and G. C. Macleod, secretary. The last mentioned two were re-elected. Dr. G. M. Grundy is the retiring president.

There was some discussion as to whether the club should follow the example set by many other service clubs, of discontinuing meetings during the summer months, and a special committee will report on this next Wednesday. The committee consists of E. I. Moore, Theo. Robins and A. J. Garfield.

James E. Davis, former chief of police of Los Angeles, will be the speaker at next week's luncheon, Hodgkinson announced yesterday. His subject will be "Police Problems and Traffic Control."

BREA OIL TOOLS USED IN OKLAHOMA

BREA, July 3.—A victory for California methods and California equipment was claimed recently, when for the first time in the history of oil development in the mid-continent, a large producer was brought in under complete control, using Shaffer Tool works control gates, casing heads and flow beams.

The usual way has been to allow the wells to blow themselves in, a method which has often proved disastrous in the Oklahoma City field because of the high gas pressure and the presence of loose sand. With the development reaching close to the heart of the city, danger from blow-outs and fires presents a constant hazard, and the proper control of gushers is challenging the attention of petroleum engineers.

Frank Mason, manager of the firm, has been in the mid-continent representing the Shaffer Tool works for two months and reports an increasing demand for California-made oil field equipment. Officials representing many Oklahoma operators witnessed the bringing in of the Shaffer-equipped well, which belongs to the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, whose Mary Sudik well was a menace to the entire field for 11 days before it was put under control.

Collins, Perry LaPiere and Peter J. Bushman as first, second and third vice presidents, respectively; L. F. Walden, as secretary, Fred Leggo, treasurer; A. R. Burns, tail twister. CROWDS ARRIVE IN BEACH CITY FOR WEEK END

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—A greater Orange county harbor will welcome the thousands from the interior of Orange county and from other sections of Southern California who will visit here during the Fourth of July week-end. The vanguard of the vacationing throngs were arriving today.

This Fourth of July celebration, as well as the 12th annual tournament of lights, which takes place a week from Saturday night, will virtually be a celebration also of the city's latest $200,000 harbor improvement program, the dredging part of which was completed recently and the groin part of which is nearly finished.

The dredging has provided a channel 250 feet wide and 15 feet deep at low tide and given this city and county a better harbor than ever before in history. It has brought the two big yacht regattas here, August 4 to 9, and dozens of large yachts, many of the yacht owners also having purchased or built homes here.

New lighting systems have also been installed in the Balboa business and amusement section, to light up numerous new buildings which have boosted building records far above any previous year. Two displays of fireworks will be given tomorrow night, at the Newport and Balboa piers, beginning simultaneously, at 7:30:. These will be the only lawful fireworks or firecracker displays this Fourth, however, the city council having contributed to the program for a "safe and sane Fourth" by prohibiting fireworks. Many residents and visitors have expressed satisfaction over this action.

On Sunday two concerts will be given by the South Gate municipal boys' band, one at Newport at 1 p. m., the other following at Balboa. Speedboat trials will be staged the same day in the county channel, having been changed from Saturday.

COLLEGE TOPIC AT PLACENTIA CHAMBER MEET

PLACENTIA, July 3.—A short lecture by Archie Raitt on "What Men Live By" and a talk by James Tuffree on the junior college question were given at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce this week.

Tuffree told of the report of Dr. Riccardo on the junior college question in the north. Dr. Riccardo is from the office of the state superintendent of schools and visited the Fullerton school recently.

Orange county has more than enough students and more than enough valuation to form a county district, Tuffree said.

Tuffree explained that state and national aid had been cut from $105 per pupil to $57 per pupil with the result that the junior college tax had to be raised from 19 cents to 26 cents and the only way it can be lowered is to form a county-wide district.

Ralph McFadden, who is chairman of the Associated Chambers of Commerce committee on junior colleges, said that the two junior college boards were planning to get together to talk over the matter of a survey.

Archie Raitt told of the value of keeping the ability to play, saying that if we learn to play right, other things will follow.

"Play and work are the great fundamentals together with this thing we call love," said Raitt. "Love gives us the desire to serve, whether it be wife, friends, community, state or nation; and there are a few men with vision large enough to serve the world. Above work and play and love, we need some kind of worship. We need to know there is a law greater than human law and that we are only a part of a greater scheme for a better world."

OIL SHOWINGS REPORTED FOR BARNSDALL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 3.—Drilling at 6637 feet the Barnsdall Oil company has encountered its second worth while showing of oil and gas in the Newland-Borchard wildcat well on the east side. The company is coring ahead into the formation. It is said by scouts of other oil companies that the gas pressure at the Barnsdall was strong and that there was a nice showing of oil in the trough when the drill crew hastily pulled out of the hole and put on a core barrel.

This is the deepest oil and gas showing ever found in the Huntington Beach field. Allowing 400 foot offset for the Barnsdall crooked hole, the showing would match in depth the point where the Standard Oil shut down its deep test on the Thompson lease more than two years ago, at a depth reported to have been 6237 feet. The Standard reported that no showing was obtained at the Thompson well, but field scouts for other oil companies have always contended the Standard had a showing at the time the Thompson well was plugged back. The Standard was drilling with a light string of tools in less than a four-inch hole at the time. The well was plugged back and put on production from a shallow sand.

The latest showing at the Barnsdall may be just a gas pocket and a stringer of oil sand, or it may be something worth while. But the change in formation is regarded as encouraging. It has been felt here by oil men that the Barnsdall would have to abandon the Newland-Borchard on account of the crooked hole, before much more depth was attained, but the drill crews continue to make hole. It is unofficially reported that the Signal Oil company will share the expense with Barnsdall in a new well to be bored on the Newland-Borchard or at some other point on the east side.

Jordan, has acquired most of the Seville tract, near the eastern end of the peninsula, also known as the Frick tract, the reported consideration being $90,000, and the deal being made through A. B. FAMOUS WOMAN RIDER ON H. B. 4TH PROGRAM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 3.—Bonnie Gray, world's champion woman rider, with her stable of high school horses, was engaged Wednesday by the American Legion Fourth of July committee to appear here July 4 and 5 as a feature of the celebration here. For five years Bonnie Gray held the women's riding championship. She will enter the bucking horse riding contest, competing with the men riders and taking her turn in drawing for the outlaw horses.

Her famous jumping horse leaps an automobile with five passengers in the car, a feat that will be performed at each rodeo program. The high school horses that Bonnie Gray owns and enters in horse shows and rodeo contests over the entire country, are among the most famous in the world. From Huntington Beach Bonnie Gray will take her stable to Pendleton, Ore., to compete for world championship honors in the Pendleton Roundup.

BEACH C. OF C. TO HAVE FLOAT IN BAY EVENT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will enter a float in the 12th annual tournament of lights, this being the first lights carnival at which that city has been represented. The Long Beach entry was announced at the Newport Beach Exchange club meeting yesterday by Secretary G. C. Macleod of the chamber of commerce, which is sponsoring the tournament.

H. L. Sherman, general chairman of this year's tournament, stated that the question of entries is now the only one that remains to be solved in connection with the tournament. Another large crowd will attend, according to inquiries received at the chamber office and other indications, and arrangements will be in ship-shape for staging the parade, including towage and other details.

San Clemente is another coast city that will be represented in the parade for the first time, Secretary Hal F. Warner of the San Clemente chamber of commerce having sent in an entry for a sailboat last week. Nearly every civic organization, including the city of Newport Beach, will have entries.

Sherman expects to have judges from outside the harbor districts, with experience in artistic competitions. Their names will be announced as soon as all accept, he said today.

New features in lights and music are being worked out by Sherman and his committee, who are endeavoring to maintain the tournament of lights record of improving each season.

The fact that it costs much less than is generally supposed to put an entry in the tournament was again emphasized. "Anything that floats" from a canoe to a cruiser, is eligible.

CLOCK BANK

BERLIN, July 3.—To encourage saving, a German bank has been issuing "clock" banks. These clocks cannot be wound until a coin is inserted in them, and this winding lasts only for 24 hours. Consequently, if the owner of the clock bank wants it to keep time, he has to insert a coin every 24 hours.

L. B. Runners For Capistrano Race July 4 Selected

LAGUNA BEACH, July 3.—This city will be well taken care of in the relay race featured at San Juan Capistrano July 4, according to Chris Valente, in charge of the team.

Lined up to carry the stick for the 440-yard dash, each runner to carry it for one-fourth of the distance, are Carl, Edwin and Russell Hind, Joe Crafts, Chuck Petty and Clarence Watkins. Mr. Valente believes in preparedness and has recruited the fleet of feet of the community. Though only four are needed, he is cautiously laying in an extra supply of runners in the event of an epidemic of corns.

The race is scheduled for 2 o'clock July 4 as a part of the Independence day celebration at the mission city.

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, July 3.—(UP)—Lethargic trading and mixed price movements occurred in the pre-holiday session on the curb market today. With many traders joining the holiday exodus from town and other operators disinclined to make commitments in either direction in the face of the three day suspension of trading, there were frequent pauses in the progress of the ticker tape.

Further covering for over the holidays was in evidence in many sections of the list while some individual issues encountered fair demand at rising levels. A feature of the latter category was Hazeltine Radio, which made further progress toward its high for the year on continuance of the good buying of the issue ni evidence during the past week.

CHICAGO BD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 3.—(UP)—A dull wheat market held around steady with the initial decline on the Board of Trade today and closed lower. News was sparse and the approaching holidays discouraged buying or selling. Weakness at Winnipeg and Liverpool with rains in Canada and Australia and some Russian selling were the chief factors. Corn held minor fractional losses and oats were firmer after the early low prices set in July.

At the close wheat was 1½ to 1¾c lower, corn was ¼ to ¾c lower and oats were ¼ to ⅜c lower. Provisions were around steady.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Man desires to fill the cup of life to the brim, and modern civilization hastens to cater to his wants."—Sir Arthur Keith.

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEYSHIP AND THE REGISTER

Using the rostrum of one of the service clubs at Fullerton yesterday, Sam Collins, who is a candidate for District Attorney of Orange county, made an attack upon The Register's position and its publisher. The report stated that he spoke in part as follows:

I have been in office as a deputy district attorney for four years, and many of you have been residents of the county for a long time, yet we have never before discovered the presence of such an octopus as that found by Burke, entangling the county in the tentacles of officialdom and composed of financial and family ties.

Burke has had trouble with every other newspaper in the county. He has the Santa Ana Register, let him run it and keep out of other people's business. Orange county has prospered before he came and will continue to prosper.

Laying aside the point of the accusations against The Register and its publisher of saying things that it never said, for it has never referred to octopi or family ties in relation to public officials in this county, it has heard these phrases used by old residents of Orange county, and references made of like character. If they have been published in The Register, they have been published as statements that others have made, and they must be hurting.

In a way, we were not greatly surprised, however, at the attack of this candidate, though we were somewhat surprised at a service club furnishing a rostrum for such an attack in the light of the conditions.

We have had the privilege of meeting this candidate but once. This meeting was at his solicitation at our office some weeks ago when it was planned that he should run for district attorney. We discussed the conditions under which The Register would support him or any one else for the office of district attorney. We told him frankly that we believed in the Constitution and the law, including the Eighteenth Amendment and the Wright act, and desired to see them enforced without fear or favor, which we knew was not being done now, and that we did not think that we should support any man for the office for which he was running who was not able to state that he himself obeyed the law and that he did not countenance its disobedience by others.

In fact, we specifically stated that we would only support those who were able to answer the questionnaire which was submitted by the Women's Christian Temperance Union to candidates to learn their attitude on this law. It was plainly brought out in the conversation that this candidate does not qualify under these requirements. We further said that the public would like to know the attitude that a candidate for district attorney would assume in a case like the Ross case, and on this he was also silent.

We did not intend to oppose him editorially, and would not refer to him now, were it not for the fact that he goes out and attacks The Register and its publisher, and we desire to make an explanation. Mr. Collins seems to desire to emphasize that he stands out in Orange county for the things that The Register opposes, and that he opposes those things that The Register stands for. We want to say now and here to him and to any other candidate of like kind that we will stand for the Eighteenth Amendment and its enforcement. We are standing for impartiality in the enforcement of law. We believe that rich or poor, powerful or weak, men and institutions should be treated alike in the enforcement of the laws of our state. We are not seeking individuals to support; we are not selecting candidates; all that any candidate would need to do to receive the open, frank support of The Register is to stand for these things.

We don't ask them to support the publisher or to favor him. We ask them to stand by the law and its impartial enforcement. We are simply taking the position that every Christian church takes in Orange county. We are simply taking the position that every Christian minister, as far as we know, takes in Orange county. We are taking the position which we believe 90 per cent of the Christian citizens of this county believe in and stand for.

Has it reached the point where an editor and publisher must be attacked in clubs that are designed for the upbuilding of the moral life of a community simply because he refuses to stand for the conditions which are perfectly agreeable to the bootlegger and his ilk in the county? We have attacked no man in our editorials nor in any other way.

It is a remarkable fact, however, that standing strongly for law and order, for prohibition, brings candidates out in hostility to The Register, but fortunately it helps draw the line, and enables the man favoring law enforcement to recognize the enemies as well as the friends. A few days ago in Garden Grove 60 to 65 leaders of the Christian churches of this county met to form an organization for the election of men on no other platform or basis than that which The Register stands for. We are for them, and for the things for which they stand. We are for the candidates who qualify under their banner. This candidate who made this speech attacking The Register and its publisher has only himself and his attitude upon these matters to blame for our not being able to support him.

The Register has been similarly attacked by some papers of the county, but The Register has not been attacking other papers, and very infrequently even replies to the most scurrilous articles imaginable against The Register and its publisher. We are not blind to the fact that the real reason why these people oppose The Register is the same one fundamentally for which this candidate for district attorney opposes The Register. They dare not give the reason and so they make personal attacks.

We do not propose to be drawn off from the main issue into personalities. We are interested in the cause. The cause will live. Candidates and publishers may be left by the wayside. We were not intending to call attention to the fact that this candidate does oppose the principles that we stand for in law enforcement, but fortunately for the people the candidate has done it for us. You can usually count on help in any emergency if you stand right. Fortunately there are two candidates for the office of district attorney who fully measure up to the requirements of those who share the convictions of this paper: Harry Westover, of this city, and R. E. Haynes, of Fullerton.

The title has slipped from his grasp so many times, it would seem that Jack Sharkey can settle down to be a real heavy wait.

AL CAPONE IN MIAMI

Miami, Florida, will bring upon itself the ill-fame that is now causing Chicago trouble, at some future time if a piece of news from there today is an example of conduct. A club solicited Al Capone for a donation of $2500 which was accepted after some discussion. Two of the members of the club, one of them the president, resigned in protest against the acceptance of the money. It would not be difficult to reconstruct the argument which was used by members in favor of accepting the tainted money and so obligating themselves to Al Capone, of all people. It is easy to argue in favor of accepting money.

But that is exactly the way the gangster ingratiated himself in Chicago, by doing things for sections of the community from which the residents benefitted. It is the way some politicians ingratiate themselves with the people. For example there was Tammany Hall's social service work and recreations. Its activities aren't so blatant today as they were in days past.

Such a man as Al Capone is glad for the opportunity to get into a position where he is accepted and trusted for sooner or later he violates the trust and takes advantage of those who have been gullible.

They say he is going straight. But those who know gangsters best are the most doubtful. In any case he should serve a long period of probation during which society should keep itself independent of him. Society has paid a heavy price for the money Al Capone can dispense.

A Precedent For Good Government

Christian Science Monitor

Are sound reasoning and academic learning at last to be introduced into American municipal government? Citizens weary of the endless bickerings, inefficiency and dishonesty of party politics in big cities may perhaps take renewed hope, for the beginnings of better things seem to be making themselves apparent. If Tammany still rides triumphant in New York, a sense of civic responsibility appears to be awakening in answer to the challenge of gang politics in Chicago. And elsewhere in the middle west, the experiment has actually been made of placing a student of municipal government in office, where his theories and reasoning might be put to the hard test of actual administration. In Bloomington, Ind., Prof. Frank G. Bates was a few months ago appointed police commissioner, and has apparently been able already to convince most of those who were watching him that the theorist is not necessarily an impractical dreamer.

What he has done is quite simple and straightforward—in fact, what any reasonable outsider would admit was the surest way to reform. He has taken political considerations out of municipal appointments, and has stressed efficiency and honesty rather than party fidelity as prerequisites for officeholding. Those who have studied the weaknesses of municipal government in the United States and made comparisons with the European situation have for years been pointing out that application of this idea was a necessary preliminary to any permanent improvements in American city administration.

Heretofore intrenched political interests, combined with general public indifference, have been too strong for defeat by the intelligent and interested few. There are few who profit—save in increased social well-being—by honest city government, while there are various individuals and groups interested in preserving the old system to their own advantage. Therein lies the chief difficulty of a general and lasting reform. In municipal administration, more than in other branches of political life, the price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

But every demonstration of the progress that can be achieved with honest and intelligent men in office is a step toward a more general introduction of such methods as Dr. Bates has applied. The Bloomington experiment may well become a precedent to far-reaching reforms.

An Unusual Suit

Oakland Tribune

It was an iron horse of another color when a railroad company in Illinois brought suit and won, following a collision between a locomotive and an automobile.

The driver of the automobile, it was shown, stepped on the gas in an effort to beat a train to a crossing. In the smash-up an engineer was killed, the locomotive damaged, and the motorist escaped with slight injuries. The court, hearing the case brought by the engineer's widow, awarded her $5000; and hearing the company's suit, awarded it $10,000.

In too many grade crossing accidents it is made apparent the driver of the motor vehicle was aware of the approach of the train and seeking, at the risk of life, to save a few seconds time by winning the race to the crossing.

Another Trick Lost

San Diego Union

A million dollars plunged into the tropic seas off Havana, one day last week, when a French inventor lost his gamble for a new source of power. The principal equipment in the scheme he devised was a steel tube, more than a mile long, which was to have been lowered into the ocean off the Cuban coast. By means of that tube, specially constructed, the inventor expected to transmute temperature variations in the sea water into electric power, delivered from a plant on shore. When the tube was being lowered into place, a couple of steel cables snapped off, the tube plunged into deep water and was lost.

Another effort to salvage power from the ocean's vast reservoir was thus defeated, and another inventor exposed to the ridicule of conservative men. But the inventor and his equipment were casualties in a war that will finally be won.

More Truth Than Poetry

NOTHING TO CHEER ABOUT

—Professor Einstein.

Concerning Mr. Einstein's stuff
I'm not at all delirious;
I never followed it enough
To think that it was serious,
But though his diction has a swing
That both delights and charms me,
He recently has said a thing
Which troubles and alarms me.

I've read the stuff that he puts out
With no extreme avidity,
Including what he says about
The scheme of relativity.
But this last statement has a sound
That is not idle chatter;
He says that space has turned around
And now is eating matter!

The whirling earth on which we tread,
The air, although ethereal,
Our cars, our clothes, our daily bread
These things are all material.
And so are lands, and bonds and stock,
Though panics may deplete them;
So how shall we survive the shock
If space is going to eat them?

If space, its jaws with greed a-drip,
Its massive features glowering,
Shall shortly have us in its grip
And straightway start devouring,
The while it drinks the ocean dry
And sends the fishes scurrying
I think it's time that you and I

FILLING UP

Mr. Einstein says that space has turned around and is eating up matter, which is further proof of the theory that nature abhors a vacuum.

Bigger And Better Ballyhoo

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

A patriotic Boston teacher, not content with the regulation salute to the flag, taught her pupils an added sentiment. When, later, a delegation of distinguished Japanese officers visited her school, the thought suddenly smote her that on this occasion the fervent sentiment might better be omitted. She put up her hand; but the young patriots swept on. Forty-strong, they announced to the small, grave aliens on the platform, "Thank God, I am an American."

This naive satisfaction with our institutions, which we are forever, with alliterative glee, labelling "bigger and better," is now satirized the world over. Especially ridiculed is our worship of the "go-getter." This type, indeed, has been so caricatured that there are sensitive persons who are inclined not to "go-get" anything. Nevertheless, they go. For "go-getting"—which, shorn of its high-pressure connotation, is only an honest urge to make progress—is in our blood. Even while we are boasting today of what we went and got yesterday, we have our eyes on something better that we mean to go and get tomorrow.

To be sure, we have done so much of our "getting" noisily that some of the more leisurely among us complain that noise is our chief national product. It is not. The more we produce of other commodities, the less we produce of explosives. The surer we are of our resources, the less we boast about them.

Always, in the midst of the din, we have gone on with the work of making our country all that our boosters claim for it. Always those who have told the biggest lies about our future have told the most truth.

In recent years, seeing more clearly than ever before the economic problems that confront us, we have been cutting down on our "bigger and better ballyhoo," and addressing ourselves soberly to "bigger and better solutions."

So it happens that each one of us now has a special reason for saying—not for the benefit of visiting foreigners, but for his own benefit—"Thank God, I am an American."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE PERIL OF POETRY

George Russell (AE), the practical mystic of Ireland, who is equally at home in weaving a sonnet or waking dairy farmers to co-operative action, once graced our home with his wisdom and witchery for an all-too-short week-end.

Late one night he elaborated his theory that poets are invariably the advance agents of fresh historic epochs in the life of a nation.

He told the fascinating story of the way in which the poets of Ireland stirred to a new self-consciousness the Irish people, and paved the way for the renaissance of the Irish nation.

"I am enormously interested in your machines in America. I do not think you a materialistic people just because you are prosperous," he said. "I think your business men are, without knowing it, laying the foundations for a new America. But don't make the mistake of thinking they are the most important men in America. It will be your poets who will recruit the national soul for a renaissance. Watch for your poets!"

I sometimes wonder why the watch-dogs of the status quo do not spend more time watching the poets and less time watching the professors of economics and sociology.

They see far and speak with fire!

A lonely prophet challenges the obsolete in church or state or university.

We do not need to worry so much about him.

We can put him in Congress, make a Bishop of him, or elect him to the Presidency of a university, and the chances are that within a short time his nimble mind will be caught in a network of compromise, his daring will be dampened by caution, and he will be effectively conservatized by fear of failure at the next election, indictment for heresy, or loss of endowments.

But a poet is different!

Poets are notoriously poor executives; they do not work well in harness; and so we let them run loose, without the conservatizing influence we throw around most other men.

And when poets speak of human affairs, they speak to our emotions.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

A GOOD MIXER

We have to learn to get along with people. If we cannot do that we are going to be in hot water always. We won't be able to keep a job. We won't have any friends. We will be failures, for say what you will about the beauties of individualism — and there are many—this is not a one-man world. We have to live with the crowd.

That is something to consider when training children. If a little one cannot get along with its brothers and sisters it must be helped to do so. Instead of hastening to its aid at the first wail, cast a searching gaze over the situation and, while removing any threatening element such as bullying and cruel teasing, take the wail very calmly.

"Ma-ma, Billy shoved me. Mama. Billy shoved me. He did."

"He's always butting into my business. I told him to keep his hands off my work and he just went and slapped both hands on my drawing. Just look at that. I'll have to do it all over. I shoved him away and I meant it. Lucky for him he's too little to smack or he'd have got his. Make him keep off, mom, will you?"

If mother is wise she will eye the young complainant cooly and tell him that if he interferes with other folk's work he must take what is coming to him. Then mother will ask, "Where is your work? What are you doing? There's the poor old elephant standing on his head and his house not half built. Can't you make a good big house for him so that if it should rain—it does really look as though it might—the poor fellow wouldn't get wet? No? You don't want to? Well, if you have nothing you want to do you just sit here on this chair beside me. But don't talk. We are all busy."

It won't be very long before that elephant gets a house. No child wants to sit still and keep still for any length of time, and if his choice lies between that and doing something in his own field he will take his own field with alacrity.

Spoiled children cannot get along with other children and that is one reason for the term, spoiled child. Sickly children take advantage of the consideration shown them while disabled. They continue to dominate their world just as long as they are permitted to do so. Be wise about the term of convalescence and make it as short as possible. When a child is ill he is ill but when he is well again he is well. He is not to carry sickness and its habits along into health. That is a serious error. He is to be healthy in manner as well as body.

The baby is often handicapped by special privileges. "Give it to him. He is only a baby," is a very good reason for his remainingbabyish. This is no world for babies and they soon find it out. Instead of accepting the adult fact, they protest and cling to the childish habits and so are excluded. Isolated people are not successful if by success we mean happiness.

Right from the start train children to be good mixers. That means to train them to be tolerant, to be helpful, to be sympathetic, to be yielding in all except essentials. And teach them what those essentials are. The poor mixer is the one who thinks details are essentials and never gets by the stage of living when "first chance," "me first," "it's mine," are prime factors.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY OF

BATTLE OF SANTIAGO

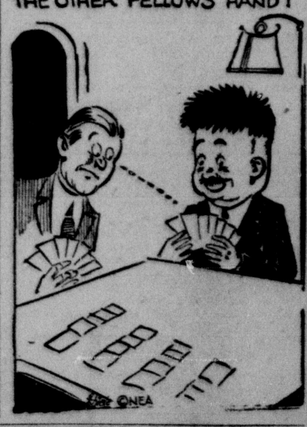

On July 3, 1898, the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera, attempting to escape from Santiago harbor, was intercepted and destroyed by the American fleet under the command of Admiral Schley. This was one of the most spectacular battles of the Spanish-American war.

Finding himself in a blockade, Cervera proposed to ram his flagship, the Teresa, into the American cruiser Brooklyn, so that his other ships would have an opportunity to break through and escape. This strategy failed for when Cervera made his dash each Spanish cruiser following him found itself confronted with an American dreadnaught.

"Thus," writes an historian, "the action resolved itself into a series of magnificent duels between powerful ironclads, metal ringing on metal, while the cannon roared, the great engines throbbed, and the air was filled by the clouds of smoke, which rushed from the overcharged boilers. The Spaniards' aim was bad, or their powder poor, for their shots went wild or fell short, while the American gunnery was excellent."

Four hours after Cervera began his dash, the last of his four cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers were destroyed, 323 of his crew were killed, 151 were wounded, and 1782 were prisoners, he being among them.

House and Senate Reach Agreement On Pension Bill

REPORT IS APPROVED ON HOUSE FLOOR

Agreement Reached After Conference of Three Hours This Morning

HOOVER WINS OUT

All Three Points Demanded By President Granted and Adjournment Near

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP) —After President Hoover had made known his insistent opposition to the World War veterans pension bill passed by the senate, congressional conferees today reached an agreement on the bill eliminating all the important senate amendments.

The conferees decided to report a full agreement to both houses embodying the house bill which was satisfactory to Mr. Hoover.

Subsequently, the house approved the conference report containing the agreement by a standing vote of 342 to 3. The report then was sent to the senate, where it is expected to be approved during the afternoon so that President Hoover may sign the bill before night and clear the way for adjournment.

House members cheered loudly when the agreement was approved.

Conference Held

The agreement followed three hours of conferences beginning with a White House breakfast attended by his Republican floor leader Watson of the senate, Senator David A. Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, in charge of the veterans' legislation, and others.

Mr. Hoover handed Watson a letter opposing provisions in the measure, passed by the senate. The president objected to the increased senate rates ranging from $20 to $60 a month, the venereal disease clause and the provision allowing veterans to get disability allowances even though they pay income taxes.

This agreement was carried immediately to the house by Chairman Johnson of the house veterans' committee.

Leaders are confident they can get the bill signed by President Hoover before night, and are hopeful of bringing the 16 month session of congress to an end shortly thereafter.

Wins All Points

Mr. Hoover won all three of his points in the agreement. The rates fixed in the bill now are those ranging from $12 to $40 a month, starting with more than one-fourth disability. Elimination of the venereal disease amendment means that no veteran can collect disability for wilful misconduct.

Veterans will be excluded from disability allowances if their private income is sufficient to pay income taxes under the other provisions accepted by the conferees.

When Watson and Reed brought the letter from the White House and read it to the conferees, the fight immediately was ended. The threat of a veto was too strong, and the various factions decided

LINGLE MURDER STILL BAFFLES CHICAGO COPS

Developments of Last Few Days Complicate Situation Somewhat

CHICAGO, July 3.—(UP)—A maze of theories and possibilities today faced police investigating the subway murder of Alfred "Jake" Lingle and the subsequent State street gun battle which was believed directly connected with the reporter's death.

Development followed development in rapid succession, and the board of strategy in charge of the Lingle case indicated that its goal was being neared, but to Chicago in general these developments only served to complicate the situation.

Developments in the case during recent hours included:

1.—Indictment of Frank Foster, under arrest in Los Angeles, on charges of murder to insure his return to Chicago, where police desire to harrass him into telling, if he knows, who owned the snub nosed pistol with which Lingle was killed. Foster has not been suspected of the killing, but the board of strategy says he was the original owner of the pistol which was dropped near Lingle's body.

2.—A declaration by Foster in California that he knows nothing about the murder and that he believes the gun is one that he says a policeman took away from him months ago.

3.—The continuation, "indefinitely to permit further investigation," of an inquest into the death of Elbert Lusader, street car motorman fatally wounded Monday night when gangsters chose the city's best lighted street to attack a policeman's auto in which Jack Zuta, notorious gangster suspect in the Lingle case, was riding.

4.—Suspension of Lieutenant George Barker, in whose car Zuta was riding and who took part in the amazing State street battle in which Lusader was killed and Olaf Svenste, also an innocent bystander, was wounded before the attacking gunmen escaped through a dense smoke screen fired from the exhaust of their auto.

5.—Issuance of an order by Judge Joseph L. McCarthy that Zuta, who disappeared during the State street fight, must appear in court July 5 to answer to a disorderly conduct charge "even if police have to bring him in an armored car filled with guards."

PRESIDENT HOOVER PLANS 3-DAY OUTING

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—President Hoover will motor to his Rapidian fish camp tomorrow for a three-day Fourth of July outing.

Mr. Hoover had hoped to leave for the camp this afternoon, but the necessity of staying in the capital to keep in touch with the closing hours of the 71st congress caused a change in his plans. There will be no fishing on this trip as the Virginia season on trout closed July 1.

Hoover Expected To Sign Harbors, Rivers Measure

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)—Presidential action on the biggest rivers and harbors bill in American history was a possibility today, it being considered likely President Hoover would sign the measure today in the event congress disposes of the World war veterans' pension bill.

The president has until Monday night to sign the rivers and harbors measure, the cost of which is estimated at from $120,000,000 to $340,000,000. Mr. Hoover has been studying certain provisions carefully, but is expected to sign the bill.

Resignation Of Huston Believed Near

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)— President Hoover has decidec to take a hand in the situation revolving around Claudius Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, and intends shortly to demand Huston's resignation, it was learned today.

When Huston called a meeting of the organization's executive committee and chairman of the senatorial and congressional campaign committees for next Monday, it was rumored that it might be for the purpose of presenting his resignation.

GOV. C. C. YOUNG TO DECIDE ON MOONEY'S CASE

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—(UP)— Gov. C. C. Young took up consideration today of the state supreme court report he will use as a basis in granting or denying pardons to Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings, serving life sentences on conviction of participating in the 1916 preparedness day bombing in San Francisco.

The governor stated he probably will announce his decision within a few days. In the meantime, the report will be kept secret, although the governor previously announced he would be guided by it in reaching a decision. The supreme court likewise maintained secrecy as to its report.

Considers Pardons

The court report, seven months in the making, was on the application of Billings for a pardon, but contained evidence which applied in both cases. The two were considered jointly by the governor. Mooney is in San Quentin, while Billings previously convicted of a felony, is in Folsom prison. The state law provides that a previously convicted felon must apply for a pardon through the supreme court, which in turn reports to the governor.

Mooney and Billings were convicted of murder in connection with the bombings and were sentenced to hang. The sentence subsequently was commuted to life imprisonment.

Nine persons died and 40 were wounded when a home-made bomb exploded in the ranks of a huge patriotic parade as it progressed up Market street, San Francisco's principal business thoroughfare in 1916.

'MR. ZERO' MARRIES NEW YORK ACTRESS

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, July 3.—(UP)—Urbian J. Ledoux, whose bread lines and free lunches have made him a nationally-known philanthropist under the nickname of "Mr. Zero," was married today to Miss Mary White, New York dramatic actress.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James J. Mullen at a nuptial mass at the little Roman Catholic church of St. Margaret's By-the-Sea.

For Miss White, long known on the stage as Mary Halibn, it was a fourth marriage.

It was Ledoux's second marriage. His first wife died.

Though "Mr. Zero" is most famous for his philanthropic work in New York's Bowery, his activities in behalf of the "down-and-outers" have extended elsewhere. Several years ago he created a sensation by auctioning off unemployed "slaves" on Boston Common.

OCEAN FLIERS LEAVE CHICAGO FOR SALT LAKE

Crew of Southern Cross to Arrive in Oakland at Noon July Fourth

CHICAGO, July 3.—(UP)—The Southern Cross, conqueror of the Atlantic and the Pacific, roared out of Chicago today toward the west coast, where two years of aerial globe trotting will end for Lieutenant Colonel Kingsford-Smith, her pilot.

Manned by the same crew which recently made history's first crossing of the Atlantic by airplane and Ireland to the mainland of America, the Southern Cross left Curtiss Wright Reynolds airport at 6:45 a. m., C. S. T., for Salt Lake City after Kingsford-Smith and his two companions had stopped here overnight on their two-stop flight across the continent.

200 Wave Farewell

A crowd of about 200 persons waved farewell to the aviators as they soared into the west. Good weather was reported all the way to Salt Lake City, where they will stop tonight before continuing on to California.

In accordance with the wishes of Lieutenant Colonel Kingsford-Smith, who asked for refuge here for the night from handshaking and ballyhoo, the welcome which Chicago extended to the fliers during their stopoff was a quiet one.

Gets Promotion

The lieutenant colonel, who just received notice yesterday of his promotion to that rank from major, and his companions in the Southern Cross were met by an escort of planes as they neared the city. They flew to Sky Harbor Airport and dipped a salute to the endurance record smashing plane City of Chicago, then landed at Curtiss Wright Field, where they were greeted by a crowd of about 5,000 shouting admirers.

As the Southern Cross landed, Kingsford-Smith was handed a cablegram which had been trailing him about the country. It was from Lord Stonehaven, governor

EXPECT VOTE ON DRY FUND BY NIGHTFALL

Hoover's Plea for $250,000 Instead of $50,000 To Be Given Approval

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(UP)— The senate began consideration of the house proposal to increase appropriations for President Hoover's law enforcement commission from $50,000 to $250,000 today with a speech by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, who declared the commission made "a great mistake" by investigating secretly.

Norris said, however, he would support the proposal for $250,000 because he hoped a "great good" would come from the investigation.

Conferees on the deficiency bill agreed on all items in the measure today except the law enforcement commission's appropriation leaving the decision to the senate. The house approved the $250,000 fund yesterday and voted to remove the senate restrictions that the money could be used only for prohibition investigation. The senate voted $50,000 originally.

MOTHERS TO PICKET SPEAKEASY MONDAY

NEW YORK, July 3.—(UP)—Mothers of St. Albans, Queens, having carried their fight against an alleged local speakeasy through city and federal authorities to President Hoover himself, made plans today to picket the place Monday unless it is closed.

The establishment is on the main street of St. Albans and within 100 feet of the public school. Mrs. Gilbert A. Wicks, president-elect of the Parent-Teacher association of the school told the United Press, St. Albans is on Long Island and is a part of New York City.

Placards proclaiming, "this is a speakeasy which the United States government will not or cannot close," will be printed, Mrs. Wicks said. On Monday, the women plan to take turns on picket duty outside.

No Indication When Crew Is Coming Down

Brothers in Notes to Field Reveal Their Anger to Kinfolk Below

CHICAGO, July 3.—(UP)—The flying Hunters stopped strumming their ukulele today, and began firing a series of notes to the tune of Sky Harbor airport, begging the ground crew to help them maintain harmony.

At 5:30 p. m., C.D.T., the plane had been in the air 529 hours.

Getting Sleepy

In a humorous vein, so those on the ground thought, John said "Beans" (Kenneth) was getting sleepy and wanted to come down.

Kenneth, however, according to a scrawled, lengthy message from John today, did not take it in that spirit, and protested.

The result was an appeal to the ground crew to censor flight information and keep Kenneth in a good humor. The note was addressed to "Walt and Al." Walter and Albert are the brothers who fly the refueler.

"Read this yourselves. Who in blazes put that slush in the papers about 'Beans' being worried and nervous. Whoever done it had little to do after cracking this ship night and day trying to bring the record to Chicago. Then somebody put that line of slush in the paper.

"Can't I write a thing to you guys without it getting in the papers?

Want it Stopped

"I only told that he was hard to wake up, and so am I. This caused plenty of trouble between me and him. He came near jumping out in a chute, and it wouldn't take a lot to make me do the same. Now I want this corrected or this ship may land quick. We want this stuff stopped."

The note was the first real indication that all was not harmonious aboard the City of Chicago.

A note yesterday indicated John and Kenneth disagreed on how long to stay up, but it was in an amiable vein.

The Hunters have not been seen to play their ukulele for more than a day and their only entertainment has been reading the newspapers, and listening to a radio.

SEARCHING FOR ALLEGED MURDERER

SACRAMENTO, July 3. — (UP) —A widespread search was under way today for Rex S. Baxter, 45, Roseville rancher, who yesterday shot to death Mrs. Margaret Carrigan, 37, Sacramento widow, in her apartment.

Baxter's automobile, with a 12-gauge shotgun in it, was found alongside the railroad tracks last night. Police believe that Baxter, an ex-convict, caught a freight train from the east.

The first signs that the murder had been premeditated were found by detectives who visited the Roseville ranch where Baxter worked. They discovered papers, showing him to be a paroled convict from Oklahoma, where he was charged with murder and pleaded self-defense.

Governors On Tour Of Utah Parks

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 3.—(UP) — Southern Utah lent its native mountain beauty to sightseeing state executives today as delegates to the 22nd annual national Governors' conference put aside their business cares.

Planners of the conference had decided that the week should be divided, half in work and half in play. With the former out of the way late yesterday, the entire group boarded a special train and left for a tour of mountain parks.

POLICE BREAK UP MEETING OF 2000 STRIKERS

Fisher Body Employes Attempt Demonstration But Are Halted

FLINT, Mich, July 3.—(UP)— Efforts of striking employes of the Fisher body company here to demonstrate before the Fisher factory were blocked today by state troopers and police.

The officers used their clubs to break up the demonstration, in which nearly 2,000 strikers took part. One man was reported knocked down. The skirmish between state troopers and the strikers was preceded by a clash with local police.

Today's activities followed a raid last night on the strikers' headquarters, Dixie Hall, where four men were arrested. Police charged they were Communist agitators. In all leven men and two women have been arrested.

This morning a group of strikers gathered outside the Fisher plant and jeered as 300 of their former fellow workmen passed through the gates. Then they began a parade back and forth before the plant until troopers broke up their ranks. The workers claim they are striking because their wages have been reduced 40 and 50 per cent. Efforts to induce workers at the Buick plant to walk out in sympathy so far have not met with success. At the A. C. Spark Plug factory, however, a number of women employes left their jobs in sympathy.

REFORMATORY FIRE IMPERILS CONVICTS

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 3.—(UP) —Three work shops of the Kentucky state reformatory and two residences outside its walls were in ruins today after fire, thought to have started from sparks from a passing locomotive, swept through the prison, imperilling the lives of 500 convicts and causing damage estimated at $200,000.

The fire started in a broom factory and spread to two other shops and the two residences before apparatus from Frankfort, Lexington, and Louisville succeeded in putting it out. The 500 convicts, at work inside the broom factory aided firemen. No one was reported injured.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT NEAR CALCUTTA

CALCUTTA, India, July 3.—(UP) —Nine violent earth shocks were felt in the Asam area of Bengal today, beginning at 3 a. m. Several persons were injured.

The inhabitants ran into the streets in their night clothes and spent the rest of the night in the open air, most of them gathered in a downtown park. The seismograph of Calcutta was broken.

ROY GEORGE RESIGNS AS SECRETARY

NO DIVIDEND IS PAID

VERIFYING FACTS revealed by The Register, members of the board of directors of the Federal Finance company, in a special stockholders' meeting yesterday, said the loss suffered by the company through the W. W. Ross swindle amounted to $178,000 or more.

Further developments revealed were the resignation of W. Roy George as secretary and its acceptance by the board; the suffering of a loss of 20 per cent by the common stockholders; admission by the board that they had criticised and rebuked W. Roy George and J. A. George for permitting Ross to put over fraudulent transactions; that the George brothers had been injudicious in placing personal monies on loans going through the office.

West Appears

Z. B. West, district attorney, appeared before the board and revealed certain contents of a reputed confession made to him by Ross, (the same confession he refused to divulge to the people of Orange county, who elected him), admitting that W. Roy George had knowledge of the fact that some of the deals were irregular. Despite this, West declared that an investigation made by him disclosed that W. Roy George had done nothing of a criminal nature.

Nels Edwards, president of the Federal Finance company verified the fact that Ross and W. Roy George had a joint bank account in Los Angeles and dealt in stocks.

The loss sustained by the finance company was the result of 20 bogus sales contracts put over by Ross in a period of approximately eight months. The loss of $178,000, admitted by the stockholders, may be increased.

B. V. Curry, who has been checking up the books since the Ross scandal broke, may be elected to succeed W. Roy George in the near future.

J. A. George Retained

J. A. George will remain with the company as manager.

Dividends on preferred and common stock was passed over for July 1, 1930.

The report of the directors revealed that the two George boys had placed 322 shares of stock of the company in trust to be distributed to purchasers of recent issues in order to equalize their investment with that of other stockholders.

Reconstruction of the capital structure of the company, with assets of $1,318,220.10, will make it possible for the company to resume dividend payments by the first of next year.

In a statement by the board of directors, read by B. V. Curry, announced as auditor of the com-

POLICE SEEK FOUR MEN IN KIDNAPING

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., July 3. —(UP)—Police sought four men here today upon report of an early morning kidnaping under circumstances which led them to believe the victim may have been "taken for a ride."

The search started when Mrs. V. R. Nimms, of West Hollywood, reported that she and a companion saw a man attacked and taken away in a machine.

Three assailants overpowered the victim, slugged and bound him and then fled in an automobile driven by a fourth companion, the woman said.

HOUSE, SENATE AGREE TO PASS PENSION BILL

they would have to accept the president's views if they wanted to get a bill through.

The president explained that the bill as passed by the house was in itself a generous national action, based upon sound principles, and except for some minor technical points met the entire approval of both the American Legion and the veterans of foreign wars. These two organizations, Mr. Hoover said, opposed the senate amendments.

Unwarranted Burdens

These amendments, Mr. Hoover declared, "again re-establish injustices and discriminations between veterans, impose unwarranted burdens on the taxpayer and perpetuate entirely wrong principles in such legislation."

"For instance under these amendments the average allowance to veterans whose disabilities were incurred in civil life subsequent to the war will work out very close to the same average payments as that given to veterans who actually suffered from battle and in the trenches. This is an injustice both to the men who suffered from the war and to the public.

"The amendments reverse the house action limiting allowances to men who are exempt from income tax. From this removal of the indication of necessity, a wealthy veteran, if he becomes permanently disabled either partially or wholly as the result of an automobile accident next week, may draw a life allowance from the U. S. treasury.

in the commission's work," Norris said. "I was disappointed because it has been acting secretly. They made a great mistake. There is nothing in prohibition enforcement or judicial procedure that should be hidden from the public.

"The ultimate result of the secrecy will be that the commission's recommendations will lose much force and effect. It will be much harder to get the recommendation adopted."

Norris said he agreed with Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, that the senate originally intended the commission to confine itself to prohibition but that he had been pleased when the scope of the inquiry had been widened to other laws because the other work was "very much needed."

"It is my belief," he said, "that the judicial procedure in this country has not kept pace with the world's civilization."

Informal Ceremonies

Major Reed Landis headed the committee which extended Chicago's official greeting to Kingsford-Smith and his companions, Evert Van Dyk, co-pilot; Capt. J. Patrick Saul of the Irish Free State, navigator, and John W. Stanage, young radio operator.

The welcoming ceremonies were informal and the fliers left the field soon for a downtown hotel, where they bathed, dined, talked with notables, gave short radio addresses and retired early to rest for their early departure today toward the west and the end of the trail that has taken the Southern Cross around the world during the last two years.

Kingsford-Smith said last night that "because there are no more oceans to cross" he probably will not attempt any more long flights.

Working of giving the Fox West Coast theater a complete renovation so far as the acoustics are concerned, was completed today, making the theater's all-talking picture production almost 40 per cent better than heretofore. The work was done by George W. Young, local contractor.

The secret of the new treatment given the theater, which improves the sound throughout, is a new type of plaster that has been placed throughout the interior.

The work has been done chiefly at night after the final show, and early in the mornings. A distinctive difference is noted in the manner in which talking pictures are now received in the theater.

pany, it was revealed tha tthe first intimation company officials had of the possibility of Ross being a crook came in an anonymous communication from Newark, N. J., warning them to look out for him, as he had operated there some 10 years ago under the name of L. L. Brown. When Ross was apprehended in the Canadian city, he was going under the name of Louis Brown.

Ross Questioned

Following receipt of the letter, officials of the company called Ross into the office for a conference and upon statements he made he and J. A. George spent more than a day in the vicinity of Los Angeles attempting to locate a man by the name of D. A. Craemer, whose name appeared on many of the pink slips which Ross presented to secure money from the company on purported sales of Moreland trucks. Ross finally admitted that the name was fictitious and George went to the factory of the Moreland Truck company for further investigation, investigations which revealed that the company had not manufactured trucks with numbers given in the pink certificates.

Ross declared his ability to raise finances to square accounts with the company and did make an advance of securities and checks that later proved to be of questionable value. Included in the securities were 50 shares of the Federal Finance company which were pledged to the Bank of Italy.

The statement revealed that known losses of $178,022.49 had been sustained by the company on 20 bogus truck sales contracts. It may be that the company will have to take a further loss, depending on the outcome of litigation involving securities, properties and other assets of the defrauding truck dealer.

Without stating the reason for the resignation, the directors disclosed that Roy George had resigned as secretary of the company and that the same had been accepted, to become effective July 2.

West said that in his confession to him Ross had exonerated from complicity in his transactions all officials of the company, except that he had declared that Roy George had knowledge of the fact that some of his deals were irregular.

"I have been criticized in not making the confession public," West said. "In my opinion it would have been manifestly unfair to have revealed the name of the man implicated without making an investigation to substantiate the statement of Ross."

West said checks received by Roy George from Ross involved less than $300 and that they were regular in every way.

Deliberate Plan

Judge R. Y. Williams, employed as special counsel to assist in straightening out the dealings with Ross, declared his belief that Ross came here with the deliberate intention of putting over his program of shady deals, and asserted his belief that Ross had accomplices outside of Santa Ana and Orange county. He also said that he believed Ross had "salted" a goodly portion of the money he procured by his transactions.

"We have found no evidence whatever of complicity within the organization," Williams said, and he added that the situation had developed by reason of too much confidence in Ross.

The final action of the meeting was to vote approval of a resolution reorganizing the capital structure of the company and passing a vote of confidence in the board of directors.

Under the reorganization the company has resources of $1,318,222.10, and, in the opinion of officers, will be in position to resume the payment of dividends on January 1, 1931. Common stockholders will suffer a loss of 20 per cent of their stock, virtually the amount they received recently in a stock dividend declared by the company. Through surrenders by the holders of common stock the issued shares of common stock will be reduced from 7912 shares to 6329 shares. By resolution, the authorized issue of 15,000 shares of common stock was reduced to 12,000 shares.

VAN BARON FOUND GUILTY BY JURORS

George Van Baron was found guilty yesterday by a jury in Judge James L. Allen's court on a charge of forgery. At his arraignment on the charge, Van Baron pleaded not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity. The jury passed on both pleas, finding him guilty of the crime with which he was charged and with being sane at the time he committed the crime.

Van Baron, according to testimony, passed a worthless check for $36 at the Stevens-Van Englen store in Anaheim. The check was drawn on Santa Ana Iron works, a check from the Santa Ana Commercial National bank of Santa Ana being used.

Evidence was introduced showing the iron works never had carried an account in that bank and that Van Baron told officers that he purchased the check in Los Angeles for $10. It was one of 10 he bought, for which he said he paid a total of $100. All of the checks, recovered at the time of the arrest of Van Baron, were made out and signed.

The information on the assault was filed by Mrs. Fernandez following an argument at the home yesterday afternoon and charged the defendant with an attempt to inflict violent injury on his wife.

To The Citizens of Orange County

The People's League, which has just been formed in Orange County, is an attempt to give expression to the desire on the part of the citizens of the county to have a greater knowledge of what officials are doing; a greater knowledge of why they are doing it, and the desire to have officials who typify the proper spirit of government by the people in office,—officials who are sensitive to the needs and rights of the citizens; upholding the cause of the weak against the exaltation of the strong; against the use of public office for private gain, either through contracts, utilization or special favors; for the election of officials who recognize that they are servants and not bosses of the people; for the election of men who believe in the Constitution and the law; who believe that America stands for law observation by all citizens, the rich, powerful and distinguished as well as the poor, weak and obscure; for men for public office who themselves obey the law and insist on its being conformed to by others.

The People's League believes that the ideals of the Church, the Sunday School, and Temperance organizations are just as much a part of America's purpose as the wishes of politicians, and infinitely more than those of the Profiteer, Racketeer and the Bootlegger.

To give effective expression in political action to the demands of citizens of Orange County who are in harmony with the above, the People's League therefor has been called into being.

It invites all citizens in sympathy with those purposes to become members of the League. To gather information and disseminate it to the citizens without fear or favor is its task. This imposes a heavy burden on the organization both morally and financially. Advertising, postage, office rent and clerks cost money, but the cause is worth it. It must receive its support from those whom it serves.

It is asking therefore, all who are in sympathy with it to send $1.00 at least as a membership fee. Send as much more as you can afford.

It is your fight. All the League can do is to help you. Aid us in doing this.

The People's League has opened offices at 228 Spurgeon Building, 4th and Sycamore Streets, Santa Ana, where you will be welcome. It is your office, where you can receive information and impart it.

Executive Director,

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Ah, the romance of the unfulfilled! Do not think I am jesting. I know how your hopes seem shattered and your joys at an end, and how you are tempted to look longingly backward instead of on ahead. I know.

But think of what is ahead, even if it is not to be just as you had envisioned it. The joy of your dear one in Paradise is strangely dependent upon the spirit with which you undertake to do your duty bravely and well. You are going to find an almost fierce joy in doing your best for her sake. It will mean more and more to you as the days go by.

Then think of the realization of all your dreams, when you join her in Paradise and are not ashamed. Yes, there is power to be had from looking ahead.

COCHEMS ACTS AS CHANCELLOR FOR PYTHIANS

Edward W. Cochems officiated as acting chancellor commander during the absence of Chancellor Ross Howe last night at the regular session of Knights of Pythias lodge, No. 149, Howe left for Boulder Dam, Colo., some time ago, where he will remain until his health improves.

Plans were formulated for a picnic to be held soon after the Fourth of July. It is believed that Lido Isle will be the destination of the group, in place of Irvine park, where the annual picnic has been held for the past seven years. This gathering will be under the auspices of the district council No. 35, Knights of Pythias of the Southland, including Orange county exclusively, according to the new division of the councils. Lodges included in this group are Santa Ana, Brea, Fullerton, Tustin and Anaheim.

These district council meetings are held the first Friday of every month, and serve as the clearing house of Pythianism. As district deputy of council No. 35, at all state affairs, is John Kaiser, while Al Holford, formerly a member of Tustin order, but now of Santa Ana, has been elected as president of the group. Ray N. Bullock, keeper of records and seals, and Charles B. Weber, treasurer, have been chosen as delegates.

Preceding the meeting, members were guests at a delightful pot-luck dinner planned by the Pythian Sisters auxiliary.

FORESTRY BODY HOLDS MEETING IN SANTA ANA

Giving a comprehensive survey of the forest conditions of Orange county and the protective measures already in force and contemplated, the Orange County Forest Protective association met last night for a dinner meeting at Ketner's cafe.

John Ragan, president, presided over the session. Roland D. Flaherty, secretary, was first on the program with his report, illustrating with a map the work being done in the county and proposed fire breaks and roads to be built. He lauded the construction crews for their efficiency and pointed to the motorways built on the mountain ridges as proof. He covered the feasibility of replanting burned over land and stressed the fact that people starting fires are liable for arrest. He urged that packing houses be asked to co-operate in time of fire.

Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, spoke on "Forest Protection Plans of Orange County Board of Supervisors" and pointed out on the map the great strides being made in protective work. He said that the first work was done in 1912, when trails to the mountain tops were built to allow men to reach the fires. The water companies put up the money but the work stopped during the war. Tractors and graders were used next and the latest methods were made available when the supervisors bought a tractor two years ago.

Since the state forestry department took over the forests on July 1, the county is trying to get an appropriation and, together with federal and county aid, plans extensive improvement in the forest system. Smith also stated that Orange county assisted with the work in San Bernardino county because the watersheds there affected the local water supply. He told of plans to construct a road from near Glenn Ivy up the Riverside side of the mountain through McBride canyon and also of the motorway from the north to the south of the range, which is 24 miles long now. Work will be started at once in extending it 25 more miles to the southern boundary line.

Joe Sherman, state forest ranger for Orange county, told of his work in organizing the county fire fighting and protective measures. He was granted permission to relocate the fire equipment boxes and to equip a 50-man outfit in Santa Ana or Orange.

He told in detail how all county tools had been marked, and outlined how the pumping trucks of Southern California could be reached in case of a fire in this section. It was brought out that there were over 100 miles of firebreaks in the county, mostly in the northern part.

W. M. Cory, acting farm advisor, gave a short talk on reforestation and told of the work 40 years ago in reforesting some land south of Irvine park. He suggested using county prisoners for the work.

Ragan was authorized to appoint a committee to interview the leading oil companies of the county to see if private donations could be secured to match the state appropriations. Charles Logan, of Tustin, was appointed a director to the Orange County Farm bureau.

GIRL RESERVES CONFERENCE AT ASILOMAR ENDS

With a young Los Angeles girl developing a case of infantile paralysis while attending the 10 day Girl Reserves conference opening at Asilomar this week, the conference was called off and all meetings and lecture engagements in connection were cancelled, according to word reaching the Register today.

Approximately 300 high school girls from all parts of California were assembled for the conference. Four Santa Ana girls, with their advisor, Miss Dorothy Cartwright of the local Y. W. C. A., were among those attending. They were Miss Mary Helen Bell, Miss Betty Paul, Miss Ruth Owens and Miss Doris Bolles. All were expected to arrive in this city late today.

The conference was to have continued for 10 days, with a special celebration scheduled for the national holiday, when girls attending who had birthdays in the interval, were to be made honor guests at a patriotic luncheon. Miss Cartwright presided over the first bonfire conference, held Monday night in the Girl Reserves bowl on the grounds.

It is believed that the cancelling of the Girl Reserves conference will not affect other summer activities at Asilomar, as most of them are arranged for adult attendance.

WESTMINSTER

The June report of the custodian of the Westminster county branch library, Mrs. H. B. Anderson, shows a total of 1288 books and 59 magazines checked out from the library for the month.

A new minister is to be in charge of the Westminster Mexican Methodist church the coming year. The new pastor is the Rev. Antonio Jimenez at present located at Anaheim and the retiring local pastor, the Rev. Pete Robles, has been sent by the conference to Calexico. He asked for a change to a warmer climate on account of health conditions of several members of his family.

The new pastor has been ill for some time and he is now on vacation in an effort to regain his health and it is probable that substitute ministers will supply the local pulpit for the time of his absence.

DAIRY CONCERN SHAREHOLDERS GET NEW STOCK

Shares of stock are still being exchanged by stockholders of the Excelsior Creamery company, ltd., following the reorganization of the corporation, it was learned today from D. G. Tidball, secretary.

A resolution was passed at the last directors meeting authorizing the issuance of stock under a new plan and each stockholder is now requested to turn in the old stock and receive the new certificates in exchange. Ranch properties owned by the Excelsior Creamery company were organized into a corporation known as the Excelsior Ranch company, ltd. The Excelsior Creamery company, ltd., accepts in exchange for the ranch assets, 9993 shares of no par value common stock of the Excelsior Ranch company, ltd.

The issuing of both the Excelsior Creamery company, ltd., and the Excelsior Ranch company, ltd., stock resulted in a fractional share to each stockholder. The resolution authorized the secretary to act as a clearing house to eliminate the fractional shares.

WHITTIER AND ANAHEIM WILL PLAY TONIGHT

Stating taht it would be impossible for him to put on the field a representative team because of the holiday, Lyle Richards, Orange manager, late today strenuously objected to playing a National league night baseball game in the Bowl here tomorrow night with Santa Ana.

Local officials said it would be impossible for them to play on any other night until after the season is completed, and declared they would have a team in the Bowl ready for action or a forfeit, one or the other.

Whether night baseball has more "it" than a moonlight holiday at the beach will be tested here tomorrow when Santa Ana's brightly shining Stars strike for their sixth straight victory at the expense of Llye Richards' Orange team.

A conflict in dates with the Santa Ana City league, which has possession of the Bowl every night but Thursdays and Fridays, and a disinclination of the Stars' management to delay until late in the season one of its big games are the reasons why the affair will be run off as scheduled on the Fourth of July.

It is true, too, that some of the closest followers of the sport are confident that night ball will draw as well on a holiday as any other. They assert that theaters always play to capacity houses on the Fourth of July, Labor Day and other "beach days," and that baseball will lure its share of the amusement seekers also.

Home Team Has Bulge

Orange at first argued against a holiday date but gave in when there was nothing left for it to do but play or forfeit. The National Night league schedule calls for the game to be held here July 4, and in baseball the home team has the bulge in problems of time and place.

All the other teams have steered clear of Friday, however.

Whittier, undisputed champion of the first half of the split schedule, and the dangerous Anaheim Valencias, still very much in the pennant scramble, collide at Anaheim tonight instead of tomorrow.

La Habra, Santa Ana's closest competitor so far this half, will appear against the Olive Packers at Olive tonight. This will be the last game for the Violet Rays before their crucial combat with Santa Ana at La Habra next Tuesday night.

Garden Grove and Long Beach have decided to postpone their turmoil until August 19, the first Tuesday after the completion of the whole schedule. If either team is then in the race that game should be the cynosure of all eyes. It is booked for Long Beach's park. If neither club has a chance to win at that time the affair probably will be called off altogether.

Score 41 Runs In 6 Games

The Stars really have won six in a row already but they started their current winning streak the last night of the first half so that victory does not count on their present string.

In winning these six games, they have limited their opponents to a total of six runs, an average of exactly one a game, while accumulating 41, an average of nearly seven.

In many respects the club is offering the finest ball of its life. Certainly Manager Herb Salveson has more reserve strength at his disposal than there ever has been here before. Bill Hunter, former Riverside third sacker, can fit in anywhere in the infield while Randolph Bell, playing the best ball of his career, adds powerful utility force to the outfield.

The mound staff may not be as great a s it was last year when Glenn Stockridge and Joe Ochoa used to "two-time" the enemy but Joe Cornelius, who pitches with as much knowledge and skill as either of the departed aces, has been able to repeat Stockbridge's "iron man" stunts of 1928 with amazing success so far.

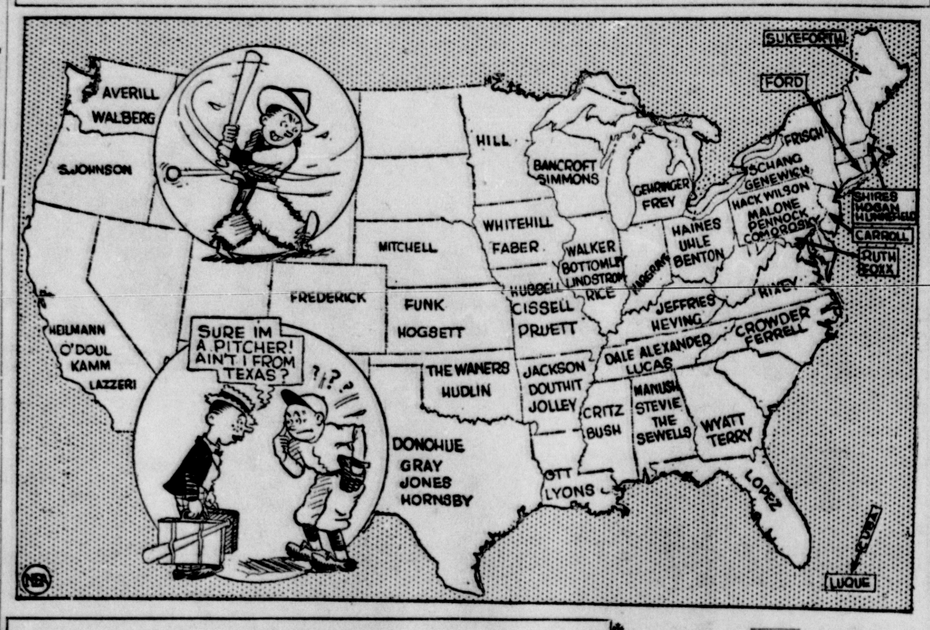

Price May Face Orangemen

Ray Price, who has done well whenever given an opportunity, and Gene Hitt, who has not yet appeared in a Santa Ana game, are able relief gunners.

BIG LEAGUE IVORY IS FOUND EVERYWHERE

Major league baseball scouts travel far and wide in quest of talent for in no particular spot are the Cobbs and Ruths to be found. Almost every state in the union has contributed its share of ivory to the big tent, as the map below reveals.

RUTH LOSES FINGERNAIL AND MAY BE OUT OF YANK LINEUP

NEW YORK, July 3.—Babe Ruth had 31 home runs today and was 22 days and 22 games ahead of his 1927 schedule, but he was minus a finger nail and may be out of the game for several days.

He hit homer No. 31 yesterday off "Dutch" Henry, Chicago White Sox southpaw in the first game of a double-header, but he ripped the nail on the right finger of his left hand on a wire screen when he went after the second of Carl Reynolds three successive homers in the second game.

He was forced out of the line-up and later the entire nail had to be removed.

WALSH DOUBTS JONES TO WIN NATIONAL OPEN

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 3.—His not to dally in the effulgence of a nation's homage. His only to receive the deference due a conqueror and hasten away to conquer again, Bobby Jones will be off to the wars once more before nightfall today, his face set toward Minneapolis and a greater test than any he yet has experienced, the national open golf championship.

Jones was the toast of the nation, indeed, yesterday as he came home with the British amateur and open championships to receive a welcome that is echoing in his ears at this moment.

But today grim reality has come with the cold light of morning. Yesterday's cheers are drowned in the tumult of tomorrow's worries. It is the penalty of fame that a hero must remain heroic to the end and so Jones is forced to turn his back on acclaim and set forth for Interlachen and—what?

Bobby Jones

Personally, I suspect that he is going out to meet his first defeat of a great year. This is mere opinion and, therefore, no less worthless than the average opinion seems to be.

Jones arrived here, sun-tanned and almost aggressively healthy. He hadn't lost his golf clubs, as alleged. He hadn't been ill, as suggested by scarehead cables. He was and will remain the greatest golfer this bunker-crazed old world has known and probably will know. But this comes pretty close to being the year for him to lose the national open championship. It isn't in the books for Jones to win at Interlachen.

Jones simply has won more than his share of honors, even for a man whose golf is almost foolproof. He has been under a strain the like of which would give a pack mule nervous prostration. Within a period of three weeks, he won the British amateur and the British open championships, with barely a breating spell between. He already has achieved a miracle. It is asking too much to expect him to parlay this amazing performance into something that would savor of competitive sorcery.

Human frailty being what it is, Jones is overdue for the inevitable reaction. And the field he will face at Interlachen must be potentially stronger, more menacing for the addition of Hagen, Farrell, Sarazen, Densmore Shute and others than was the conquered list at Hoylake. If Jones wins this one, after all the winning he has done, there simply will be nothing for it but to take the old oaken, moss-covered law of averages and hurl it violently out on the rear areaway.

SAMMY BAKER'S CONDITION IS STILL SERIOUS

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—Sergeant Sammy Baker, veteran fighter who collapsed in the 12th round of a bout with Joe Gans here last night recovered from his injuries today and was released from the hospital.

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—The condition of Sergeant Sammy Baker, veteran New York fighter who collapsed in the 12th round of his bout with Baby Joe Gans, Negro welterweight, here last night, remained serious today.

Doctors were unable to diagnose his injury. X-ray pictures intended to show whether he had suffered a fractured skull were to be taken today.

Dr. Joseph Kocar, of the Newburgh Heights boxing commission, after a preliminary examination, said he feared the fighter may have suffered a hemorrhage of the brain.

Only a few minutes before the fight was to end, 4000 spectators at Taylor bowl saw Baker suddenly stagger and fall. His opponent had not landed a hard blow for some time, and he apparently collapsed from an injury received earlier in the fight.

He staggered to his feet as the referee's count reached nine, only to go down again before a terrific onslaught of rights and lefts. This time he stayed down for the full count.

The refree lifted Gans' hand. The crowd cheered, and then went suddenly quiet as Sammy failed to rise.

Anapauma Rancho Plays Hemet Club Here Tomorrow

D. Eyman Huff's Anapauma Rancho baseball team will meet the Hemet Reds, fast inland organization, at the Orange County Fair grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Game-time will be 2:15.

Hemet is a member of the Riverside-San Bernardino county league and has been defeated in official competition only once this season.

The Anapaumas also have a game scheduled at the Fair grounds Sunday. They will play a team from Los Angeles.

BY CLAIRE BURCKY
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

We look to Iowa for our tall corn—Wisconsin comes through with the cheese—Cape Cod for cranberries—and the guy that named baseball the great national pastime spoke words of truth. The major leagues today have chosen approximately 400 ball players from 36 states and the District of Columbia. Even Canada and Cuba are represented.

Illinois could place on the field a team with pennant-contending class. So could Pennsylvania and California and Alabama. Texas and North Carolina go in strongly for pitchers—so strongly, in fact, that a young hurling prospect nowadays almost has to hail from those states to be assured of a fair tryout.

Illinois vs. Pennsylvania

A team of Illinoisans, whose lineup and batting order might read Swanson cf, Rice rf, Lindstrom 3b, Bottomley 1b, McManus 2b, Schulte lf, Bartell ss, O'Farrell c and Ruffing p, ought to have a battle on its hands in competition with a Pennsylvania group made up of Adams 2b, Heathcote lf, Comorosky rf, Hack Wilson cf, Bressler 1b, Bell 3b, Boley ss, Jim Wilson c and Malone p. And if they wanted to send left-handers to the mound, Illinois could call on Bill Walker and Herb Pennock could do the job for the Quakers.

Seventeen big leaguers from California give that state third ranking to Pennsylvania with 20 famous sons and Illinois with 19. Out of Texas have come 16, New York provided 13 and Ohio an even dozen. Massachusetts, Alabama, Tennessee, Missouri, Indiana, New Jersey and North Carolina have sent up more than half a dozen apiece.

Those Tar Heel Pitchers

Explain, if you can, the fact that six of the Tar Heel state's most famous ball players are Garland Braxton, Alvin Crowder, Wes Ferrell, Jakie May, Vic Sorrell and Tom Zachary, all good pitchers. Texas also is top-heavy with hurlers, having Benge, Brown, Collins, Donohue, Gray, Jones, Marberry, Russell and Shores. As is the case with California, too, they don't believe in raising their boys to become catchers. That job apparently has been left to New York, who obligingly provided Bengough, Berg, Picinich and Schang.

Among the sons of Hoosierland, not one is an infielder. Carl Hubbell of no-hit fame and Hub Pruett get all the pitching glory Missouri can muster. Maryland points with pride to her home run twins, Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx, while her pitching glory rests in the talented arms of "Lefty" Grove, Alphonse Thomas and Eddie Rommel.

JULY 4 TOURNEY AT S. A. CLUB PLANNED

Santa Ana Country club golfers will have their annual medal play Fourth of July tournament tomorrow, with the "fireworks" scheduled for all day.

Engraved silver cups will be awarded low net winners both in Class A and Class B divisions.

In match play yesterday, J. W. Beach won with even figures. J. K. McDonald, one down, was second. Dr. W. S. Wallace and Dr. John Ball were next, five down.

PRINTERS LEAD RACE FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

If he cared to so publicize the feat, Caryle Dennis could go to work in his little printery today and run off a placard which would read something like this: "Dennis Printers Again Lead Race for Santa Ana City League Night Baseball Championship."

For by beating the Eastern Oil company, 3 to 2, although limited to one safe hit by Pitcher Eddie Cox, the Printers went back into first place in the Bowl last night.

Their advantage is purely a mathematical one because the Orange County Builders' exchange can share the position with them if it humbles Peek's market in the second game of tonight's doubleheader. If the tailenders upset the dope, however, the Dennis machine will have undisputed possession of the lead as the last week of the first half swings under way.

Cox pitched topnotch baseball against the Printers and deserved to win. His teammates collected eight bingles off Bill Humphrey, the league-leaders' gunner, but Humphrey was frugal when hits meant runs and his support was flossy, too.

R. White hit safely to open the Dennis half of the first inning and his was the only safety scored off Cox. White made the rounds again in the sixth, as did Lutz, and their counters meant the ball game.

AMERICAN LEGION BEATS CLUBMEN, 8-2

The Auto Club of Orange County made only passive resistance to the American Legion in the forepart of last night's double-header, the Legionnaires winning about as they pleased, 8-2.

Earl Jones stopped the Clubmen in their tracks until the seventh when he eased up back of an eight-run lead and allowed a couple of runs to filter across the rubber. Jones gave the Club only five hits, three of them were grouped in the final spasm.

Fred Robertson led the Legion's assault with three hits for four. Muckenthaler, Gibson and Boyle all had two bingles.

WOMEN PLAYERS IN FIRST NET MATCHES

Women tennis players had their first innings in the Santa Ana summer playground round-robin tournament on the high school courts yesterday.

Mrs. Ward won from Louise Rurup, 6-1, 6-1, and Regina Davault defeated Betty Dunton, 6-1, 6-0. Helen Bower was leading Barbara Rurup 12-10 in the first set when darkness necessitated a postponement until tomorrow. May Magg was unmatched and will play her first match next week when it is hoped more women contestants will appear.

G. G. Smith won a Class B match from W. A. Egger, 6-0, 6-0, and Verl Moyer captured a "D" tussle from John Davis, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Play tomorrow, July 4, will be at the option of the individual players, according to Tournament Director Merle Ewell.

ALLISON LOSES MIXED DOUBLES AT WIMBLEDON

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 3. — Jack Crawford of Australia, and Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, defeated Wilmer Allison and Miss Edith Cross, United States, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3 to enter the semi-final round of the mixed doubles in the British championships here today.

In the quarter final round of the women's doubles, Mlle. Josane Sigart, Belgium, and Mme. Henrotin, France, defeated Mme. Rene Mathieu and Mlle. S. Barbier, both of France, 6-2, 6-2. They will next meet Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan, American team, in the semi-final round.

Daniel Prenn and Fraulein H. Krahwinkel, German doubles team, defeated Eric Peters and Mrs. J. B. Pittman, England, 6-1, 6-4, and entered the semi-final round.

Tilden, Timmer Defeated

Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, the great French doubles combination, won over William T. Tilden and Hans Timmer, Holland, in a semi-final match by scores of 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Allison's defeat in the mixed doubles relieved him of the strain of having to play in three events against the stiffest opponents. The Wimbledon authorities are, however, preparing to extend the tournament over to Monday to permit him to regain his strength, unless he and John Van Ryn are eliminated before the final round of the men's doubles which they won last year.

Notables Watch Play

The center court was crowded, among the notables present being Prince and Princess Takamatsu and Ambassador Matsudaira of Japan, the ex-king and queen of Portugal, and Guilo Prestes, the president-elect of Brazil.

The weather was sunny, with a stronger breeze than yesterday.

Dr. J. Colin Gregory and Ian G. Collins, England, defeated Jean Borotra and Christian Boussus, strong French team, 9-7, 6-3, 6-2, and will meet Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, defending champions, in the lower bracked semi-finals.

Helen Wills Moody and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, of California, defeated Mlle. Josane Sigart of Belgium and Mme. Henrotin of France in a semi-final match, scores being 6-2, 6-0.

CALIENTE SUMMER MEET OPENS JULY 4

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, July 3.—The Independence Handicap, a six-furlong dash and the first big gun of the 52-day summer meeting of the Agua Caliente Jockey club, which opens here tomorrow, has drawn a field of 18 nominations with the finest "speed" at the source accepting the issue.

The one time $100,000 beauty, C. B. Irwin's Ironsides, which distinguished itself in the past two weeks by winning, on middle western tracks, three straight races on as many successive racing days, and being beaten an eyelash in his fourth start, has been assigned top weight of 123 pounds by Racing Secretary Francis Dunne.

Another of the four nominations the Wyoming horseman has made for the event, Nusakan, drew the next highest impost, 120 pounds. The other two from the Irwin barn are Mole Hill, with 109 up and Montana, with 101.

Eddie Hearne Is Arrested As Drunk

HOLLYWOOD, July 3.—Eddie Hearne, 42, nationally known auto race driver, went to sleep at the wheel of his machine here early today and—got a trip to the police station.

The racer was arrested on charges of being intoxicated in an automobile, after a policeman said he found him in the car, which was parked near Hearne's Hollywood home.

JEFFERS SETS COURSE RECORD AT WILLOWICK

Jeffers was over par on only two of the 18 holes. He had two eagles, both on the long No. 5 for which par is five, which he traversed in three strokes. Jeffers also had birdies on five holes.

His card:

Out, Par	4	3	5	4	5	3	4	3	4	—36
Jeffers	4	4	4	5	3	3	3	3	4	—33
In, Par	4	3	5	4	5	3	4	3	4	—36
Jeffers	4	3	4	4	3	3	3	3	3	—30

NIGHT AUTO RACES PLANNED

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—Night automobile racing will be inaugurated at the Ascot Speedway here July 19, it was announced today by Dr. Fred Loring, an official. The American Legion, which operates the track, pioneered night racing last year. A 50-foot tower holding a cluster of huge bulbs illuminates the entire track.

CARNERA BOUT WITH CAMPOLO IS SUGGESTED

BY L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 3.—With plans for a return bout between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey at Yankee stadium September 25, definitely abandoned, Madison Square Garden officials today were seeking a feature heavyweight bout for their late summer program.

Political pressure is being recruited in an attempt to have Primo Carnera reinstated to meet Vittorio Campolo, towering Argentinean, in a "charity" bout.

Carnera was barred for participating in an alleged "framed" bout at Oakland, Calif., and if the commission reverses its usual policy and enforces the ban, Young Stribling, Phil Scott or "Tuffy" Griffith may be given an opportunity to try for a place in the front rank of the heavyweight division.

Cancellation of negotiations for the Schmeling-Sharkey bout was announced last night by Frank Bruen, vice president of Madison Square Garden, in charge of boxing, and Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's American manager, following a three-hour conference.

After signing Sharkey for the bout, earlier in the day, the Garden had announced formally that the bout was "definitely on."

When Jacobs arrived to sign contracts for the fight, a hitch developed over the terms of an agreement releasing Schmeling from the claims of his repudiated German manager, Arthur Bulow, and after several hours of fruitless discussion all negotiations were called off.

Bruen charged Jacobs with presenting new demands after the Garden had met all the stipulations of Schmeling's original terms, and said he would make no further attempts to promote the match.

Jacobs told the United Press that the impasse developed over failure of the Garden to secure Schmeling's unconditional release from all claims by Bulow.

Rosenberg Wants Cut Of Sale Fund

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Harry Rosenberg, young Jewish outfielder for the Mission Reds, may pass up the opportunity of playing in the big league, it was learned today.

The New York Giants recently purchased Rosenberg for $35,000. The outfielder announced today that unless he got 10 per cent of the purchase price he would refuse to report to the Giants.

YOUNG CORBETT AND THOMPSON BOX TOMORROW

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3—Fight fans were eagerly awaiting the grand battle here tomorrow when Young Jack Thompson, world's champion welterweight, and Young Corbett, cool and calculating southpaw from Fresno, meet.

It is a criticalfight from the standpoint of the contestants. Thompson can't lose his championship but he is pretty anxious to wipe out the sour taste of two former defeats he has been handed by the cagy Corbett.

SUMMER RACES SET

AGUA CALIENTE, July 3.—Nine stake races are scheduled for the 52-day summer meeting at the Agua Caliente Jockey club. The features are the Coronado claiming stakes, a one-mile dash scheduled July 13, the second Sunday of the meeting, and the President's plate, a $5000 added handicap, at a mile and a furlong, to be run August 24.

GRIFFITH MAY FACE STRIBLING IN NEXT BOUT

By BERT DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 3.—It now can be said without fear of contradiction that "Tuffy" Griffith of Sioux City, Ia., is a better prizefighter than Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy.

If there ever was any question about it, Griffith removed all doubts last night when, for the first time, his hand was raised as victor over Risko, this time by a clear cut 10-round decision.

Risko, it might be said, showed just as much improvement as everyone had expected after his recent victories over Vittorio Campolo and Paulino Uzcudun, but it apparently is impossible for the Cleveland spoiler ever to spoil Griffith.

Risko Starts Fast

Johnny's best round was the first. He opened up with a two-handed attack that apparently took "Tuffy" by surprise and was slightly ahead on points at the bell. But from there on out, "Tuffy" was complete master of the situation and it became only a question of what his margin of victory would be.

So Griffith is back today on the doorstep of a chance for important fights that may lead him into competition for the heavyweight title. By his win last night he estabisihed beyond any doubt that his defeat last winter by Jack Gagnon had taken away none of his speed or hitting power.

Except for a return fight with Gagnon in which he outpointed the Boston strong boy, this was Griffiths first important skirmish since Gagnon stopped him in Philadelphia.

May Meet Stribling

"Tuffy's" previous wins over Risko were scored last year—by a foul in Detroit, and a 10-round decision in New York. His third victory last night puts him back among the Class A challengers for the heavyweight title.

Griffith's next important opponent is expected to be W. L. (Young) Stribling, who scored a one round knockout over Otto Von Porat here last month. Stribling, according to Matchmaker Nate Lewis, had agreed previous to last night's fight to meet the winner.

Griffith weighed 185 1-2 last night and Risko 193 3-4.

In a slow 10 round semi-windup, Paul Swiderski, 182, of Syracuse won the decision over Frankie Simms, 206, of Cleveland.

Chocolate completely outclassed Petrone but so savage and so determines was Petrone's stand for the first four rounds, the wonderful Cuban could not bring him to the subduing point.

PERMISSION OF CITY COUNCILS IS NECESSARY

ORANGE, July 3.—Confirming the original exclusive report carried in The Register on June 25 of the proposed abandonment of passenger service between Orange and Santa Ana on the lines of the Pacific Electric, confirmation was received today in the form of an order from the railroad commission of the state of California granting the railway company permission to abandon passenger service under certain conditions.

The report from the railroad commission stated "the Pacific Electric Railway company has been granted authority by the railroad commission to discontinue passenger service between Santa Ana and Orange on condition that coincident with the abandonment of said service, an augmented motor coach service shall be provided by Motor Transit company."

Check up of the report today with O. A. Smith, of Los Angeles by the Orange Register representative, revealed that the petition was filed by the railway company with the state commission on June 25, and that the order has been granted by the commission. An additional condition of the discontinuance of service which gives the two interested communities an opportunity to block the proposed amendment, is the requirement that the transportation company must secure the approval of the cities of Santa Ana and Orange before the change can be made, Smith revealed in the interview.

The traffic official declared that the matter would be presented to the city councils of the two cities in the next few days and that inasmuch as plans of the company called for much better service between the two communities and would represent a saving to the company of approximately $6000 a year, he believed the necessary permission would be granted.

"Although the electric service may be discontinued under the plan," he stated, "additional local service would be provided on the motor coach lines which would given even better service than the double service now existing, much of which is a duplication and unnecessary expense. The Pacific Electric has a two-thirds interest in the Motor Transit company and would add local service to the through busses now serving Orange on the lines to Riverside and Los Angeles. This would provide 20 minute service throughout the day instead of the 20 minute service only at certain intervals now provided through the operation of both electric cars and busses.

"The Pacific Electric is losing money in the operation of the Orange-Santa Ana line and will save about $6000 per year by taking off the electric passenger service. The removal of passenger cars from the tracks will also better traffic conditions on Main street and will eliminate hazardous conditions which have been the object of some criticism and objection.

"None of the Pacific Electric employes will lose positions. They will be transferred to other runs and will be continued in the service of the company if they so desire.

"Freight service will be retained over the lines and the tracks will not be disturbed. There will probably be one round trip each 25 hours, and this service, it is anticipated, will be during the night."

Considerable opposition to the abandonment of the passenger service of the Pacific Electric has been expressed in some quarters here. The transportation company anticipates, however, that when the entire program is known with the prospects of even better service between the two communities, there will be no difficulty in securing the permission of the two cities, which is required before the abandonment proceedings can be completed.

It is anticipated that in the event the program is successful the present Pacific Electric station on Lemon street, just north of Chapman avenue, will become the motor bus terminal. Electric service between Santa Ana and Orange was inaugurated in 1907.

ORANGE LIONS HEAR ADDRESS ON ATHLETES

ORANGE, July 3.—Speaking on "The Value of Athletic Training," Jack McCord, life insurance man of Los Angeles, and one of the leading football officials in the country, addressed members of the Lions club yesterday noon at the regular weekly session of the organization held in the Legion clubhouse. The address was characterized by those who were present as one of the most helpful and interesting that has been heard for some time.

McCord was introduced to the club by Stewart White, coach at the Orange union high school and program chairman for the day. The speaker, who officiated last fall at the Notre Dame-University of Southern California football game in Chicago, prefaced his talk with remarks concerning this game from the view point of an official, and also told many interesting incidents of other big games. He has been interested in the sport, as a player or official for the past 25 years. McCord also told many incidents about athletes in his address in which he stressed the application of the principles of honor and sportsmanship of athletics to modern business.

Several of the incidents he related concerned Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones, golf stars, and others were about baseball players. Hagen, who won the British open championship five times, he characterized as being sure of himself and told of a 25 putt he made in one match to win the tournament. Bobby Jones, he said, when asked if he shot for the green, replied in the negative and added that he shot for the pin. The advantage of such attitudes in business was pointed out by the speaker.

"All great athletes and sportsmen never offer an alibi," McCord declared. "And how much better things would be in the business world today if there was more action and less alibis! Business problems should be approached as the athlete approaches his difficult feats. The real athlete carries on and keeps trying no matter how tough the going. Baseball players often rely on the law of averages to keep their ranking. When they hit a slump they keep plugging away, knowing that sooner or later a hitting streak will bob up.

Wilbut Lentz, chairman of the golf team which is to compete with a team of Rotarians, anwas substituted as a "bone of conpostponed for several weeks. Golf nounced that the match would be tention" between the two rival organizations afte. the Lions had beaten the Rotarians twice in baseball so badly that there was no desire for a continuation of this form of competition.

Church In Orange Holds Communion Service Sunday

ORANGE, July 3.—Members of the Presbyterian church will observe communion service next Sunday, it was announced today by the Rev. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the church. This is the regular quarterly observance of communion. The topic of the sermon for the service is "Taking a Spirtual Census."

PLACE CURBING ON GLASSELL STREET

ORANGE, July 3.—A crew of men started work yesterday in front of the Masonic temple building installing new curbing on Glassell street and making preparations to lay new cement sidewalks in front of the building. The work is being done for the Masonic organization by R. Bellows, cement contractor of Santa Ana, formerly of Orange.

The task will be completed Saturday, Bellows estimated yesterday, and will be opened for the use of the public by Monday under the present schedule. He plans to do the greater portion of pouring the concrete for the walk in front of the building on the Fourth of July when he anticipates the least interruption to traffic and consequent inconvenience to the public.

Curbing in the area of restricted parking at the intersection of Glassell street with the plaza is being finished in red cement at the request of city authorities, according to Bellows, to obviate the necessity of keeping the curb painted at this point. The walk is to be finished in 16-inch squares and will be red to resemble tiling. About 1000 square feet of walk is being installed in addition to the curbing.

The work is part of an improvement program in connection with the remodeling of quarters occupied by the Bank of Italy in the Masonic building.

CELEBRATION OF 4TH STARTS IN ORANGE TODAY

ORANGE, July 3.—With bangs, booms, cracks, pops and fizzes the celebration by "young America" of the observance of Independence day got officially under way here today. Police regulations governing the shooting of fireworks in Orange permit the discharge of fireworks in the city all day July 3 and 4 and until midnight on the Fourth, Chief B. F. Richards advised.

While no particular celebration or general observance is scheduled here, many groups have plans for observance of the day with picnics, Beach parties, hikes and night exhibits of pyrotechnics. All public offices, banks, and businesses in general will be closed all day for the holiday. Drug stores will be open until noon, it was stated.

Warnings have been issued asking care on the part of persons discharging fireworks of any type to prevent accidents and fires. Caution is asked particularly in handling explosives and boys are asked to be careful about leaving any smouldering pieces of "crackers" or other items of fireworks where fires might be started.

Business houses and residences will be decorated with flags and Legionnaires are urging that due respect be shown for the national emblem.

MACHINE OWNED BY ORANGE MAN STOLEN

ORANGE, July 3.—City police officials today were investigating the theft of a touring car owned by Luther O. Kaun, of 426 Maryetta place, which was taken from a parking place on North Glassell street last night, according to a report made to Chief B. F. Richards.

"This is the first auto theft that has been perpetrated in Orange for a long time," Chief Richards said today in commenting on the case. The description of the missing car is being broadcast to neighboring cities by local authorities in an effort to apprehend the thief or secure the return of the motor vehicle.

The car was stolen between 8 and 10:15 o'clock last night from the place where it was parked on Glassell street between Chapman avenue and Maple avenue.

ORANGE CHURCH ORGAN ARRIVES NEXT MONDAY

ORANGE, July 3.—Arrival of the fine new Hall pipe organ is anticipated Monday by members and officers of the Presbyterian church here, in accordance with word received from the organ company. The organ was delayed in delivery, as it had originally been expected to be installed and ready for dedication by July 1.

The place which was reserved in the building for installation of the organ has been prepared and is now ready for the workmen who will erect the pipe organ upon its arrival. Approximately 18 working days will be required to complete the installation, and plans call for dedication of the splendid addition to the church equipment on the first Sunday in August.

In accordance with arrangements made some two years ago, Percy Green, member of the Orange union high school faculty and accomplished organist, has been elected by the church as organist.

BICYCLE FOUND BY TWO ORANGE BOYS

"Gigi!" Dundee shouted, in a voice harsh with anger that the girl, bending over a stationary laundry tub, withdrew reddened arms and gaped at him incredulously.

"My! You scared me!" she laughed uncertainly as the detective strode toward her. "I'm doing my daily Girl Scout good deed, but I should have worn rubber gloves. This stuff burns like the devil!"

But he had no sympathy. He seized her and shook her till her teeth rattled against each other. "You ought to have had on a straight jacket!" he corrected her savagely. "Do you know what you have done?"

"I hope I've got rid of the stink of Fleur d'Amour," she retorted, when he had dropped her arms helplessly and a little ashamed. For she did look so innocent—"When the folks began to play bridge this afternoon, all sitting pretty close together, you know, the odor was sickeningly strong, because everybody's clothes are scented up with the stuff from hanging in closets with the evening clothes we were wearing Friday night."

"Who complained of the odor?" he asked quickly.

Seeing that she had his interest in spite of his anger, Gigi rushed on eagerly: "Abbie. She said it positively made her sick ,and Mrs. Lambert said it did her, too, and she'd be glad when Monday came and the perfume-sprinkled things could be sent to the cleaners. And Dad said, 'If the police will let you send them!'"

"Did anybody suggest this stunt?" Dundee interrupted harshly.

"No. I thought of it all by myself!" she retorted proudly. "I told you over the phone they wouldn't let me play bridge, so I finally got tired of nothing to do, and sneaked upstairs and collected all the clothes that had perfume on them, shot them down the laundry chutes in the bathrooms, and—there they are! I did the evening dresses first, then doused all the Tuxedos, even Wickett's—Oh, don't lok so peeved!" she protested. "I didn't take yours. I was afraid you wouldn't like it; besides, I know you're not so squeamish about smelling it as the rest of us are. Abbie was right for once; she said the smell of Fleur d'Amour would always be the odor of death to her, and I didn't see why all of us should be reminded everytime we open a closet door—"

• • •

"Just a minute, Gigi!" Dundee interrupted sternly. "At exactly what time did this Good Samaritan complex overtake you? Before or after you found from telephoning me that Johnson did not kill Doris Matthews?"

Her eyes grew very wide and inocent and injured as she answered: "Why, it was after, but—"

"Gigi, you can't fool me! You have deliberately destroyed evidence, which is a crime punishable by imprisonment!"

Gigi laughed, a little shakily. "Which brings to light still another advantage of being only 15! They'll only send me to the reformatory—"

"You made a clean sweep of it, I suppose?" he cut in disgustedly, gingerly lifting a soaked coat by a lapel.

"I'm afraid I did," Gigi confessed with an air of deep humility, but Dundee saw a glint of triumph in her eyes before she lowered them. 'Every single thing but the shoes we were wearing Friday night. I'd have doused them, too, but there wasn't any perfume on anybody's but Clorinda's. There they are, under the tub. I'm afraid benzine isn't awfully good for gold slippers," she added ruefully.

"Clorinda's slippers, cape and evening dress were in my room," he reminded her. "You at least knew that they had been confiscated by the police, as exhibits for the grand jury. And since the odor of perfume from them could not possibly annoy your sister or anyone but me—"

"Why hadn't you taken them to the police station, then?" she chalenged him.

"Because I was a fool!" he retorted bitterly. "There was a bare chance that Johnson was guilty of the murder, and would confess, and that your sister need not be dragged into the case. I see now that chivalry doesn't pay in this case....Come clean, Gigi!" he commanded harshly. "Why did you do this? Why did you destroy evidence?"

"Why do you keep harping on 'destroying evidence?'" she cried agrily. "Clorinda told you she's been in the summerhouse after the murder was committed. You didn't need a cape with a streak of blood on it and a pair of slippers to prove it! As for the rest of the things, the only evidence I destroyed was that I sprinkled perfume on all of you Friday night, and you've still got your own Tuxedo to prove that!"

"You knew my coat was harmless," he accused her. "As harmless as that handkerchief you gave me to have analyzed for poison ....Quit stalling, Gigi! When did you come to the conclusion that that flask of Fleur d'Amour was diluted with wood alcohol, after Wickett took it to your mother's room Friday night?"

"You're crazy! I don't know what you're talking about!" she denied furiously.

"Oh, yes, you do, Gigi!" He was grimly implacable. "This stunt of yours proves that! You were eavesdropping this morning when I was talking with Dr. Jennings, the city chemist. You heard me mention wood alcohol repeatedly. You knew wood alcohol was available in half a dozen of those patented fountains of your father's.....Now tell me whom you were trying to protect by this mad stunt of yours?"

"Not so mad!" Gigi retorted impudently, and turned back to the reeking laundry tub. "If anybody did put wood alcohol in Abbie's perfume, you're going to have a hard time proving it, darling!"

"Is that so?" he retorted savagely, and turned to stamp out of the basement.

"Go back to your washing!" he commanded.

"I shan't!" she sobbed, and followed him as stubbornly as a dog ignoring stones flung by his master; followed him as he strode across the lawn to the summerhouse.

In grim silence the thoroughly angry young detective knelt on the floor of the little arbor where Doris Matthews had been stunned to insensibility by the blow of a perfume flask in a murderer's hand.

"Oh!" Gigi gasped. "I never thought of that!"

When the envelope was safe in his pocket, the detective faced the girl. "I'm going to take this to Dr. Jennings now, for analysis. But like you, Gigi, I haven't a doubt in the world that he will report the finding of wood alcohol impurities. And I'm going to give you one more chance to help me. Certainly you owe me a great deal for the damage you've done today. Whom are you trying to protect?"

"I refuse to answer!" she said steadily, but her face was very pale beneath the tan.

"You realize, of course, that you are shielding a person who plotted to murder your mother? Some person who knew your mother to be a perfume addict, and who confidently expected her death to follow the drinking of Fleur d'Amour!"

Gigi did not answer, but her eyes were wide with horror and misery.

"Then I am to conclude that you are shielding yourself?" Dundee went on brutally.

"You confessed to me Friday night before the murder that you had done 'something dreadful'," he reminded her. "You were very angry with your mother, for having slapped and humiliated you before guests. You knew your mother was a perfume addict. Her habit disgusted you. You have told me that she makes life miserable for you. You—"

"Oh, don't be an idiot!" she cried, stamping her foot. "I didn't put wood alcohol in her perfume, and I don't know who did!"

"But you know who hated her enough to plot her death," Dundee said almost gently. "And you love that person enough to wish for him—or her—to go free of a horrible murder that grew out of a crime which poor Doris Matthews prevented, by discovering the poisoner at work! Isn't that true?"

Gigi's horror-filled eyes stared at him for a long minute, then the girl turned and fled from the summerhouse.

It was past four o'clock that Sunday afternoon when Bonnie Dundee returned to Hillcrest after his visit to the home of Dr. Abel Jennings. The chemist had promised to forego a bridge game and rush the analysis, predicting a report by nine o'clock that evening.

Two sedans, which he recognized as belonging to District Attorney Sherwood and Captain Strawn of the homicide squad warned Dundee that his superiors were again in charge of the case.

"Hello, boy!" Captain Strawn greeted him ruefully as soon as Wickett had admitted him. "Old Wind-bag's at it—hammer and tongs. Says you and me have been barking up a whole forest of wrong trees....Yeah, says it's plain as the nose on your face that the chauffeur killed the girl in a lovers' quarrel over Dick Berkeley, and that if he'd taken hold when the murder was first discovered he'd have had a confession by now."

"That so?" Dundee grinned. "I seem to remember that our Mr. Jerome Sherwood is up for re-election in November. One can quite sympathize with his determination not to antagonize so influential a vote controller as Multimillionaire Berkeley, by insulting him, his family or his guests with horrid old suspicions....Well, I wish him luck!"

"Want to watch the show?" Strawn suggested, with malicious amusement. "It's being staged in the servants' sitting room. The chances that Arnold will knock him cold looked pretty good five minutes ago."

"No, thanks. I might pitch in and help Arnold....Yes, Wickett?"

"Telephone for you, sir. Will you take it in the library?"

"Well, that's that! Kathryn Matthews died without regaining consciousness."

"Tough luck," Strawn admitted. "I guess that means the Crosby case is really closed forever,' as Doris said."

"What are you up to?" Strawn demanded suspiciously, as Dundee arose to leave the library.

They were arrested after light tests were held on South Main street last night by members of the city traffic force. All of those with poor lights were given tickets for their appearance.

WERE CAPTIVES OF INDIANS

The experience of four girls as captives of Indians is told in a book, "Girl Captives of the Cheyennes," by Grace E. Meredith, which is a recent addition to the Santa Ana public library. The book is of especial interest here, as one of the girls, when grown to womanhood, became Mrs. Julia Brooks, and lived in this city on Grand avenue for 15 years.

She was a resident of California for 35 years. Mrs. E. B. Dean, 811 West Fifth street, is a daughter of Mrs. Brooks.

The story of the captivity of the four sisters was woven into a tale of intense interest by Mrs. Meredith, of La Verne, Calif., who is a niece by marriage of the oldest sister, Catherine. The assistance of P. L. Briney and Miss Bertha Briney, of this city, in proof-reading and typing the first copies of the manuscript is acknowledged in the preface.

Mrs. Brooks, for the last few years, has been a resident of Glendale, but her many friends here often have heard her relate the story of those six months of privation and horror she spent with raiding Indians on the plains of Kansas and Texas. According to Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Brooks never voluntarily mentioned her experiences, as they were fraught with so much terror that she usually spent a sleepless night if she spoke of them.

In August, 1874, Mrs. Brooks was a tiny girl of seven years of age, and in company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John German and one brother and six sisters, started from Kansas for Colorado by the covered wagon route, the children taking turns in driving the cattle and guiding the ox team across the plains.

They had traveled nearly a hundred miles when they met two men on the trail who told them that they would reach Fort Wallace the following day.

Cheered by this news, the little group started on toward what was to have been temporary safety before renewing their journey. This was on September 11, and as they made their way along the edge of a ravine they lost the feeling of uneasiness which had been with them.

The father and oldest son, Stephen, both carried rifles, one walking ahead of the wagon and the other back of it. A herd of antelope crossed their path, and as they turned to look at the animals, they were surprised by a band of Indians which followed the herd.

In the ensuing few minutes the brother, the father and mother and all of the children, with the exception of the four youngest girls, Catherine, 17, Sophie, 12, Julia, 7, and Addie, 5, were killed.

The Indians took what they wanted from the wagons and took the four frightened girls in the direction from which they had come, leaving the scalped and mangled bodies of the ones most dear to them lying where they had fallen in a brave defense of their lives.

The girls were given to the Indians who had captured them. The oldest girls were separated but the two younger sisters were taken by a buck and his wife. Later the two youngest children became babes in the woods, when the Indians deserted them on the plains and when they picked berries and slept on leaves which they piled in heaps under bushes, as far as possible from runs of wild animals.

Mrs. Brooks has written a brief account of the six weeks which she and her five-year-old sister spent on the vast plains. Wolves howled around them at night and sometimes the leaves on which they slept were scattered by fighting animals.

The little girls found a stream, and with singular foresight, feared to leave it, as they thought they might find no more water. They followed wagon tracks along the banks of the stream, where they discovered a small amount of corn and broken crackers which they added to their scanty meals of wild plums, wild onions and grass roots.

The four girls were taken from captivity through the efforts of General Nelson A. Miles, who also tells their story in his book, "Recollections of General Miles."

Mrs. Brooks remembered her experiences vividly, says her daughter, Mrs. Dean, and even now dislikes to look at an ax or at firearms. The experiences of the older girls are full of interest and the story of their capture is told in the first person, the greater part of it being the recollections of Catherine, who is now Mrs. C. E. Swerdfeger.

CLUB PROGRAM PRESENTED BY THEATER FOLK

Theater atmosphere descended upon St. Ann's inn this morning for a brief time when Norman Sprowl, manager of the Fox-West Coast theaters in Santa Ana, was program chairman and provided a program of music and dancing for the benefit of the Santa Ana Breakfast club.

A seven-piece orchestra of the West Coast theaters provided snappy music during the meal and accompanied the club singing. When two Fanchon and Marco acts failed to appear for the meeting, Sprowl did some pinch-hitting and kept the club hilarious with a monologue of a soldier who was drafted and sent to the front lines. Later, Sprowl did a tap dance as he used to do on the stage.

The hit of the morning proved to be the entertainment offered by Miss Betty Jean Koster, little Santa Ana girl who has achieved much fame in motion pictures, especially in her part in "Sunny Side Up." Dressed in a little blue winter coat trimmed with white fur, Miss Koster gave two dances and concluded her act with the song "Happy Days Are Here Again." She was accompanied by Paul Le Bar, former pianist for the club and now playing with the West Coast orchestra.

Guy Gilbert and Andy Anderson were announced as the program chairmen for next week and plans also were announced for the outdoor meeting on August 7, when all the candidates for county officers will be guests.

PLAN TO ATTEND CHARTER MEETING

Plans for Santa Ana 20-30 club members to be present at the California Yacht club on Tuesday night, July 8, when the newly organized San Pedro 20-30 club will receive its charter, were made Tuesday night when the local 20-30 group held its weekly dinner in the Santa Ana cafe.

Leland Finley, club president, conducted the business meeting, which had as its chief item of interest, the arrangement of the summer schedule for the 20-30 baseball league. Tevis Westgate is manager and captain of the local team.

Members were present from Riverside, San Pedro, Fullerton and Anaheim, to share the occasion with the Santa Ana members, and many of those expressed their intention of attending the charter night program at the Yacht club, and welcoming the San Pedro young men to their organization.

Report Theft Of Two Automobiles

Two automobiles were reported stolen from the county last night, neither of which had been recovered late today.

A car owned by C. J. Haskell of 925 French street, was reported stolen from between Third and Fourth streets on French street early last night and Mrs. Matilda Cowan of 426 Mariette avenue, Orange, reported the theft of her car from North Glassell street, Orange, late last night.

FOR BABY LINDY

Lucky little Lindy may fly before he has opportunity to walk in these little pink bootees made for him by Delman. An airplane decoration embroidered in infinitesimal gold beads shows his famous Papa and Mamma in their monoplane which made the record-breaking flight from Los Angeles to New York. Other bootees given the famous "wee" are a little blue pair with the Lindbergh Lone Eagle insignia across the tips.

William C. Long, of Garden Grove, for over 40 years a resident of Orange county and one of the few remaining men who can tell of stirring Indian stories in which they themselves took part, is today reminiscing on an event of 62 years ago, which he well remembers as the date of an Indian fight on the wild plains of New Mexico, when he, with an immigrant train, was enroute from near San Antonio, Tex., to California.

The trip was Long's second, he as a boy having come over the same train three years earlier in 1859, with all of the members of his family. This last trip was made with a drove of 900 cattle which the leader of the train, a Mr. Meddling, was bringing through. There were but 18 men all told to care for the cattle, attend to camp duties, stand guard and act as protection for the number of women and children who completed the train, so it was with dismay that on July 2, the party observed that they were being surrounded by the Apaches, one of the deadliest enemies of the white man. Hurriedly arranging for what limited protection possible, the women and children were put into the wagons, which were circled in the usual manner as best guarding against attack. Two men were detailed to mold bullets, Long's brother, Robert Long, but a few years deceased, being one of them, and then they awaited the further move of the Indians. Arms were insufficient, two guns proving worthless, so it was with doubt that they waited.

How many Indians there were in the attack the party never knew, but 200 were counted at one time when the war party topped a rise. Circling and drawing nearer all of the time the Indians gradually cut out small bunches of cattle all day long until by night but 12 of the heard and two saddle horses were left and one of these later was shot from under its owner. The oxer which drew the wagons were safely tied inside the ring and were safe.

When the cattle were gone and night was coming on, the beseiged party felt that surely a massacre would take place before morning, but cool headedness on the part of the leader, who understood Indian nature, saved the day, it is thought. As a ruse to make the white men fire the first shot to bring on the attack the Indian chief sent out a young Indian girl on a pony to ride around the camp as a dare to shoot. Some of the men naturally resented this insult and attempted to shoot but Meddling would not allow it and so the general attack did not take place. By morning the last 12 cattle had been taken and then quite a battle ensued in which not a white man was injured. Toward evening of July 3, the Indian bands dispersed and the tired and worn travelers broke camp hurriedly and traveled all the next night to get out of the territory of the Apaches.

The last move necessary in abandoning the camp was that of driving all of the wagons over the grave of one of the number, a Mr. Bradford, who died during the siege from an illness which he had contracted several days before and which, augmented by the excitement of the Indian fight, hastened his death. Throughout the fight the sick man called words of encouragement to his comrades as he lay on his bed in his wagon, surrounded by his wife and little children, who accompanied the train on to their destination, San Bernardino.

A party following two days later found the body of Mr. Bradford had been removed from the grave in spite of the precaution taken to hide the fact of his burial, and had been scalped. This party also had a brush with the same band of Indians, but soon killed the chief and the fight ended.

GLENN MARTIN NOT TO BUILD SOVIET PLANES

Glenn L. Martin, formerly of Santa Ana and now owner of the Glenn L. Martin company of Baltimore, Md., was forced to abandon the building of 20 giant bombing planes for the Russian government at a cost of $2,000,000, it was learned here today.

The decision to stop work on the plans for the twin-motored bombers was caused by the United States government adopting the policy which has been called an embargo on the export of arms, munitions and military airplanes to the Soviet Union. The state department of the government has admitted that a letter was sent to the Martin company, stating that it viewed with disfavor the exportation of armaments to Russia, inasmuch as the United States has no diplomatic relations with the government.

Martin is a pioneer in the aviation world and received all of his early training in this section. He used the site now occupied by the Santa Ana High school for a field and later became famous as an aviator before going into the manufacturing business. He frequently visits in Santa Ana with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Martin of 810 Minter street.

Santa Anans Anticipate Pleasant Celebration Of Holiday

Mr. and Mrs. William H. DeWolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Chenoweth and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Diehl of this city, with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Derussy of Long Beach, are anticipating a delightful celebration of the national holiday, when they will motor to Lake Arrowhead to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Burton, former Santa Anans who so recently returned from abroad, and are now enjoying the mountain air of California's famous resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton spent 15 months in European wanderings, and returned with a wealth of amusing and interesting experiences to relate. The pleasure of Southland friends in their return, was charmingly expressed earlier in the week, by Mr. and Mrs. DeWolfe and Harry Fenton of Pasadena, when they entertained at an informal tea in the handsome DeWolfe home, 2014 North Broadway.

While many Santa Ana guests were present to greet the travelers, must interest was shown in the fact that so many out of town friends were able to be present. They included Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Woodbridge of Upland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeBerard of Cucamonga, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney James of Altadena, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Derussy of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Hoag and Mrs. Eastman of Los Angeles.

Canadian Guests Were Honored at Recent Party

Complimenting Mrs. W. Synder and Mrs. R. Riddelle of Winnepeg, Can., who are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson on West Second street, Mrs. J. M. Mosley entertained in her home at 814 Fairview yesterday afternoon, choosing cootie as the happy diversion.

The day was an especially enjoyable one for Mrs. Riddelle, who visited here two years ago and was the honor guest at a party when many of the guest list of yesterday's affair were present. She took much pleasure in renewing acquaintances, and noting the changes that had taken place in Santa Ana during the two years' span.

In the cootie game Mrs. F. A. Snipe scored high, and was presented with a lovely bon-bon dish in black glass, while Miss Elsie Carter was consoled. The tables were then spread with pretty linens, and the refreshment course was served, carrying out the patriotic motif which was also evident in the bouquets of red and white carnations arranged in low blue bowls. Small silk flags were presented as favors and seemed especially unique to the Canadian guests.

Those present were the honor guests, Mrs. W. Snyder and Mrs. R. Riddelle, and the hostess, Mrs. J. M. Mosley; and Mesdames C. J. Aldrich and Luella Rowland of Los Angeles; Mesdames J. C. Birdsong, C. O. Wood, Russell Thompson, W. H. Thompson, F. A. Snipe and the Misses Elsie Carter and Bertha Palmer of this city.

Delta Sigma Delegates Return From Dallas Convention

Returning today from Dallas, Tex., where they represented Santa Ana Delta Sigma fraternity at the national convention, Warren Cooke, Howard Frazee and Charles Homan were enthusiastic over the hospitality shown them, not only by their Delta Sigma brothers, but by the entire city of Dallas. The fourth member of the local group of delegates, Warren DuBois, remained for a more extended stay in Texas.

Accounts of the convention as given by the returned Santa Anans, included details of their entertainment at Hotel Adolphos, the most exclusive hotel in Dallas, which was convention headquarters and the scene of all business sessions; a ball at the Adolphos, where a delightful evening was spent; and another social evening when Fair park, the amusement center of the city, was turned over in its entirety to the Delta Sigs, who had an evening of hilarity amidst the park concessions.

The 1931 convention was voted to Washington, D. C., and Santa Ana members are already laying their plans for representation.

On returning to Santa Ana, the three young men made the 1900 mile trip in 48 hours.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

United Presbyterian

Various activities took place in the parlors of the United Presbyterian church yesterday, with two of the organizations meeting there. Members of the Ladies Aid Society convened in the morning at 10 o'clock, and engaged in quilting and tying a comfort, after which they held an enjoyable noon luncheon. The serving committee was composed of Mrs. Scott Thompson and Mrs. Loretta Cash. Miss Dorothy Rogers, who was introduced by Mrs. E. C. Lukens, gave two humorous readings, "That Good for Nuthin' Dog," and "Trouble."

In the afternoon the Women's Missionary Society held its meeting, which was presided over by the vice president, Mrs. Will McBurney. The subject of the day was "What Christ Means to Me," and devotionals were led by Mrs. J. T. Raitt. The group sang "Jesus Is All the World to Me" in keeping with the chosen topic of the meeting.

Mrs. E. C. Lukins was in charge of the program, and especially interesting was the travelogue given by Mrs. James Smiley, who with Mr. Smiley have recently returned from a trip abroad, at which time they visited Egypt and Palestine. Dressed in a beautiful costume which she purchased in Jerusalem, the handiwork of the Armenian girls, Mrs. Smiley made an attractive picture as she gave her vivid descriptions of the ancient countries. Her reports of visits made to the American Missions, especially those supported by the United Presbyterian church, were unusually interesting.

The group will meet again on August 6.

Joint M. E. Meet.

Joining in an all-day meeting at Newport Beach, the members of the Ladies Aid, Dorcas and Home Missionary societies of First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday were privileged to enjoy the hospitality of the pretty summer home of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reynolds at the nearby beach resort.

Approximately half a hundred women availed themselves of the opportunity to spend a happy day at the shore, and take active part in the varied program. This included the business session of the aid society held in the forenoon hours under the direction of the president, Mrs. W. D. Baker, when annual reports were given from all sections. A review of the Federated Aid meeting held last week in Long Beach, added interest to this interval.

The Home Missionary women held quite as interesting a meeting in the afternoon, with their president, Mrs. R. R. Lutes, in charge. Especially valuable was the devotional hour led by Mrs. John Clarkson, who read a beautiful devotional service for young people, written by her daughter, Miss Dorothy Clarkson. A special offering was taken to defray the expenses of two Queen Esther girls to the annual Queen Esther camp to be held at Pacific Palisades, August 2 to 11. Mrs. F. W. Wiessman, head of that department of the young people's work, will have the matter in charge.

Social features of the day were no less enjoyable than the business matters, and included a luncheon that all agreed was without parallel, as one member after another produced her favorite dish to be added to the varied and delicious menu.

The birthday anniversary of the Rev. William Schmoock, 816 Brown street, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, provided members of his congregation with incentive for a delightfully planned supper party held last night in Hewes park as a surprise to the Rev. Mr. Schmoock.

The pastor had been absent from the city all day on important business matters, and on his return in the late afternoon, his family succeeded by clever manouevers in luring him to the pretty park. There the members of his congregation had gathered with everything in readiness for the delicious supper. His first view of the merry picnickers was also his first inkling of any surprise party plans.

A large number of presents and greting cards of every variety provided an interesting feature. One of the most popular attractions of the supper hour, seemed to be the huge birthday cake centering one of the picnic tables. After this had been sufficiently admired it was cut and served with ice cream as the dessert course.

In an informal after-supper program, the honor guest expressed his enjoyment of the event, and his appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the Thimble club of the congregation, whose members had made the hospitable plans.

The picnic was the second birthday celebration complimenting the Rev. Mr. Schmoock, as he and Mrs. Schmoock and their family had been honored at a large dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. A. Hauptmann and family in their Westminster home.

Mrs. Elmer Schneider was hostess to the Bridgettes last evening, when they met in her home at 1048 West Walnut street for a most delightful session of cards and conversation. Exquisite double dahlias in a deep pink tone were arranged to form an artistic setting.

When bridge tallies were added it was found that Mrs. Roy Waldren held high score, and Mrs. G. F. Ludlow, low. Each was suitably rewarded. Delicious refreshments were served late in the evening.

Special guests were Mrs. M. O. Short of Boone, Iowa, Mrs. L. Lewis, and Mrs. T. S. Hunter. Members present other than the hostess, Mrs. Elmer Schneider, were Mesdames JJohn Turton, G. F. Ludlow, Wilbur Getty, Everett Cornecl, Clifford Thatcher, Kenneth Stowe, James Board, W Roy Waldren and Ralph Mitchell.

Dappled sunlight playing over the waters of an artistic fountain, birds singing cheerily in their ornamental cages hung amidst the greenery, vivid hued flowers, penstemon, stock, delphinium and gladioluses, and bright colored garden umbrellas, all contributed to the charm of the patio at La Hacienda on North Broadway, where Mrs. Harry M. Smith and Mrs. Blanche Brown yesterday joined in entertaining at bridge, complimenting Mrs. Brown's cousin and house-guest, Mrs. Earl Lippincott of Oakland, Ill.

In view of the lovely setting, it seemed appropriate that tally cards should reflect the flower motif, and violets and rosebuds, carnations and nasturtiums were grouped together for play at the waiting bridge tables. As a result of the friendly card contest three prizes were awarded; first of a set of thistle patterned rose glass salad plates, to Mrs. Marshall Harnois; second of a pretty etched pink crystal bon-bon dish to Mrs. J. F. Richards, and third of a basket of mingled summer blossoms to Mrs. Fleetwood Bell.

At the tea hour, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown had the assistance of Mrs. F. C. Topliff of New York City, a temporary resident of Santa Ana, in replacing the decorated card table covers with embroidered linens for serving ices, a variety of home-made cakes and fruit punch.

While Mrs. Lippincott was singled out for special guest honors, there were other out-of-the-city visitors who were presented to the group of Santa Ana guests, including in addition to Mrs. Topliff, who with her husband, drove from New York City in mid-winter, Mrs. Robert Grant of St. Louis, the house-guest of her cousin, Mrs. Fleetwood Bell. Others present included Miss Verna Wells, Miss Louise Kaiser, Miss Gladys Thomas, Miss Maurine Sims, Miss Virginia Viau, Miss Helen Kirkland, Miss Dorothy Clarkson, Mrs. N. E. Wells, Mrs. J. U. Viau, Mrs. C. E. Sims, Mrs. Fleetwood Bell, Mrs. J. W. Small, Mrs. S. B. Eaton, Mrs. J. D. Campbell of Orange, Mrs. Frank Was, Mrs. J. F. Adams, Mrs. Emmett Elliott, Mrs. Fred Conover, Mrs. J. F. Richards, Mrs. Marshall Harnois and Mrs. S. B. Marshall.

Mrs. Lippincott, the honoree, arrived over a week ago, and plans to remain in the Southland for the rest of the summer months.

Mrs. Mary Shawgo Was Hostess at Charming Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Mary Shawgo was a gracious hostess yesterday afternoon, when she entertained the members of the "Happy Hours" club at a prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon in her home at 604 West Fifth street.

Centering the colorful table, which carried out the patriotic motif now so much in evidence, was a giant firecracker, to which were attached streamers in our country's colors leading to the charming little red, white and blue nut cups at each place. Casting an effective glow over all were the slim red tapers, set in matching candle holders.

Following the luncheon menu, bridge was played, and the setting for the pleasing diversion vied in attractiveness with that of the dining room. For the hostess had arranged attractive bouquets of pom-pom dahlias and blue larkspur intermingled with tiny white blossoms. Scotch broom, too added much to the atmosphere.

Mrs. Nellie Young succeeded in making high score, and was most appropriately rewarded.

Those sharing in the delights of the afternoon, other than the hostess, Mrs. Shawgo, were Mesdames Nellie Young, Allie Cain, Jean Trumbell, Claude E. Brown, Amanda Holmes, A. W. Getchell, and Frances Goepper, of Balboa.

State Auxiliary Head May Be Present at Local Meeting

Members of the American Legion auxiliary are anticipating an interesting session tonight in Legion hall, wheer they will greet the twenty-first district president, Mrs. Ethel Marsh of Upland. To add to anticipations of the evening's program, are rumors that the state president, Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, may be present. If so, her visit will not be quite the surprise that she is planning, for she will not take the Legion women completely unawares.

Business of immediate interest will be transacted, and will include the election of alternate delegates to the state convention to be held in Sacramento. Mrs. E. L. Struble, auxiliary president, will direct the business session, and has appointed a committee to be responsible for the social session with which the evening will close, and which will feature the serving of light refreshments.

What's more Refreshing than an

It's "OPEN SEASON" for tea, coffee and fruit drinks chilled with ice and made inviting and delicious with sugar.

Is there anything more musical than the clink of ice in a tall glass of iced tea or coffee? Is there anything more intriguing than to watch a spoonful of sugar sift slowly down and vanish in the cool depths? And is there anything more refreshing and relaxing than to sip the beverage thus flavored with sugar?

Summer is a grand opportunity to enjoy the flavor that sugar brings. Aside from home-made beverages, sugar enhances the flavor of fresh fruits which are so abundant. And cool, green salads are much more delicious when the dressing has been flavored with a dash of sugar.

Even cooked fresh vegetables are more appetizing when seasoned with sugar. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a good rule to follow. The sugar restores the swectness that some vegetables lose so soon after they are picked.

To enjoy meals this summer, eat plenty of fresh vegetables and fruit. Drink cooling beverages. Help yourself to ice cream. Just remember that most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Artichokes, a la Ann

I have a new way to cook artichokes which I like very much. Personally, I find arichokes served with melted butter rather disastrous from the caloric standpoint and a bit too "filling."

This way utilizes only the bottoms and the very tender part of the leaves. I pull off the leaves in a compact bunch, place them on a board and cut off the tender part to use in the dish. The choke is scraped out of the bottoms, they are cut in quarters if large, halved if small, and cooked in some butter with a finely minced clove of garlic, some minced parsley, salt and pepper.

Six artichokes will serve four people generously and they can be the small inexpensive ones, too. After the bottoms are nicely sauted, pour into the pan 4 eggs beaten slightly and thinned with one-third of a cup of milk. As the eggs and artichokes cook add the tender part of the leaves and stir until the eggs are just creamy.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Boston Baked Beans

1 quart navy beans
2-3 pound fat salt pork
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup dark molasses
¼ teaspoon soda
1 quart boiling water
Black pepper after baking is finished.

Most women are familiar with the earthenware bean pot and I will admit that good beans are baked in them, but, have you ever tried baking beans in a large shallow pan? To me, they are twice as good because of the great expanse of crusty top. A large tin pan, the kind known as milk pan, is ideal. Of course, it has to be covered while the beans are baking the first four hours, then the cover is removed, the beans well stirred up to bring the fat pork to the top, the heat reduced and the beans let brown.

Pick over the quart of small white beans, wash, and soak over night. In the morning drain them and put to cook in plenty of hot water. Let the beans boil for 30 minutes, then test by taking a couple on a spoon and blowing on them.

If the skin shrivels and curls back the beans are sufficiently parboiled. If not, cook them a little longer. Turn them out into a colander and rinse with fresh water....all these directions seem far fetched but they are necessary if you wish to have beans that will be eaten with relish.

* * *

Take the various seasonings and molasses and mix to a paste with a little hot water. Put the beans in the pot or pan, cut the fat pork in thin slices and sink in various places.

Pour the seasonings over the beans and add enough boiling water to come to the top of the beans. Bake six hours or longer, adding hot water when necessary, but towards the last allow the beans to dry out and brown on top.

* * *

OPERA ENJOYED

ANAHEIM, July 3—Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Corrie entertained Tuesday evening in their home at 111 East Valencia street with an opera party and dinner. The guests were invited to hear the broadcast of the opera, "Faust," by Gounod, after which the hostess served a spring chicken dinner. Invited were Mr and Mrs. Percy W. Olds, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cranston, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rymer, Mrs. Carroll Yonge, Mrs. Julia Marlowe and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Roblee of Fullerton.

D. U. V. Federation Told of Inroads Of Socialism

"America! Wake up! Pause and think" was the gist of a ringing message delivered Tuesday to Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, gathered for the quarterly Southern California Federation meeting in Riverside, where they had the pleasure of hearing Lieutenant-Colonel LeRoy F. Smith of Los Angeles on their afternoon program.

Mrs. Della Bishop of Orange, president of the federation, conducted the business meeting of the forenoon hours at which thirteen Southland Tents were represented with an attendance of 136 members. These included Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker and Mrs. Eva Bell of Sarah A. Rounds tent of this city. Many matters of special interest to the patriotic organization were discussed at the business session, and activities of the different tents were outlined in reports given while the hostess tent, of which Mrs. Berenice Huff is president, exemplified the work of the organization.

The afternoon meeting was open to the public and a large crowd was present to hear the stirring talk by Lieut.-Col. Smith, who, in addition to his work as an editor and a lecturer, also serves as director in the Better America league whose headquarters are in Los Angeles.

"Eighty-one Years of Hatred" was the subject of his address, in which he dwelt at length upon the foothold that communism and bolshevism are gaining in our country. Among other matters brought to light, he showed the appalling manner in which communists from foreign countries are working among American-born youths at such harbor points as San Pedro and Los Angeles harbor. Equally alarming, according to his viewpoint, were the activities in college circles, and he declared that socialism was making such inroads among our colleges that fully 11,000 students were now allied as the Inter-socialist society, which also numbers some 200 members drawn from the faculties of schools, colleges and universities.

Members of the federation were so impressed with his talk and the seriousness of the situation that it was unanimously voted to join the Better America association.

The next meeting of the Daughters' federation will be held in Pasadena in September with Mrs. Bishop to preside. In the meantime there will be a social event to arouse the pleasurable anticipants of all past presidents of Southland tents, when Mrs. Bishop will entertain at an all-day picnic gathering in her interesting home on Fairhaven avenue, between this city and Orange. This event is scheduled for Tuesday, July 29, and a large crowd is anticipated. Each past president attending will be asked to contribute some one dish to the picnic menu to be served at mid-day.

'BORDER LEGION' POWERFUL DRAMA

The picture, proclaimed to be the best Grey story that Paramount ever has made, has been here since Monday. It plays through tomorrow night.

The story concerns a band of outlaws who, soon after the Civil war, come to California, where they raid mining towns and loot stage coaches. The members are all former soldiers of the Civil war, led by Jack Holt, who plays the part of an ex-army captain who is forced to flee after he kills his commanding officer.

Eugene Pallette also has an important role. He was a river gambler, who kils a card player and leaves for the west, where he joins the Border Legion.

Richard Arlen and Fay Wray have the romantic parts in the picture. Arlen is charged with murder and is about to be hanged when members of the Border Legion save him and he joins the organization. How the legion kidnaps the girl and how Alren saves her, are some of the highlights of the show, while the fatal ride of the members of the legion into a mining town that is prepared for them, make up the climax of the picture.

The film is a picture that will interest from the start. It has everything for entertainment. The dialogue is particularly good, while the acting of Holt and Arlen is outstanding.

ONLY TWO TIES

Since the British Open golf championship was placed on a 72-hole basis back in 1892, there have been but two ties for the title, Harry Vardon figuring in both, and winning both.

'BIG HOUSE' TO CLOSE RUN TODAY

With a plot that will grip the audience from the very start, "The Big House" is the talk of the town. Its cry is against the present prison condition in the United States and the play shows the causes for the big prison breaks that have stunned the country several times in the past several years.

Robert Montgomery, Wallace Beery and Chester Morris have the three leading roles in the show. The three are convicts in a big state prison. Montgomery, a youth from college, is sent up for manslaughter after an automobile accident. He is taught the ways of the prison by the other two, one a killer, the other a burglar. How they influence him and persuade him to enter into the big prison break that comes with the climax of the film, makes the picture a sensation.

Leila Hymans plays the girl in the plot, a sister to Montgomery and the sweetheart of Morris, whom she meets at the prison while visiting. There are a score of highlights in the show, such as Morris' escape, but the outstanding feature is Beery's acting throughout.

Fight Over Time Of Birth Settled

NEW YORK.— (INS) A baby born on Sunday can have her birthday on Saturday.

At Hastings, N. Y., a baby was reported born a half hour after midnight Daylight Time and the doctor recorded the birth as taking place on the following day.

The mother of the child insisted that her baby's birth was on the day previous because the child was born at 11:30 Standard Time.

An appeal to the Bureau of Vital Statistics at Albany brought the statement that "it is better to record births according to Standard Time."

DOUBLE FEATURE BILL ENDS TODAY

Grim shadows, a ghost seance, and wraithlike criminal figures in a swirling London fog are woven together into a maze of excitement in "The Unholy Night," an all-talking mystery drama by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The story is a mystery in which a group of army officers are menaced in London, and each falls under suspicion in a weird plot. The cast includes Roland Young, Ernest Torrance, Dorothy Sebastian, Claude Fleming, Natalie Moorhead and Richard Tucker.

In following the rise and fall and finally the safe landing of Bill "Cyclone" Hickey, as set forth in "Swellhead," the Tiffany all-dialogue picture, there is a nice mingling of all that is needed for entertainment—hearty laughs, tender heart throbs, tingling thrills, spell-binding suspense—and some great fight stuff.

SAVANNA P.-T. A. SEEKING MEMBERS

HANSEN, July 3.—The Parent-Teacher association of the Savanna school held the July meeting in the home of Mrs. T. W. Clark Tuesday afternoon. Eighteen members and one visitor were present. Mrs. R. Hylton, the new president, presided. Mrs. Gladys Nordstrom reported that after all expenses for the year were paid there remained in the treasury, $62.51. The members expressed gratification over this amount as expenses for the four entertainments held in the year had been high and some assistance had been given the Mexican school at Stanton, which is affiliated with the Savanna school.

Mrs. J. Campbell and Mrs. T. W. Clark were appointed on the flower committee for the year. It was decided to send flowers to William Mrowfka, who was one of the Savanna graduates this year and is in the county hospital, and to two members, Mrs. Walter Bitner and Mrs. B. J. Miller. It was decided to make the society an up to the standard association this year. To do this the membership will have to include 65 per cent of the parents of the district and the attendance at the monthly meetings must be 50 per cent.

Mrs. Charles Peters gave a report of the district meeting held at the Magnolia school. A letter was read from Mrs. Evans, the principal of the Savanna school, who is at Berkeley taking a summer course.

Mrs. Clark was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. I. E. Lukins and Mrs. W. E. Thompson. Mrs. Charles Peters will entertain at the August meeting.

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The Tinymites had seen a lot of queer Odessa. Soon they got quite anxious to be moving on. The Travel Man said, "Well, we'll get a good night's sleep tonight so you all will be feeling right. Tomorrow I will have another wondrous plan to tell."

"Oh, goody, goody," Clowny cried. "Beneath the blankets we will hide and close our eyes real tight until another morning's here. Then we will eat to start the day and shortly we'll be on our way. I hope the plan you have in mind will fill us full of cheer."

So, everyone turned into bed in a hotel. Each sleeply head was buried deep in slumberland in most no time at all. The Travel Man was first to rise. He shouted, "Open up your eyes. It's morning.' And the Tinies jumped, 'cause they all heard him yell.

He then said, "We are Persia bound. My, what a place to look around. Across the Black Sea we will sail and then we'll take to land." They ate and then soon found a ship and shortly they were on their trip. "We're heading now for Persia," shouted Copy. "Gee, that's grand!"

For hours and hours and hours they sailed and then the shore was loudly hailed. The boat docked and they all ran off: "Now, what?" wee Carpy cried. The Travel Man said, "You will see. And, how surprised you all will be. We take an auto. Then we change and ride a caravan."

The auto ride was very short, but really quite a lot of sport. They reached the Persian border. Then the real good fun began. The caravan was odd, indeed. "Oh, look," cried Scouty. "All we need to do is jump in baskets." So up to some mules they ran.

Missing Letter Links

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE, TIE, PIE, PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

JUMP to ROPE—A little added exercise is provided while shooting today's hole. JUMP ROPE to the tune of par three.

Officers Installed By Newport Exchange Club

POLICE CHIEF IS PRESIDENT IN BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—Chief of Police R. R. Hodgkinson of this city is president of the Newport Beach Exchange club for the ensuing six months, having been inducted into office at yesterday's meeting of the club at the Newport Harbor Yacht club by District Governor Gene Fenelon.

The other new officers, elected at a recent meeting, are Steve Smith, first vice president; Frank L. Smith, second vice president; Dr. F. C. Ferry, treasurer, and G. C. Macleod, secretary. The last mentioned two were re-elected. Dr. G. M. Grundy is the retiring president.

There was some discussion as to whether the club should follow the example set by many other service clubs, of discontinuing meetings during the summer months, and a special committee will report on this next Wednesday. The committee consists of E. I. Moore, Theo. Robins and A. J. Garfield.

James E. Davis, former chief of police of Los Angeles, will be the speaker at next week's luncheon, Hodgkinson announced yesterday. His subject will be "Police Problems and Traffic Control."

BREA OIL TOOLS USED IN OKLAHOMA

BREA, July 3.—A victory for California methods and California equipment was claimed recently, when for the first time in the history of oil development in the mid-continent, a large producer was brought in under complete control, using Shaffer Tool works control gates, casing heads and flow beams.

The usual way has been to allow the wells to blow themselves in, a method which has often proved disastrous in the Oklahoma City field because of the high gas pressure and the presence of loose sand. With the development reaching close to the heart of the city, danger from blow-outs and fires presents a constant hazard, and the proper control of gushers is challenging the attention of petroleum engineers.

Frank Mason, manager of the firm, has been in the mid-continent representing the Shaffer Tool works for two months and reports an increasing demand for California-made oil field equipment. Officials representing many Oklahoma operators witnessed the bringing in of the Shaffer-equipped well, which belongs to the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company, whose Mary Sudik well was a menace to the entire field for 11 days before it was put under control.

New Officers Of Lions Installed At Beach Monday

LAGUNA BEACH, July 3.—Installation of officers of the Lions club, combined with ladies' night, is set for July 7. Officers who will be installed are Robert N. "Bob" Bowen, president; A. B. Collins, Perry LaPiere and Peter J. Bushman as first, second and third vice presidents, respectively; L. F. Walden, as secretary, Fred Leggo, treasurer; A. R. Burns, tail twister. Directors whose terms start at that time are A. J. Stead and A. B. Collins for the two-year term, and William Bernard and A. R. Burns for the single year.

CROWDS ARRIVE IN BEACH CITY FOR WEEK END

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—A greater Orange county harbor will welcome the thousands from the interior of Orange county and from other sections of Southern California who will visit here during the Fourth of July week-end. The vanguard of the vacationing throngs were arriving today.

This Fourth of July celebration, as well as the 12th annual tournament of lights, which takes place a week from Saturday night, will virtually be a celebration also of the city's latest $200,000 harbor improvement program, the dredging part of which was completed recently and the groin part of which is nearly finished.

The dredging has provided a channel 250 feet wide and 15 feet deep at low tide and given this city and county a better harbor than ever before in history. It has brought the two big yacht regattas here, August 4 to 9, and dozens of large yachts, many of the yacht owners also having purchased or built homes here.

New lighting systems have also been installed in the Balboa business and amusement section, to light up numerous new buildings which have boosted building records far above any previous year. Two displays of fireworks will be given tomorrow night, at the Newport and Balboa piers, beginning simultaneously, at 7:30:. These will be the only lawful fireworks or firecracker displays this Fourth, however, the city council having contributed to the program for a "safe and sane Fourth" by prohibiting fireworks. Many residents and visitors have expressed satisfaction over this action.

On Sunday two concerts will be given by the South Gate municipal boys' band, one at Newport at 1 p. m., the other following at Balboa. Speedboat trials will be staged the same day in the county channel, having been changed from Saturday.

COLLEGE TOPIC AT PLACENTIA CHAMBER MEET

PLACENTIA, July 3.—A short lecture by Archie Raitt on "What Men Live By" and a talk by James Tuffree on the junior college question were given at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce this week.

Tuffree told of the report of Dr. Riccardo on the junior college question in the north. Dr. Riccardo is from the office of the state superintendent of schools and visited the Fullerton school recently.

Orange county has more than enough students and more than enough valuation to form a county district, Tuffree said.

Tuffree explained that state and national aid had been cut from $105 per pupil to $57 per pupil with the result that the junior college tax had to be raised from 19 cents to 26 cents and the only way it can be lowered is to form a county-wide district.

Ralph McFadden, who is chairman of the Associated Chambers of Commerce committee on junior colleges, said that the two junior college boards were planning to get together to talk over the matter of a survey.

Archie Raitt told of the value of keeping the ability to play, saying that if we learn to play right, other things will follow.

"Play and work are the great fundamentals together with this thing we call love," said Raitt. "Love gives us the desire to serve, whether it be wife, friends, community, state or nation; and there are a few men with vision large enough to serve the world. Above work and play and love, we need some kind of worship. We need to know there is a law greater than human law and that we are only a part of a greater scheme for a better world."

MUSICAL PROGRAM ENJOYED BY CLUB

GARDEN GROVE, July 3.—Members of the Three 'n' Twenty club were entertained in the home of Mrs. L. W. Schauer on Euclid street Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Schauer, president, presided at the business session. Several amendments were added to the constitution.

The following members were present: Mesdames R. A. Chaffee, C. G. Crosby, I. F. German, C. G. Hall, W. B. Harper, C. Z. Wasson, M. R. Sprinkle, E. Smith, R. R. Rosselot, J. W. Lamb, S. W. Holt, W. Perkins and L. W. Schauer.

Aviation Subject On Club Address

OIL SHOWINGS REPORTED FOR BARNSDALL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 3.—Drilling at 6637 feet the Barnsdall Oil company has encountered its second worth while showing of oil and gas in the Newland-Borchard wildcat well on the east side. The company is coring ahead into the formation. It is said by scouts of other oil companies that the gas pressure at the Barnsdall was strong and that there was a nice showing of oil in the trough when the drill crew hastily pulled out of the hole and put on a core barrel.

This is the deepest oil and gas showing ever found in the Huntington Beach field. Allowing 400 foot offset for the Barnsdall crooked hole, the showing would match in depth the point where the Standard Oil shut down its deep test on the Thompson lease more than two years ago, at a depth reported to have been 6237 feet. The Standard reported that no showing was obtained at the Thompson well, but field scouts for other oil companies have always contended the Standard had a showing at the time the Thompson well was plugged back. The Standard was drilling with a light string of tools in less than a four-inch hole at the time. The well was plugged back and put on production from a shallow sand.

The latest showing at the Barnsdall may be just a gas pocket and a stringer of oil sand, or it may be something worth while. But the change in formation is regarded as encouraging. It has been felt here by oil men that the Barnsdall would have to abandon the Newland-Borchard on account of the crooked hole, before much more depth was attained, but the drill crews continue to make hole. It is unofficially reported that the Signal Oil company will share the expense with Barnsdall in a new well to be bored on the Newland-Borchard or at some other point on the east side.

NEW STRUCTURES FOR NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—A plan of high class real estate operation, new to the Newport harbor district, will be carried out by Industrial Properties Inc. of Los Angeles, it was said today, following report that this company had made another large purchase of lits here.

The concern, which recently bot a block of closein ocean front lots through W. L. Jordan, has acquired most of the Seville tract, near the eastern end of the peninsula, also known as the Frick tract, the reported consideration being $90,000, and the deal being made through A. B. Rousselle and Eugene Elliott.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 3.—Bonnie Gray, world's champion woman rider, with her stable of high school horses, was engaged Wednesday by the American Legion Fourth of July committee to appear here July 4 and 5 as a feature of the celebration here. For five years Bonnie Gray held the women's riding championship. She will enter the bucking horse riding contest, competing with the men riders and taking her turn in drawing for the outlaw horses.

Her famous jumping horse leaps an automobile with five passengers in the car, a feat that will be performed at each rodeo program. The high school horses that Bonnie Gray owns and enters in horse shows and rodeo contests over the entire country, are among the most famous in the world. From Huntington Beach Bonnie Gray will take her stable to Pendleton, Ore., to compete for world championship honors in the Pendleton Roundup.

BEACH C. OF C. TO HAVE FLOAT IN BAY EVENT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 3.—The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will enter a float in the 12th annual tournament of lights, this being the first lights carnival at which that city has been represented. The Long Beach entry was announced at the Newport Beach Exchange club meeting yesterday by Secretary G. C. Macleod of the chamber of commerce, which is sponsoring the tournament.

H. L. Sherman, general chairman of this year's tournament, stated that the question of entries is now the only one that remains to be solved in connection with the tournament. Another large crowd will attend, according to inquiries received at the chamber office and other indications, and arrangements will be in ship-shape for staging the parade, including towage and other details.

San Clemente is another coast city that will be represented in the parade for the first time, Secretary Hal F. Warner of the San Clemente chamber of commerce having sent in an entry for a sailboat last week. Nearly every civic organization, including the city of Newport Beach, will have entries.

Sherman expects to have judges from outside the harbor districts, with experience in artistic competitions. Their names will be announced as soon as all accept, he said today.

New features in lights and music are being worked out by Sherman and his committee, who are endeavoring to maintain the tournament of lights record of improving each season.

The fact that it costs much less than is generally supposed to put an entry in the tournament was again emphasized. "Anything that floats" from a canoe to a cruiser, is eligible.

BERLIN, July 3.—To encourage saving, a German bank has been issuing "clock" banks. These clocks cannot be wound until a coin is inserted in them, and this winding lasts only for 24 hours. Consequently, if the owner of the clock bank wants it to keep time, he has to insert a coin every 24 hours.

L. B. Runners For Capistrano Race July 4 Selected

LAGUNA BEACH, July 3.—This city will be well taken care of in the relay race featured at San Juan Capistrano July 4, according to Chris Valente, in charge of the team.

Lined up to carry the stick for the 440-yard dash, each runner to carry it for one-fourth of the distance, are Carl, Edwin and Russell Hind, Joe Crafts, Chuck Petty and Clarence Watkins. Mr. Valente believes in preparedness and has recruited the fleet of feet of the community. Though only four are needed, he is cautiously laying in an extra supply of runners in the event of an epidemic of corns.

The race is scheduled for 2 o'clock July 4 as a part of the Independence day celebration at the mission city.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Man desires to fill the cup of life to the brim, and modern civilization hastens to cater to his wants."—Sir Arthur Keith.

THE DISTRICT ATTORNEYSHIP AND THE REGISTER

Using the rostrum of one of the service clubs at Fullerton yesterday, Sam Collins, who is a candidate for District Attorney of Orange county, made an attack upon The Register's position and its publisher. The report stated that he spoke in part as follows:

I have been in office as a deputy district attorney for four years, and many of you have been residents of the county for a long time, yet we have never before discovered the presence of such an octopus as that found by Burke, entangling the county in the tentacles of officialdom and composed of financial and family ties.

Burke has had trouble with every other newspaper in the county. He has the Santa Ana Register, let him run it and keep out of other people's business. Orange county has prospered before he came and will continue to prosper.

Laying aside the point of the accusations against The Register and its publisher of saying things that it never said, for it has never referred to octopi or family ties in relation to public officials in this county, it has heard these phrases used by old residents of Orange county, and references made of like character. If they have been published in The Register, they have been published as statements that others have made, and they must be hurting.

In a way, we were not greatly surprised, however, at the attack of this candidate, though we were somewhat surprised at a service club furnishing a rostrum for such an attack in the light of the conditions.

We have had the privilege of meeting this candidate but once. This meeting was at his solicitation at our office some weeks ago when it was planned that he should run for district attorney. We discussed the conditions under which The Register would support him or any one else for the office of district attorney. We told him frankly that we believed in the Constitution and the law, including the Eighteenth Amendment and the Wright act, and desired to see them enforced without fear or favor, which we knew was not being done now, and that we did not think that we should support any man for the office for which he was running who was not able to state that he himself obeyed the law and that he did not countenance its disobedience by others.

In fact, we specifically stated that we would only support those who were able to answer the questionnaire which was submitted by the Women's Christian Temperance Union to candidates to learn their attitude on this law. It was plainly brought out in the conversation that this candidate does not qualify under these requirements. We further said that the public would like to know the attitude that a candidate for district attorney would assume in a case like the Ross case, and on this he was also silent.

We did not intend to oppose him editorially, and would not refer to him now, were it not for the fact that he goes out and attacks The Register and its publisher, and we desire to make an explanation. Mr. Collins seems to desire to emphasize that he stands out in Orange county for the things that The Register opposes, and that he opposes those things that The Register stands for. We want to say now and here to him and to any other candidate of like kind that we will stand for the Eighteenth Amendment and its enforcement. We are standing for impartiality in the enforcement of law. We believe that rich or poor, powerful or weak, men and institutions should be treated alike in the enforcement of the laws of our state. We are not seeking individuals to support; we are not selecting candidates; all that any candidate would need to do to receive the open, frank support of The Register is to stand for these things.

We don't ask them to support the publisher or to favor him. We ask them to stand by the law and its impartial enforcement. We are simply taking the position that every Christian church takes in Orange county. We are simply taking the position that every Christian minister, as far as we know, takes in Orange county. We are taking the position which we believe 90 per cent of the Christian citizens of this county believe in and stand for.

Has it reached the point where an editor and publisher must be attacked in clubs that are designed for the upbuilding of the moral life of a community simply because he refuses to stand for the conditions which are perfectly agreeable to the bootlegger and his ilk in the county? We have attacked no man in our editorials nor in any other way.

It is a remarkable fact, however, that standing strongly for law and order, for prohibition, brings candidates out in hostility to The Register, but fortunately it helps draw the line, and enables the man favoring law enforcement to recognize the enemies as well as the friends. A few days ago in Garden Grove 60 to 65 leaders of the Christian churches of this county met to form an organization for the election of men on no other platform or basis than that which The Register stands for. We are for them, and for the things for which they stand. We are for the candidates who qualify under their banner. This candidate who made this speech attacking The Register and its publisher has only himself and his attitude upon these matters to blame for our not being able to support him.

The Register has been similarly attacked by some papers of the county, but The Register has not been attacking other papers, and very infrequently even replies to the most scurrilous articles imaginable against The Register and its publisher. We are not blind to the fact that the real reason why these people oppose The Register is the same one fundamentally for which this candidate for district attorney opposes The Register. They dare not give the reason and so they make personal attacks.

We do not propose to be drawn off from the main issue into personalities. We are interested in the cause. The cause will live. Candidates and publishers may be left by the wayside. We were not intending to call attention to the fact that this candidate does oppose the principles that we stand for in law enforcement, but fortunately for the people the candidate has done it for us. You can usually count on help in any emergency if you stand right. Fortunately there are two candidates for the office of district attorney who fully measure up to the requirements of those who share the convictions of this paper: Harry Westover, of this city, and R. E. Haynes, of Fullerton.

The title has slipped from his grasp so many times, it would seem that Jack Sharkey can settle down to be a real heavy wait.

AL CAPONE IN MIAMI

Miami, Florida, will bring upon itself the ill-fame that is now causing Chicago trouble, at some future time if a piece of news from there today is an example of conduct. A club solicited Al Capone for a donation of $2500 which was accepted after some discussion. Two of the members of the club, one of them the president, resigned in protest against the acceptance of the money. It would not be difficult to reconstruct the argument which was used by members in favor of accepting the tainted money and so obligating themselves to Al Capone, of all people. It is easy to argue in favor of accepting money.

But that is exactly the way the gangster ingratiated himself in Chicago, by doing things for sections of the community from which the residents benefitted. It is the way some politicians ingratiate themselves with the people. For example there was Tammany Hall's social service work and recreations. Its activities aren't so blatant today as they were in days past.

Such a man as Al Capone is glad for the opportunity to get into a position where he is accepted and trusted for sooner or later he violates the trust and takes advantage of those who have been gullible.

They say he is going straight. But those who know gangsters best are the most doubtful. In any case he should serve a long period of probation during which society should keep itself independent of him. Society has paid a heavy price for the money Al Capone can dispense.

A Precedent For Good Government

Christian Science Monitor

Are sound reasoning and academic learning at last to be introduced into American municipal government? Citizens weary of the endless bickerings, inefficiency and dishonesty of party politics in big cities may perhaps take renewed hope, for the beginnings of better things seem to be making themselves apparent. If Tammany still rides triumphant in New York, a sense of civic responsibility appears to be awakening in answer to the challenge of gang politics in Chicago. And elsewhere in the middle west, the experiment has actually been made of placing a student of municipal government in office, where his theories and reasoning might be put to the hard test of actual administration. In Bloomington, Ind., Prof. Frank G. Bates was a few months ago appointed police commissioner, and has apparently been able already to convince most of those who were watching him that the theorist is not necessarily an impractical dreamer.

What he has done is quite simple and straightforward—in fact, what any reasonable outsider would admit was the surest way to reform. He has taken political considerations out of municipal appointments, and has stressed efficiency and honesty rather than party fidelity as prerequisites for officeholding. Those who have studied the weaknesses of municipal government in the United States and made comparisons with the European situation have for years been pointing out that application of this idea was a necessary preliminary to any permanent improvements in American city administration.

Heretofore intrenched political interests, combined with general public indifference, have been too strong for defeat by the intelligent and interested few. There are few who profit—save in increased social well-being—by honest city government, while there are various individuals and groups interested in preserving the old system to their own advantage. Therein lies the chief difficulty of a general and lasting reform. In municipal administration, more than in other branches of political life, the price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

But every demonstration of the progress that can be achieved with honest and intelligent men in office is a step toward a more general introduction of such methods as Dr. Bates has applied. The Bloomington experiment may well become a precedent to far-reaching reforms.

An Unusual Suit

Oakland Tribune

It was an iron horse of another color when a railroad company in Illinois brought suit and won, following a collision between a locomotive and an automobile.

The driver of the automobile, it was shown, stepped on the gas in an effort to beat a train to a crossing. In the smash-up an engineer was killed, the locomotive damaged, and the motorist escaped with slight injuries. The court, hearing the case brought by the engineer's widow, awarded her $5000; and hearing the company's suit, awarded it $10,000.

In too many grade crossing accidents it is made apparent the driver of the motor vehicle was aware of the approach of the train and seeking, at the risk of life, to save a few seconds time by winning the race to the crossing.

Another Trick Lost

San Diego Union

A million dollars plunged into the tropic seas off Havana, one day last week, when a French inventor lost his gamble for a new source of power. The principal equipment in the scheme he devised was a steel tube, more than a mile long, which was to have been lowered into the ocean off the Cuban coast. By means of that tube, specially constructed, the inventor expected to transmute temperature variations in the sea water into electric power, delivered from a plant on shore. When the tube was being lowered into place, a couple of steel cables snapped off, the tube plunged into deep water and was lost.

Another effort to salvage power from the ocean's vast reservoir was thus defeated, and another inventor exposed to the ridicule of conservative men. But the inventor and his equipment were casualties in a war that will finally be won.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

NOTHING TO CHEER ABOUT

—Professor Einstein.

Concerning Mr. Einstein's stuff
I'm not at all delirious;
I never followed it enough
To think that it was serious,
But though his diction has a swing
That both delights and charms me,
He recently has said a thing
Which troubles and alarms me.

I've read the stuff that he puts out
With no extreme avidity,
Including what he says about
The scheme of relativity.
But this last statement has a sound
That is not idle chatter;
He says that space has turned around
And now is eating matter!

The whirling earth on which we tread,
The air, although ethereal,
Our cars, our clothes, our daily bread
These things are all material.
And so are lands, and bonds and stock,
Though panics may deplete them;
So how shall we survive the shock
If space is going to eat them?

If space, its jaws with greed a-drip,
Its massive features glowering,
Shall shortly have us in its grip
And straightway start devouring,
The while it drinks the ocean dry
And sends the fishes scurrying
I think it's time that you and I
Should do a little worrying.

FILLING UP

Mr. Einstein says that space has turned around and is eating up matter, which is further proof of the theory that nature abhors a vacuum.

Bigger And Better Ballyhoo

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

A patriotic Boston teacher, not content with the regulation salute to the flag, taught her pupils an added sentiment. When, later, a delegation of distinguished Japanese officers visited her school, the thought suddenly smote her that on this occasion the fervent sentiment might better be omitted. She put up her hand; but the young patriots swept on. Forty-strong, they announced to the small, grave aliens on the platform, "Thank God, I am an American."

This naive satisfaction with our institutions, which we are forever, with alliterative glee, labelling "bigger and better," is now satirized the world over. Especially ridiculed is our worship of the "go-getter." This type, indeed, has been so caricatured that there are sensitive persons who are inclined not to "go-get" anything. Nevertheless, they go. For "go-getting"—which, shorn of its high-pressure connotation, is only an honest urge to make progress—is in our blood. Even while we are boasting today of what we went and got yesterday, we have our eyes on something better that we mean to go and get tomorrow.

To be sure, we have done so much of our "getting" noisily that some of the more leisurely among us complain that noise is our chief national product. It is not. The more we produce of other commodities, the less we produce of explosives. The surer we are of our resources, the less we boast about them.

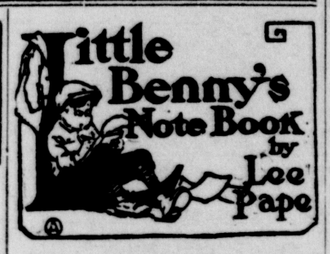

Always, in the midst of the din, we have gone on with the work of making our country all that our boosters claim for it. Always those who have told the biggest lies about our future have told the most truth.

In recent years, seeing more clearly than ever before the economic problems that confront us, we have been cutting down on our "bigger and better ballyhoo," and addressing ourselves soberly to "bigger and better solutions."

So it happens that each one of us now has a special reason for saying—not for the benefit of visiting foreigners, but for his own benefit—"Thank God, I am an American."

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE PERIL OF POETRY

George Russell (AE), the practical mystic of Ireland, who is equally at home in weaving a sonnet or waking dairy farmers to co-operative action, once graced our home with his wisdom and witchery for an all-too-short week-end.

Late one night he elaborated his theory that poets are invariably the advance agents of fresh historic epochs in the life of a nation.

He told the fascinating story of the way in which the poets of Ireland stirred to a new self-consciousness the Irish people, and paved the way for the renaissance of the Irish nation.

"I am enormously interested in your machines in America. I do not think you a materialistic people just because you are prosperous," he said. "I think your business men are, without knowing it, laying the foundations for a new America. But don't make the mistake of thinking they are the most important men in America. It will be your poets who will recruit the national soul for a renaissance. Watch for your poets!"

I sometimes wonder why the watch-dogs of the status quo do not spend more time watching the poets and less time watching the professors of economics and sociology.

They see far and speak with fire!

A lonely prophet challenges the obsolete in church or state or university.

We do not need to worry so much about him.

We can put him in Congress, make a Bishop of him, or elect him to the Presidency of a university, and the chances are that within a short time his nimble mind will be caught in a network of compromise, his daring will be dampened by caution, and he will be effectively conservatized by fear of failure at the next election, indictment for heresy, or loss of endowments.

But a poet is different!

Poets are notoriously poor executives; they do not work well in harness; and so we let them run loose, without the conservatizing influence we throw around most other men.

And when poets speak of human affairs, they speak to our emotions.

OUR CHILDREN

A GOOD MIXER

We have to learn to get along with people. If we cannot do that we are going to be in hot water always. We won't be able to keep a job. We won't have any friends. We will be failures, for say what you will about the beauties of individualism — and there are many—this is not a one-man world. We have to live with the crowd.

That is something to consider when training children. If a little one cannot get along with its brothers and sisters it must be helped to do so. Instead of hastening to its aid at the first wail, cast a searching gaze over the situation and, while removing any threatening element such as bullying and cruel teasing, take the wail very calmly.

"Ma-ma, Billy shoved me. Mama. Billy shoved me. He did."

"He's always butting into my business. I told him to keep his hands off my work and he just went and slapped both hands on my drawing. Just look at that. I'll have to do it all over. I shoved him away and I meant it. Lucky for him he's too little to smack or he'd have got his. Make him keep off, mom, will you?"

If mother is wise she will eye the young complainant cooly and tell him that if he interferes with other folk's work he must take what is coming to him. Then mother will ask, "Where is your work? What are you doing? There's the poor old elephant standing on his head and his house not half built. Can't you make a good big house for him so that if it should rain—it does really look as though it might—the poor fellow wouldn't get wet? No? You don't want to? Well, if you have nothing you want to do you just sit here on this chair beside me. But don't talk. We are all busy."

It won't be very long before that elephant gets a house. No child wants to sit still and keep still for any length of time, and if his choice lies between that and doing something in his own field he will take his own field with alacrity.

Spoiled children cannot get along with other children and that is one reason for the term, spoiled child. Sickly children take advantage of the consideration shown them while disabled. They continue to dominate their world just as long as they are permitted to do so. Be wise about the term of convalescence and make it as short as possible. When a child is ill he is ill but when he is well again he is well. He is not to carry sickness and its habits along into health. That is a serious error. He is to be healthy in manner as well as body.

The baby is often handicapped by special privileges. "Give it to him. He is only a baby," is a very good reason for his remainingbabyish. This is no world for babies and they soon find it out. Instead of accepting the adult fact, they protest and cling to the childish habits and so are excluded. Isolated people are not successful if by success we mean happiness.

Right from the start train children to be good mixers. That means to train them to be tolerant, to be helpful, to be sympathetic, to be yielding in all except essentials. And teach them what those essentials are. The poor mixer is the one who thinks details are essentials and never gets by the stage of living when "first chance," "me first," "it's mine," are prime factors.

On July 3, 1898, the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera, attempting to escape from Santiago harbor, was intercepted and destroyed by the American fleet under the command of Admiral Schley. This was one of the most spectacular battles of the Spanish-American war.

Finding himself in a blockade, Cervera proposed to ram his flagship, the Teresa, into the American cruiser Brooklyn, so that his other ships would have an opportunity to break through and escape. This strategy failed for when Cervera made his dash each Spanish cruiser following him found itself confronted with an American dreadnaught.

"Thus," writes an historian, "the action resolved itself into a series of magnificent duels between powerful ironclads, metal ringing on metal, while the cannon roared, the great engines throbbed, and the air was filled by the clouds of smoke, which rushed from the overcharged boilers. The Spaniards' aim was bad, or their powder poor, for their shots went wild or fell short, while the American gunnery was excellent."

Four hours after Cervera began his dash, the last of his four cruisers and torpedo boat destroyers were destroyed, 323 of his crew were killed, 151 were wounded, and 1782 were prisoners, he being among them.
